

You felt your partner's hand go to the back of your neck. Their fingers were gently rubbing in small circles. It was a nice, soothing feeling. You let out a soft, contented sigh, and your partner smiled. "Feels nice, doesn't it? Just letting me unwind your body."

As they spoke, you felt relaxation trickling down your spine, spreading out through your chest and limbs. "All that peaceful comfort that I give you. Giving in so easily. You want more of this, don't you? Just nod your head for me. Say 'Yes dominant'."

"Yes dominant." You said, feeling your resistance melting away as the relaxation began to encompass your mind.

Their fingers felt so nice, each movement was a small piece of bliss. "But more than comfort, you can begin to feel pleasure, can't you?"

As they said it, the sensation changed. Where it had been a soft, peaceful touch before, you could now feel tingles of arousal, radiating out from where they were touching you. Arousal that blossomed into pleasure. Your soft contented sighs became gentle moans.

"That's it. Such a good toy. So quick to sink. So easy to drop for me. Sinking into pleasurable trance. Because trance is pleasure, and pleasure is trance. So just sink deeper. Let the pleasure take over. Let me take over, my love. Just give in to pleasure. Give in to trance."
