

into our DNA

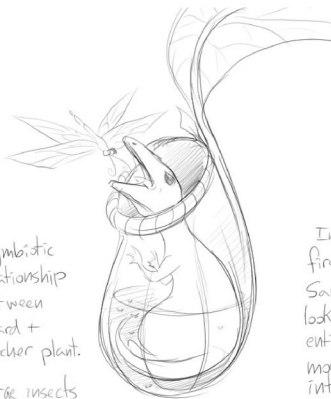

, which fixes defective gene in person

Symbiotic relationship between lizard + pitcher plant.

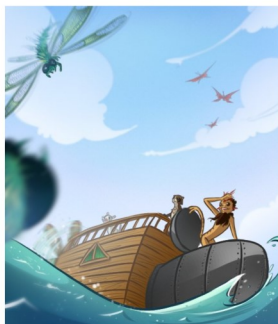

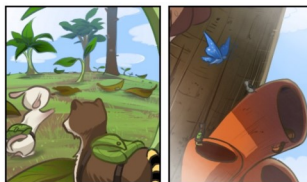

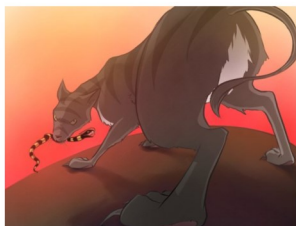

Large insects eaten by lizard, whose tough skin prevents the plant from digesting it.

Imitation of first pitcher plant. Same scent + look with an enticing wide mouth to climb into.

But the digestive fluids are stronger, and the mouth snaps shut when fibers of the wing are touched. The lizard is eaten.

A comic that never happened:
2 animals explore the world millions
of years in the future

