

-Would you ever want to have another mutation? If so, what kind of mutation would you hope for?

S: "It's not something we think about often... in fact, it would probably be a problem."

L: "Yeah, imagine the amount of cosplays we already have and how we'd have to readjust to our new form. It would be a lot of work for future cosplays haha!"

S: "However, if we had to choose... maybe a couple more arms wouldn't hurt, hehe."

L: "I would definitely choose the same!"

-Have you ever thought about marriage?

S: "We have talked about it so many times!"

L: "It's really hard to find a person that simultaneously likes both of us and we both like them haha!"

S: "It's a little embarrassing to admit, but when you have a connection as deep and profound as the one Lucy and I have, it's hard to find someone who's as special and lives up to it."

L: "That's true, but life is full of surprises and if we're dating someone, it makes us a little excited thinking about marriage."

-What is the one place you haven't been to yet that you really really want to vacation at?

S: "Japan!!"

L: "Definitely Japan."

S: "We have been to Japan already tho..."

L: "I know, but I would totally go there again."

S: "Yeah, good point~"

L: "Maybe another place in Japan, does that count?"

S: "I guess it does, yeah haha."

L: "If we could freely go anywhere tho, we would probably go to all the places where great historical battles took place."

S: "That sounded really nerdy."

L: "Indeed, but you would go too."

S: "You say it like I have a choice haha."

-Have you already fantasized about having sex with Maeve and her two penises?

S: "Us? Fantasizing about Maeve?! Not at all."

L: "Pfft... never, we wouldn't do that."

S: "Maeve is our friend. We wouldn't sexualize her like that."

L: "Besides, having two big and erotic penises isn't her fault..."

S: "Uhm, Lucy..."

L: "...or having four slender and sexy legs and her two long tongues she could use fo-"

S: "Geeez, okay. Next! Next question please!"

-Since you're two different people, how do you imagine your romantic life if you have one one day? Would each of you want a different partner or would you feel comfortable enough to share a single one?

S: "We would definitely share our partner!"

L: "We already share everything... our partner wouldn't be the exception."

S: "Having two partners would be like cheating on each other. After all... even though we're two different people, we can't act like we don't share the same body."

L: "Exactly, so either our partner accepts the 2-for-1 pack or they won't have any of us, hehe."

S: "I think that's a win-win deal."

L: "Haha, I guess so."

-You two were born conjoined with that body. But if you were to ever mutate, what kind of additions would you like?

S: "Hehe, we've already answered something like this earlier, so we'll go a little deeper here. We don't really know what it feels like to mutate, which undeniably makes us curious."

L: "For my part, I love being born the way I was. Our body shape is ideal for sharing it between the two of us."

S: "I agree. Although, as we mentioned before, if we had to choose a mutation it would be an extra pair of arms."

L: "And while we're at it, a third head."

S: "Uh... so who would control that head?"

L: "I would, obviously... an extra brain sounds useful for a lot of things."

S: "And what about me? I wouldn't have an extra one for myself?"

L: "Right, let's have two new heads!"

S: "Are you sure? I doubt four heads can fit between our shoulders. We'd need another torso."

L: "Oh hell no! I don't want a torso for myself. I like having you by my side."

S: "But... we'd still be in the same bod-"

L: "No!"

S: "Okay, it's just hypothetical...!"

L: "Let's keep it in an extra pair of arms."

S: "Sounds good to me, heheh."

-Have you two ever thought about becoming mothers? If so, can you get pregnant separately? How would you manage it?

L: "Becoming mothers is very sweet. I think we would be good ones."

S: "Indeed. As for getting pregnant, even though we have two vaginas, many people don't know that they both connect to a single womb so we can only get pregnant once, at least at the same time."

L: "I think we'd handle it pretty well, although we've never been pregnant so it would be hard to confirm."

S: "It would involve a lot of back pain, nauseas and a giant belly. Sounds like something you'd complain about quite often, sis."

L: "Wow, is that the image I give off?"

S: "..."

L: "I'd deny it but it's probably true."

S: "Yeah... oh! And another thing, it's very likely our children will be mutants too."

L: "That's true. I hope whoever got us pregnant doesn't have a problem with that."

S: "Well, I doubt they'd have a problem with mutants if they're getting us pregnant."

L: "Hehe... good point."

-I'm not sure if you've ever been asked this question, but have you ever had a boyfriend/girlfriend? One for both of you? One for just one? One for each of you? How do you manage a relationship like that?

S: "Yes, we've had partners in the past. Both boyfriends and girlfriends."

L: "Even mutants."

S: "We're not totally inexperienced in the matter, hehe. However, we've always shared the same partner."

L: "Yeah! As we mentioned before, we don't like the idea of dating more than one person at the same time."

S: "It sounds complicated but it's actually quite simple: I can't feel jealous of my sister. After all, anything my partner does to her will also affect me in practically the same way since I would feel everything."

L: "Exactly, so it doesn't bother us at all to share. It would be more complicated not to do it and force the other to experience interactions with someone who isn't their partner."

-Birthday date?

S: "The 4th of April."

L: "Yeah, mine too!"

S: "Wow, really? No way..."

L: "Sorry, I had to make that joke."

S: "I wouldn't expect any less from you."

L: "I don't know if you said that proud of me or disappointed..."

S: "Hehe, I'll let you decide."

-Have you already engaged in sexual intercourse with a person owning one or several penises?

S: "We've never been with anyone with more than one penis."

L: "We've fantasized about it many times, that's for sure."

S: "'Several penises' sound pretty sexy... although in practice we tend to choose our partner based on the type of person they are and not the amount of genitals."

L: "Exactly, although in our minds it's a different story."

S: "You mean in YOUR mind? You're the one that's always imagining those kinds of things."

L: "Hehe, I know you well enough to know you do it too."

S: "Could you not say that in front of everyone...?"

L: "Oops."

-Do you have a phone each or do you share a single one? Same for PC/laptop or game controllers?

L: "One for everything!"

S: "Yeah, we share a single phone. Our number is assigned to both of us, thanks to the Port Solei mutant regulation. We have no real reason for having two phones since we don't mind reading each other's messages."

L: "Hiding them from someone always close to your face would be impossible."

S: "When it comes to PCs we do have a desktop PC and a laptop. We usually use both because it's convenient but we don't consider them to belong to either of us alone, they both belong to both of us."

L: "When it comes to controllers, we use two if we play with two characters or one if we play a single player game together."

S: "I guess the way we play games in coordination is content for another question."

L: "More like a story."

S: "Oh, you think Antonella would be able to describe it properly?"

L: "I'm sure she can, as long as we describe it to her in detail."

S: "We have ourselves a task then!"

-What is your shared job, and what studies did you do?

L: "We currently have multiple jobs."

S: "Yeah, we work as secretaries in the Access lab, we earn a little money modeling as cosplayers and influencers, and we work for Undine as models as well."

L: "We studied a little bit of everything: Accounting, systems engineering, programming, public relations and modeling."

S: "Every job has its perks. Cosplaying is always fun and exciting, and modeling at Undine makes us feel sexy. Plus, we get featured in calendars and magazines. The Access lab allows us to enjoy experiments with mutants in a controlled environment, and the employees there are really good friends and nice people!"

L: "They also let us take some of the mutagen with us. The times we've used them alone to-

S: "Lucyyyy!"

L: "Sorryyy...! But it's fun to do that, right?"

S: "Yes, but you shouldn't give those details away... it's a private matter."

L: "Is that why you blushed when I mentioned it?"

S: "...Next question please."

-What got you two into modeling and cosplaying?

S: "In a nutshell, our fanaticism for anime and video games."

L: "It's impossible to be a fan of those without seeing a cosplayer at some point."

S: "I still remember the time we saw a mutant cosplayer for the first time."

L: "Yeah! It was a girl with four arms cosplaying as a dark magician."

S: "Exactly, a big classic. She had designed and reworked the costume to match her mutation and fit her four arms perfectly."

L: "She was our main motivation. If she could do it, what was stopping us from doing it too?"

S: "And we haven't stopped since then. Although fitting a costume for conjoined twins with four sizable breasts and four arms is often a challenge, it's still fun."

L: "Hopefully we will continue doing this for many more years."

S: "Yeah, we're even producing one at the moment to surprise all of you soon!"

-How hard is it to keep secrets from each other?

S: "This is a very interesting question, it's almost difficult to answer."

L: "I would say it's really hard to do that."

S: "Almost impossible."

L: "It's hard to explain our connection without sounding a bit ridiculous."

S: "You see, we both share sensations throughout our entire body, including those in each other's heads. My senses of sight and hearing are limited to my head, but not at 100%."

L: "Right, it's hard to describe but if I concentrate I can tell what Sophie is seeing... not as an image but as information."

S: "Yeah, that's a good way to describe it. I can't see with her eyes, but it's as if her brain and mine are communicating and she's letting me know she's seeing something in particular."

L: "It happened the other day when we saw Antonella in the park. Sophie had seen her before me but I knew it immediately. I couldn't describe exactly how."

S: "Besides that, we can finish the phrases, guess what we're thinking, and know each other's needs without talking. Although most of the time we're not trying to know what the other is thinking, it often comes naturally and we just get used to it. In short, it's practically impossible to hide things from each other unless something is top secret, but given that all our experiences were shared, it would be very difficult for that to happen."

L: "As an example, I know that Sophie is thinking she went too far with the explanation right now."

S: "Could you stop exposing me...?"

L: "Hehe, see?"

S: "I... I'm not going to expose what you're thinking right now."

L: "Why nooot?"

S: "Uh... because I don't need to read your thoughts, I can feel it in other places of our body."

L: "And will you do something about it?"

S: "Lucy, please..."

L: "Hehe, you can't escape now. There are no questions left~"

S: "U-Uhm, anyways. Thanks everyone for the questions, we hope the answers were what you expected. See you again soon! Sis, please keep your hands to yourself! Stop the recording!"
