

Trapped In Paradise

Volume 2 Chapter 225 / Chapter 505: Class

Grandpa's medicinal liquor really was amazing...

The next day, as Ning Chu walked into the classroom alongside Wen Yang, she was still marveling at how effective the liquor had been.

No wonder Grandpa, who married a succubus and was already so old, somehow seemed even more energetic than young people. His body didn't have a single illness or ache—he was healthier than most young adults stuck in long-term sub-health conditions.

She really ought to visit Grandpa's house more often when she had time and “borrow” some medicinal liquor...

The moment she entered the classroom, Ning Chu heard a cheerful shout. Before she could react, a fragrant, soft body slammed into her, wrapping arms around her neck.

“Ning Chu~”

She staggered, nearly getting knocked to death on the spot.

Yan Xinya froze for a second, then glanced downward.

“Your legs bothering you?”

“I'm... okay, I guess...”

Ning Chu awkwardly turned her head away. Last night sex had been way too intense, and now her whole body still ached badly, especially her legs.

She had barely managed to pretend to walk normally, but one collision from the wolf girl instantly exposed her.

“Oh~”

Yan Xinya smiled sweetly like she'd just eaten honey.

For some reason, all of Ning Chu's friends had actually shown up for class today.

Wang Jie, who had taken leave last week because of his rabbit-girl girlfriend, had already resolved his problems. Zhang Shaoqing, who usually skipped class, had obediently shown up too because the first-period teacher was notoriously strict.

Ning Chu didn't pay much attention to the wolf girl hanging off her and instead curiously looked toward Wang Jie.

Could he really pay it back...?

She hadn't forgotten the money Wang Jie borrowed from Wen Yang.

“Mhm.”

The three guys sat on the left side, with Ning Chu in the middle. On the right side sat the three girls, filling the entire row of seven seats.

After squeezing past Lily and Xi Xi, Ning Chu sat down in the middle and collapsed face-down onto the desk, grimacing from the soreness in her body.

Last night, she had clearly intended to tease Wen Yang by pretending to sleep...

Yet in the end, she was the one who got thoroughly “taken care of.”

And Wen Yang too—she had already warned him that as a succubus, when she got carried away, she couldn’t distinguish between pain and pleasure. Yet he still hadn’t held back at all.

Though, the rougher treatment did feel better...

Succubi really did seem to have some masochistic tendencies.

As she recalled last night’s bone-melting sensations, a faint blush inevitably crept onto Ning Chu’s cheeks.

“Sister Ning Chu, why’d you suddenly take leave and go home? Did you finish dealing with everything?”

Xi Xi leaned over curiously.

“I guess you could say it’s settled.”

Ning Chu quickly composed herself, hiding the lingering satisfaction on her face.

She had met the person she wanted to see, which fulfilled a long-held wish of hers.

Though she still didn't know how to interact with that father of hers.

Fortunately, now that she was in college, she could stay hidden away at school instead of facing him directly.

When summer vacation came, she could work a summer job together with Wen Yang, occasionally visit home to see her mother and Black Bean, and avoid running into him as much as possible.

"Oh~ When you left, you were in such a rush. I thought something huge had happened~"

"Seriously, you didn't even have time for breakfast. You got in the car and immediately left. You even forgot stuff at Lily's place."

Well, at the time she had been starving after not eating all day and was panicking a bit.

Ning Chu was perfectly happy to let them misunderstand and nodded with a troubled expression.

"I thought it was something serious too, otherwise I wouldn't have left in such a hurry."

"You went to get a hotel room with Wen Yang, didn't you?"

As a fellow succubus, Lily saw through Ning Chu at a glance.

"....."

The girls all froze simultaneously before turning to look at Lily's cold, indifferent face with identical expressions.

As expected of you!

At this point, even Xi Xi no longer found it surprising.

After this trip, she had gained an entirely new understanding of this aloof ice-queen beauty.

Don't be fooled by Lily's pure, snow-lotus-like aura and abstinent-looking face—deep down, she was still a succubus whose head was full of dirty thoughts.

Otherwise, she wouldn't have used such scandalously explicit artwork as her computer wallpaper.

Xi Xi had even discovered some forgotten little “toys” tucked away in a corner of Lily's room. After taking a photo and searching online to find out what they were, she realized what they did—and had her eyes opened to a whole new world.

Ning Chu worried that the more she tried to explain herself, the guiltier she'd look, so she ignored Lily's comment and instead turned toward Wang Jie.

“So how are things on your side?”

Today, his complexion looked pretty good—rarely rosy and healthy-looking. He no longer resembled someone on the verge of sudden death like before, which clearly meant his rabbit-girl girlfriend had eased up on him due to unavoidable circumstances.

Meanwhile, Zhang Shaoqing sitting beside him somehow looked even more drained than before.

“Huh?” Wang Jie scratched his head. “I’ll pay the money back in a few days.”

Having her thoughts exposed so directly, Ning Chu laughed awkwardly.

“It’s fine, no rush... Where’d you even get the money from?”

“I didn’t have enough, so I had to ask my parents...”

So his parents found out after all~

Wouldn’t that normally end in a brutal double-team beating from both parents?

“They didn’t beat you up?” Wen Yang voiced exactly what Ning Chu was thinking.

“It wasn’t that bad... My mom was furious, but my dad said I had potential...”

Good lord, your dad seriously doesn’t sound like a respectable man.

Ning Chu silently rolled her eyes.

Zhang Shaoqing chimed in curiously, “They didn’t tell you to marry your rabbit girlfriend?”

“At the very least, that’d have to wait until after graduation, right?”

Wang Jie subconsciously covered his kidneys. He always felt that if he married his rabbit-girl girlfriend, his health would probably deteriorate even faster after marriage.

He wasn't even twenty yet and already felt like he'd entered the "turning in marital duties" phase of life. Wouldn't the future be even worse?

After hesitating, he asked, "How about we start running and working out together in the future?"

"Well, look at that~ Did the sun rise in the west today?"

"I still have a few bottles of medicinal liquor over at my place—" Ning Chu immediately kicked Wen Yang under the table, interrupting his enthusiastic attempt to share.

That's all we've got left! And Mom already took half of it away! We barely have enough for ourselves!

Wen Yang instantly behaved, shutting up under everyone's curious stares.

After chatting for only a little while, the teacher for this class entered the room, and the noisy classroom gradually quieted down.

This teacher was notoriously strict, but the lectures themselves were unbelievably boring. Less than ten minutes into class, Ning Chu was already yawning and zoning out. Restlessly, she hugged Yan Xinya's big tail and took out a pet brush to help groom it.

Every brush stroke pulled out huge clumps of fur. Even lightly tugging at it produced a fluffy handful.

“You’re shedding again?”

“Twice a year~” The wolf girl happily rested her chin in both hands, her eyes curved into crescents. “Yeah, a little lower~”

Ning Chu suddenly felt like she’d become a pet owner.

She peeled the thick layer of wolf fur off the brush, rolled it into a little ball, and tossed it at Zhang Shaoqing.

“Are you insane?”

Seeing Zhang Shaoqing annoyed made her absurdly happy.

“Ning Chu, wanna go shopping in a few days? We can buy some summer clothes.”

Hearing the wolf girl’s invitation, Ning Chu nodded without hesitation.

“Sure.”

She happened to not own many summer women’s clothes yet, though she still had plenty of men’s clothing. It was finally time to start wearing light dresses and similar outfits.

It was already May—soon it would be the season of admiring long bare legs everywhere...

Too bad this summer, she’d be the one getting admired instead.
