

SPELL-BOUND HOURGLASS

Wondrous item, rare

This enchanted hourglass is filled with sand imbued with the magic of Oathean, an ancient mythical city that radiated arcane energy in its prime. This item was used most effectively by Oathean artisans as part of a security mechanism, allowing devastating spells to be released at certain moments to ward off intruders.

Oathean Relic. When within 10 miles of Oathean, the hourglass glows softly with very dim light.

Hourglass. The hourglass contains 10 ounces of Oathean Sand, and takes 1 minute to deplete.

Delay Spell. A creature can store certain spells in the hourglass by touching the hourglass as the spell is cast. The spell must be of 1st through 5th-level, must take only an action to cast, and must target a point. When cast, the spell has no effect, other than to be stored in the hourglass. If the hourglass can't hold the spell, the spell is expended without effect.

A creature can use an action to turn the hourglass; when the sand depletes, the stored spell is cast centered on itself using your spell save DC. The hourglass ignores any concentration requirements and does not suffer any ill effects from the cast spell.
