

<< “Please help me! :c” >> Maeve said to Jessica in a text, following up with a picture of her red devil costume on her bed.

<< “Do you want me to come over and help you?” >> Jessica replied.

<< “Nooo >////< just tell me how I’m supposed to put this on? You have more experience being a mutant... this costume didn’t come with instructions” >>

<< “Maeve, I have two heads. I’ve barely had to modify my clothes >.> >.>” >>

<< “Have you ever seen a humantaur putting on their clothes?” >> Maeve asked.

<< “Do you think I go around spying on mutants changing clothes?” >>

<< “No, but I’m sure you’ve seen at least one video on the internet of how they do it... or you’ve imagined more than once how I change clothes” >> Maeve replied.

<< “I haven’t seen any online videos of it... I would start with the tail. That suit doesn’t seem to have a zipper for it so you have to put your tail inside it first and go through the rest” >> Jessica said.

Maeve blushed vividly << “Why didn’t you just deny the video part?! Jess??? >.>” >>

<< “I’ll wait for you with Star at the plaza. She’s very eager to meet you!” >> Jessica replied before going radio silent. Maeve left her phone on her bed, turning velvet red as she wondered if Jessica was secretly fantasizing about her. She felt a wave of libido rushing through her rear hips and quickly slapped her cheeks to clear her mind “Woah... I shouldn’t think about that... focus, Maeve”

She searched the suit for a tail hole then unzipped the lower part of it. After several minutes of struggling she managed to get her four legs through the corresponding holes, fit her breasts into the five cups the suit had and adjusted the choker around her neck before closing all the hidden zippers.

Maeve stood in front of the mirror, admiring the one-piece devil costume pressing tight against her body “Phew... even after a month, I still can’t get used to getting dressed with this body... this suit is quite a challenge” she muttered protestingly. She looked at her four legs, her tail moving behind her and her five breasts crafting three considerable cleavages. Her cheeks blushed a little “Though it’s definitely worth the effort...” she said as she put on her stockings, gloves and horned headband to complete the look.

With no further delays, she combed her hair swiftly and left her apartment. After making her way to the park, she met up with Jessica and Star near the spot where she met Sophie and Lucy for the first time.

Maeve recognized Jessica immediately. She was wearing a sexy witch costume with a big hat for each of her heads and her three large breasts were barely contained by her costume. Next to her was a girl dressed as a ghost with a long dress and a hood, accompanied by a mask that covered her face. Behind her a small tail was moving around, covered by a cloth with a pair of eyes drawn on it like it was a little ghost.

“Hey girls!” Maeve greeted the duo, waving with her hand as she stood in front of them. The ghost girl turned to look at her immediately while Jessica only turned one of her heads, observing the ghost girl's reaction with the other “Hey Maeve, you took your time!”

“I'm sorry... putting on this costume was much harder than I thought” said Maeve sighingly. She looked at the ghost girl, noticing the glow in her eyes as she stared at her in awe.

“I figured... it looks very sexy though!” Jessica replied with a smile on both her faces “Oh by the way, this is Star. She's the one I mentioned while we were texting. Star, this is Maeve. She's our couch at the gym”

“Woaaaaah...” Star was excited, standing up to admire Maeve from different angles. Maeve wrapped her own arms around her body, somewhat surprised as she looked at Star curiously “N-...Nice to meet you, Star”

Jessica laughed mischievously “Ah... the first interaction between two mutant girls is always fun. I think this is the first time Star has met a mutant like you”

“What do you mean ‘like me’?” Maeve asked.

“A humantaur!” Star replied as she watched Maeve happily. Maeve noticed that Star's voice was always coming from her tail, but she avoided asking about it.

“Something tells me your next drawing will be about humantaurs...” Jessica said laughingly.

“Definitely!” Star replied, gesturing warmly with her hands.

“Ooh, are you an artist?” Maeve asked. Star quickly nodded her tail and head at the same time “Would you pose for me someday?”

Maeve blushed, pointing at herself “Pose...as your model? I mean... sure!”

“Wee!” Star cheered, and Jessica smiled in delight “She seems to like you already”

“Heheh...” Maeve giggled happily, wagging her tail. She stopped for a moment as she glanced at Star's figure, then looked over at her with an amazed smile “Ooohh... I just noticed you have four hands! That's so cool!”

Jessica nodded with both heads “Oh yeah... her hands are pretty unique. Here, look” As she said this she pulled up the fabric of Star's costume to showcase the anatomy of her arms, which split into four at her elbows.

“Oh wow, I've never seen that mutation before. It looks great!” Maeve said before crossing her arms “I could really use some extra hands so I can dress myself more easily”

The three girls started walking around the park while chatting “I know Sophie and Lucy are on a trip to Japan with the lab staff, but what about Antonella? It’s weird not seeing her around here” Maeve asked.

“Antonella told me she had a lot of work to do, and she had to sleep early... These are tough weeks for her” Jessica replied.

“I’ll visit her tomorrow and leave her some candy” Star said. Maeve looked at Star’s tail again, and her curiosity got the better of her “Speaking of Antonella, you have a tail similar to hers, right? Does this costume bother you? Can you see well with it?”

“Oh, I don’t have any eyes there” Star said, lifting the cloth covering her tail “It’s just my mouth”

“Ooohh wow... so you have two mouths!” Maeve said. Jessica gestured, covering her mouths to avoid saying anything.

Star blushed a little as she looked ahead “N-No... on my face... I don’t have a mouth”

“Oh... but then...”

“Yes... a part that I must always cover” Star said, red as a tomato as she pulled down the mask for a second to reveal a vagina where her mouth is supposed to be.

“Wow... that is... quite sensual” Maeve said, blushing heavily. Jessica and Star were surprised by the reaction.

"T-Thanks" Star replied.

"I didn't expect you to say that" Jessica added. Maeve raised her finger trying to explain "I mean, you don't see that every day... it adds a touch of mystery to her mutation and it would be an interesting surprise for a date... you know, it's super sexy"

"You only think about sex, Maeve... be a little more romantic" Jessica said playfully, arching an eyebrow.

"W-What?!" Maeve said with a flush of red on her cheeks "Of course I can be romantic... but you can't blame me in this case"

"Mmm... I don't know, you don't sound convincing. Star's mutation seems very romantic to me" Jessica said, shaking her heads. Star laughed tenderly while Maeve pouted.

"Pfft..." Jessica was trying to hold back her laughter "Anyway, Maeve also has something on her face that she's embarrassed about, right?"

Maeve looked away shyly "Is it necessary to talk about it?"

Star's eyes focused on her and shone with pure curiosity "What is it? I don't notice anything strange"

Star's excitement captivated Maeve, who slowly opened her mouth to let out her two long tongues "Oooooohhhh..." Star said, almost jumping back from their length.

"Aren't they super sexy?" Jessica asked.

"Yeah!!" Star said.

Maeve looked at them somewhat offended "Wait... my tongues are sexy but the vagina on her face is romantic...?! How does that work?!"

Star and Jessica began laughing as the three of them left the park, finding themselves in the city. The Halloween atmosphere was palpable, with people dressed in costumes on the streets and even some mutants in sexy outfits.

"Let's see who can get the most candy!" Jessica said. Star smiled "Yeah!"

"Okay, but you can't flirt with them, Jessica!" Maeve remarked, staring at Jessica. Jessica looked away with her heads and started whistling. Minutes later, they had gone through a few houses, getting a considerable amount of candy. However, when they tried to count, they noticed that Jessica's bag was practically empty.

"What happened?? I can't believe they didn't give you any candy..." Maeve said. Star looked at her with some concern.

Jessica's eyes were staring to the void like she had seen a ghost. She slowly raised her arm and pointed towards one of the houses on the same street "I just came from that house..."

"Did they take the candy from you?!" Maeve said somewhat furiously.

"No, they didn't... it's just that..." Jessica said with her left head, before continuing with her right one "...I managed to get a lot of candy, but... in that house a girl received me..."

"So?" Maeve asked, feeling a little impatient with how slowly Jessica was explaining everything.

Jessica gestured as if drawing an hourglass with her hands explaining the girl's body "She was tan... this tall, with curves like this... a long and cute tail, a pair of horns that WERE NOT a costume... her feet were hooves and she had four beautiful breasts and four arms..."

"Wow..." Star said, looking at the house and feeling tempted to visit it.

"That doesn't explain how you end up losing your candy...!" Maeve said impatiently.

"Well... I couldn't help but give them to her... she completely outdid me in the sexiness she gave off" Jessica replied.

"Wait... What? You gave her all your candy because she was hotter than you?!" Maeve said, watching as Jessica nodded her heads in complete defeat.

"Hehehe..." Star couldn't help but laugh a bit. She took a handful of her candy and placed it in Jessica's bag.

"Jessica that's not how Halloween works..." Maeve said, sighing and giving her a handful of candy too. Jessica looked at them, convinced by the argument "If you had seen her, you wouldn't think the same... though that explains why she looked at me with confusedly when I gave her the candy and ran away"

"Sometimes you are a bit silly, considering you have two brains and all" Maeve said laughingly.

"Heyyyy..." Jessica said, looking at Maeve with both heads and pouting "As much as you are right, there was no need for you to say it like that...!"

The three girls began laughing as they finished the night, enjoying some candy on their way to their houses. They walked Star home and said goodbye to her, leaving her some extra candy so she could share some with Antonella later.

"Your apartment is on the way to mine, I'll go with you" Jessica said as they headed in the direction of her apartment.

"Star is super adorable!" Maeve said. Jessica giggled and nodded "She's very cute, although she would have been more excited if you had mentioned your two penises..."

Maeve looked at her with some disappointment "Jessica... I don't go around telling people how many penises I have!"

Jessica started to laugh "I know, I know... although they are quite noticeable in that outfit"

“WHAT!?” said Maeve trying to see between her back legs “It’s not true, it’s not that tight back there!”

“They don’t escape my four eyes hehehe!” Maeve pouted, covering her rear crotch with her tail “You are such a pervert, Jess!”

Upon reaching her apartment, Maeve opened the door and gestured to Jessica “Do you want to come in for a drink?”

Jessica thought for a second “It wouldn’t be bad... the candies have made me a bit thirsty. Besides, I’ve never seen your apartment from the inside”

“Oh don’t worry, it’s just a mess. I’m still renovating it to fit my new body” said Maeve as they both entered. The apartment was much tidier than Jessica expected, although she noticed that she was still working on renovating “Make yourself comfortable...” said Maeve, walking towards the kitchen.

Jessica sat and relaxed on the couch, taking off her two large hats. A few minutes later Maeve appeared with a couple of drinks, leaving them on the table in front of the couch. Jessica took one and began to drink it with her right head while looking at Maeve.

“Gosh my legs hurt... we walked a lot” she said with her left head. Maeve just smiled as she drank some of her drink “Don’t be a crybaby... it’s good for your body”

“You say that because you have four legs! That’s cheating...!” Jessica said, moving the drink to her other head.

“By the way, are you gonna have any problems taking off that costume later?” she asked with her left head.

Maeve shrugged “I’ll try, though it wasn’t easy to put on...” At the same time she remembered the text exchange she had with Jessica earlier. She watched carefully as Jessica’s two pairs of eyes looked at her legs, moving over her curves intensely.

Sighing gently then posing a bit, Maeve took off one of her gloves “Soooo... can you help me change my clothes?” she asked playfully.

Jessica almost choked on her drink, starting to cough with her left head while protesting with her right "G-Geez... Maeve... where did that come from?"

“Hehehe... I just wanted to see your reaction” Maeve replied, throwing the glove at Jessica which fell on her right head like some kind of sensual striptease. Jessica took her bag of candy and offered to Maeve “H-Here...”

“I told you that’s not how it works!” said Maeve, laughing as she walked away and shook her hips and tail “This is just a payback for embarrassing me earlier”

Jessica stood frozen as the glove slowly fell from her head to the floor “Gosh... I feel like I’m going to sleep late tonight” she muttered.

Jessica entered her apartment minutes later. She took off her hats and dropped her dress to walk around topless towards her room with her phone in-hand. She threw herself back onto her bed, resting both of her heads on the pillow and began to check her social media. Since it’s a task which she only needed one head for, she turned her left head to the side, yawning and looking at the clock “10:30pm... it really got late” she said to herself as she looked down at her almost naked body.

Possibly due to the Halloween celebration the social media was quite inactive, but there was no shortage of the typical posts of sexy girls in different costumes, surrounded by candy and pumpkins.

Seeing those drawings and pictures, along with the sight of her three large breasts made her temperature start to rise before she realized. With no hesitation she began to play with her breasts, pressing her left boob and squeezing it against her middle one while playing with a finger on her nipple.

Her heads began to breathe faster, her cheeks flushed as her feet sank into the sheets, causing her knees to rub against each other. She dropped her phone beside her as she took a deep breath with both heads, pulled down her panties and let her libido take control.

Meanwhile, Maeve in her apartment posed completely naked in front of her bedroom mirror “Hehe, that outfit was really good... I think it made me look sexier than being naked. I won’t forget the look on Jessica’s faces when I started taking it off. I’ll make sure to tease her about it later” she said while laughing and heading to her bed.

She slowly climbed onto it with all four legs, moving until she reached the middle of the large bed. With her hands she hugged the long pillow she recently bought, surrounding it with all six limbs to squeeze it against the length of her entire body while she buried her face in it to relax.

As she closed her eyes, several images flashed through her mind in succession including the details of Star’s mutation, the vagina on her face, her pretty legs, Jessica’s prominent cleavage, how sensual her two necks and faces looked as she turned her heads around and how her outfit partially revealed her large hips.

"Mmm..." Maeve moaned. The addition of her pillow rubbing against her groins made her two penises get erect. Without saying anything, she began to move her back hips, rubbing her penises against the pillow while her tail caressed her back vagina delicately "Gosh..." she said, sighing and burying her face deeper in the pillow.

At the same time Jessica continued to have fun in her room, playing with her three breasts, caressing them while pinching her nipples. Her right head leaned to the left to kiss her left head's neck as she began to moan sensually. One of her hands went down her curves until it reached her right thigh, caressing it while she raised her leg, moving her hand towards her vagina but moving her hand away before touching it.

Over time, Jessica had learned to use one of her heads to control a hand and tease herself, stopping before reaching the sensitive spot or even delaying an orgasm which caused a dose of pleasure in her other head. Even if it was for just a second, it felt as if someone else was taking control of the situation.

The kisses on her left neck intensified, as if her right head responded with frustration to her own technique. Without hesitation she moved her hand back to her vagina, beginning to masturbate softly but steadily while her left head turned to the right, looking into her own eyes and licking her lips.

Back in Maeve's room, she had let go of her pillow and was lying face up on the bed. Her upper torso was raised and supported by her arms while her four legs pointed upwards.

Her breathing was accelerated, seemingly sweating without even starting. Her penises were fully erect and resting against her lower belly. The mere image of those two large penises resting against such a feminine and well-toned abdomen was a scene worthy of a top-tier porn movie.

She looked to her back hips and carefully moved her long tail in the direction of her penises, wrapping her tail around one of them to lift it. A small thread of precum formed between her abdomen and the tip of the penis. She could feel the cold drippings on her skin as the liquid dried out near to her second navel, causing her other penis to have small spasms.

"Mmm... it feels so good..." she said as she bit her lips, guiding the tip of her tail to get closer to her second penis without releasing the first one. At the mere contact, her entire body tensed and a moan escaped from her mouth. Her tail didn't stop, coiling around her second penis and starting to move up and down, stroking both penises simultaneously. Maeve's four legs began to tremble, unable to bear the sensations on her body.

Meanwhile, Jessica was approaching her climax rapidly. Her heads were already kissing each other intensely while her hand had three fingers inside her vagina, screwing herself intensely. Her left hand pushed her three breasts against her right arm as they squeezed together, fighting for space. Only the noise of her fluids on her hand and her muffled moans could be heard from her room.

Meanwhile, Maeve couldn't stop moaning in her room, using one of her hands to masturbate her front vagina while curling her tail to also rub it against her rear vagina, stimulating all four of her genitals at the same time. Her moans became faster and faster as the seconds passed while she rolled her eyes, barely able to contain her orgasms anymore.

Jessica and Maeve's movements synchronized without knowing it. Their screams of pleasure echoed in the rooms of their apartments as they both reached powerful orgasms, falling exhausted on their beds and trying to catch their breath.

A couple of minutes later Jessica took her phone and checked her contacts, seeing that Maeve was online << "Still awake after such a long day? Knowing you, you must have masturbated just now... 😊 😊" >> she said.

Seconds later Maeve replied << "Knowing me? Ha! That's something you would do, not me... I know how to control myself, you know?" >>

<< "Suuuure..." >> Jessica replied << "...neither you nor I are saints" >>

<< "I won't make any statements" >> Maeve said << "The only one who could be tagged as a saint is Star" >>

<< "I can agree on that hehe" >> Jessica replied.

Meanwhile Star was at home, sitting on her bed completely naked. Her face was completely red as her mind processed everything she had seen that day, including Maeve's penises which she noticed but didn't dare to talk about. "They looked pretty big even inside her suit" she whispered to herself.

A soft moan escaped from her tail as she parted her legs. Her four hands ran over her body, caressing her skin, squeezing her large breasts while her tail kissed all her sensitive spots, starting with the vagina on her face and going down her neck. Her mouth reached her breasts, sucking on her nipples and causing a sensual 'pop' sound before moving down her abdomen and finally reaching the vagina between her legs. Her breathing hastened which caused the air from her nose to reach the lips of her face vagina, turning her on even more. Her legs separated and without thinking twice her tail began to lick her lower vagina, exploring deeply on her insides while at the same time one hand fingered her face vagina.

The sensation of stimulating both of her vaginas at the same time made her close her eyes and try to extend the pleasure for longer. However, her years of practice with her tongue made her an expert at the task, bringing her to orgasm faster than she could control. The surge of pleasure in her lower vagina as the orgasm hit spread to her upper vagina, triggering a second orgasm that made her entire body tremble. Seconds later, she lifted her tail to kiss her face vagina, moving one of her four hands to the vagina between her legs and repeated the process.

Without letting her moans escape Star shyly masturbated again and again, changing positions, using only her hands while licking her breasts, and taking full advantage of her tail and four hands for at least an hour while Maeve and Jessica slept peacefully.

Halloween night was certainly too much visual stimulation for the three of them, though the fun was guaranteed.
