

HIDDEN SHRINE

BACKGROUND

This roadside paddock looks identical to dozens of others in the nearby area, especially when filled with grazing cattle. However, those with a more perceptive gaze might notice one or two oddities.

Some may think the animals are unexpectedly docile, barely moving from their grazing spot and taking no notice or care of passers-by. Were they to enter the paddock to investigate they may also spot the sinkhole beneath three very precarious looking boulders, and possibly even the thick tangle of vines in a solitary spot on the lower cliff wall behind.

Should they persist further, they would likely discover the sealed temple and hidden shrine, both dedicated to a deity whose worship has been long outlawed in the region.
