Chapter Five

I had never measured; I didn't care really but it would've helped now knowing what it was before so if I were to measure I could know the difference. I certainly looked bigger than before, looking back up to Brigid she looked enthralled by my prick as it pulsed with my heartbeat.

"It's so... Big..." She cooed as she reached out and tentatively rubbed her fingers against my shaft. "I knew you'd be big but... Look at you..."

The sensation was electric, I had never felt pleasure so sudden and so quick like this before, my body was trying to spasm under her fingers. Sensing my arousal, she wrapped her hands around my shaft, the smaller girl's hand wasn't able to contain much of my dick, it only seemed to fire her up more.

Brigid leaned forward, her bare belly resting against my thighs, she started to rub my dick against her round bump.

"I think for you to be this hard... You must really like my belly..."

She slapped my dick against her stomach, the noise of my meat slapping against her taut dome actually did make me harder, somehow. The feeling of my dick surging in her hand made Brigid gasp.

“I think you’re going to burst before the main event...” Her smirking face could’ve finished me off if I’d let it.

With a sudden stop, she pinned my dick against her stomach and looked me in the eyes. “And to think... I’ve still got months of growing left to do...”

Months? She’s already so big, she couldn’t possibly get much bigger... But months...

Brigid could easily sense my excitement, and she started to slowly stroke once more. I was building up, far quicker than I expected.

“I’m going to cum... Stop...” I yelped.

Her face was beaming, she was grinning ear to ear, she did thankfully stop to allow a stay of execution. Letting go of my twitching and very engorged member, the heat I felt coming off of it was insane.

She thinks this is normal for me...

The way my cock throbbed, the vein bulged.

This isn’t normal...

I could hardly think, I couldn’t really think about what was happening, I was just so turned on, I didn’t even notice that she had stepped back and taken off all of her clothes now, completely standing naked before me I gawked at the fertile goddess.

“Glowing, was it?”

I smiled and beckoned her over to me, aiming my throbbing prick towards her whilst I laid back on my elbows. Brigid didn't need to be told twice to hop on, but that was a little bit trickier than either of us were expecting. Her mobility was affected by her girth for starters, I helped her up like a delicate princess, she squatted herself down, I guided my dick to her entrance and then the second issue. I was far too big right now to just start fucking her, so it took us some time to get me fully acquainted with her desperate sex.

Feeling her weight come down on my torso, her belly resting against my abdomen, her stretching around my enlarged cock. It was like nothing I had ever felt before. Her warmth enveloping me, I dare not move for fear of exploding instantly.

I want to enjoy this...

Brigid was gasping on top of me, she was in a mixture of pain and pleasure, she was at the very precipice of ecstasy just like me. I moved my hip and heard her let out a yelp of pleasure. I wasn't far off from the same reaction. Neither of us wanted to move because we wanted this to last forever, something we both knew couldn't happen.

There was always next time...

I had just convinced myself and just as we were about to start fucking there was a loud bang at the door. A very drunken girl screaming through.

"Brigid, let me in, please!"

Brigid, despite the current situation, heard the voice and immediately got off of me, the decoupling almost making both of us finish, she ran, well waddled very quickly to the door. There was no explanation, her urgency made it feel so much more important.

From her open bedroom door I could see the front door, she opened it as covertly as she could and a woman stumbled in, she was a blonde haired girl who looked familiar, even from the back, her clothes were the giveaway, there was so much skin on show but when she stood up and turned around she gasped at the naked Brigid.

“What are you doing naked?”

She turned to the bedroom and saw me, mostly naked, still with my cock out.

“Holy shit Brigid!”

The girl looked shocked at my cock, at her friend as she could barely hold herself up, far too drunk to really comprehend gravity. The girl looked familiar because she was, it was the one that Jonesy and Greggory were eyeballing in the kitchen, her huge boobs sat high on her chest and heaved with each breath she drew.

“Are you done? He doesn’t look done, Girl...” She dumbly said to her very turned on and pregnant friend.

“No Emma... We were about to...”

“Oh, don’t let me stop you two... Even if you look like you’re about to give birth any second... You two...” Her face dropped and she dashed into the bathroom. I heard her throw up; the whole street probably could’ve. Brigid gave me a sad glance and then went into the bathroom to help her very drunk friend, even seeing her waddle into the bathroom was hot, just how beautiful she looked so heavily pregnant.

And a few more months to grow...
