

YETI LAIR

BACKGROUND

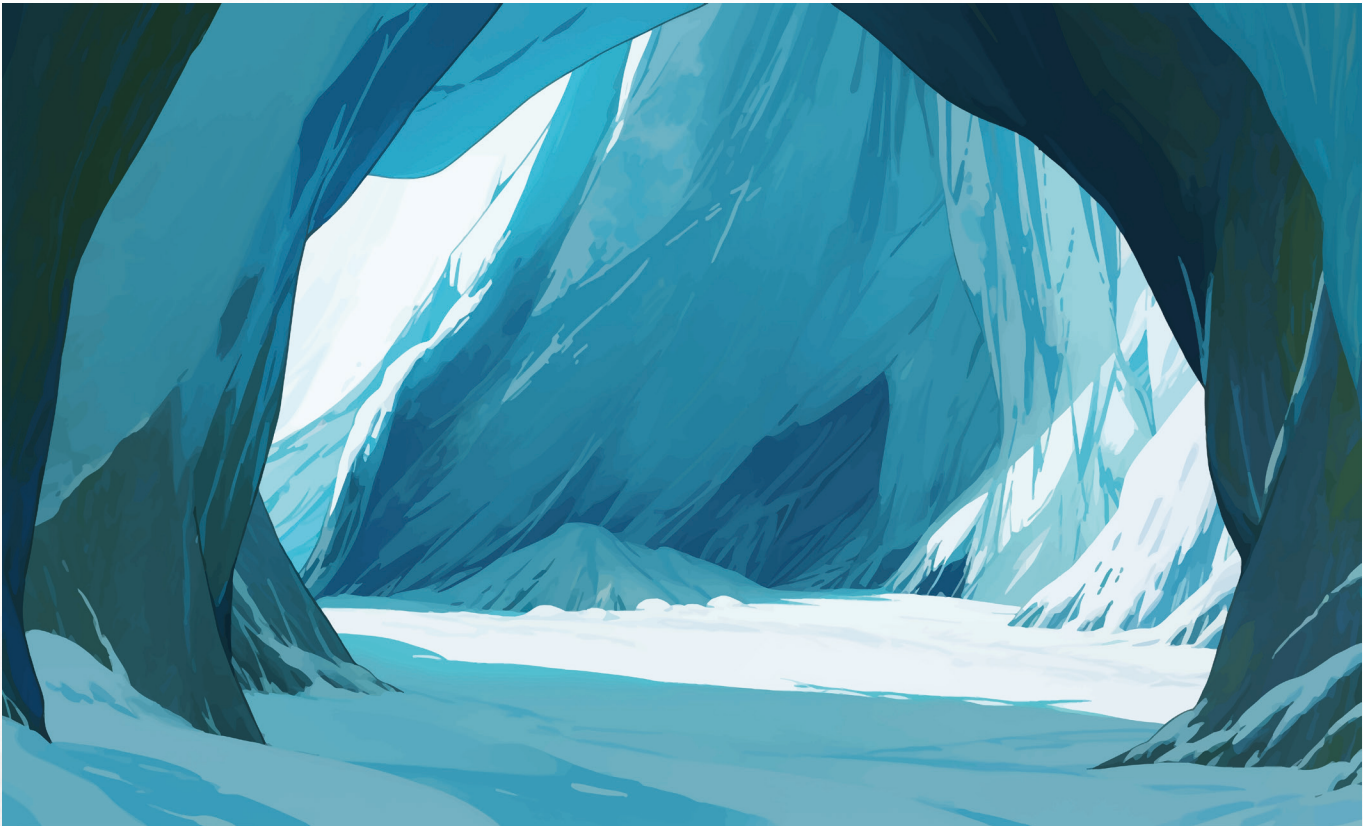

This small mine has been abandoned for several years by the nearby town of maker-elves. They were searching for a deposit or rare minerals for their craft but gave up when it became clear that the dig was a dud.

Mostly forgotten by the remote community, the tunnels have been taken over by a pair of Yeti. Initially they were only stealing the occasional cattle from farms on the town outskirts but it seems recently something has caused them to grow much bolder and more territorial, carrying out raids into the town centre and snatching up elves as well.

The village elders are deeply concerned about the damage to their community, but also the potential impact on the upcoming season. They spend the entire year making gifts for a single event and the Yeti attacks are causing them to fall behind schedule. Their leader is away, finalising plans for the gift-giving ceremony, so they are looking for outside help.
