

LAB RAT

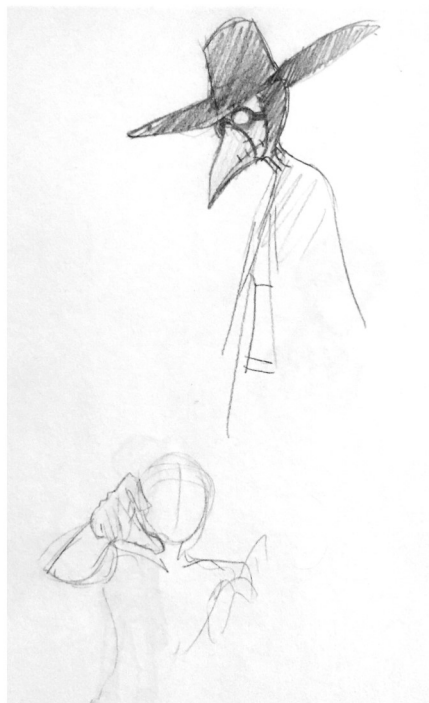

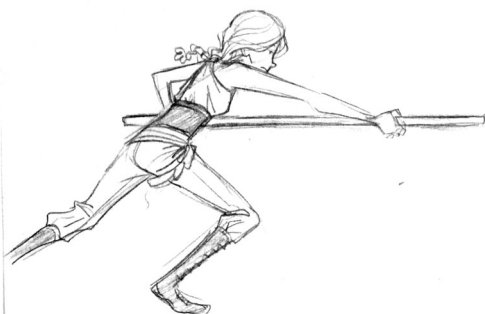

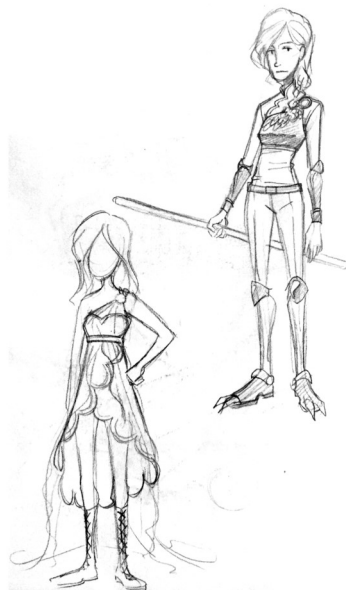

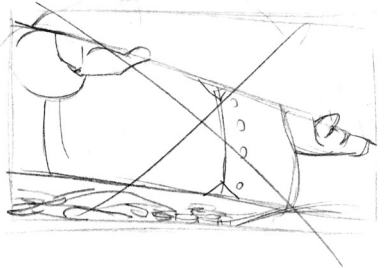

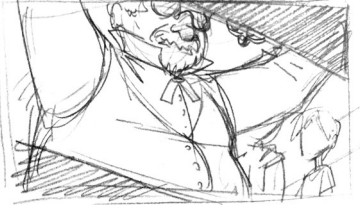

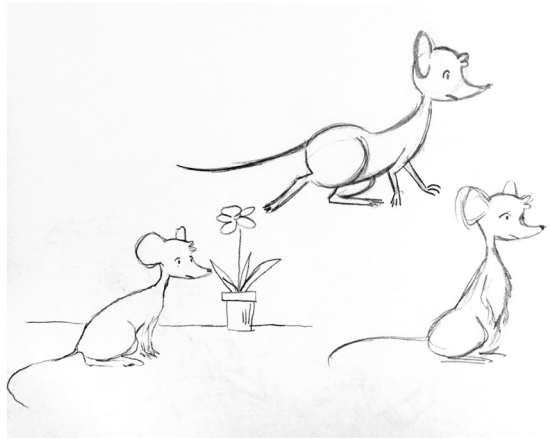

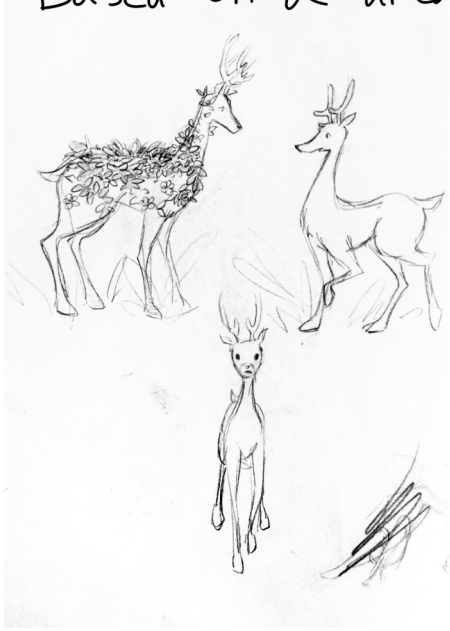

Come to think of it, the crow started appearing after the princess was kidnapped.

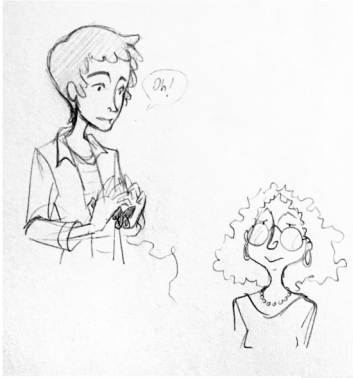

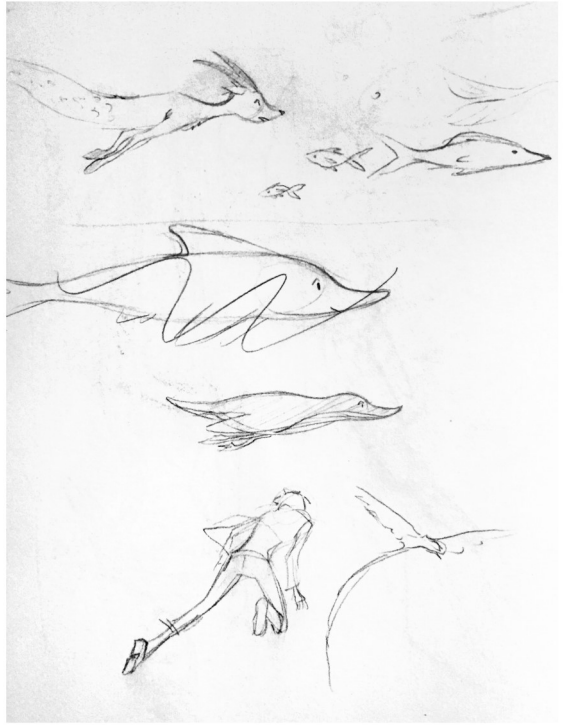

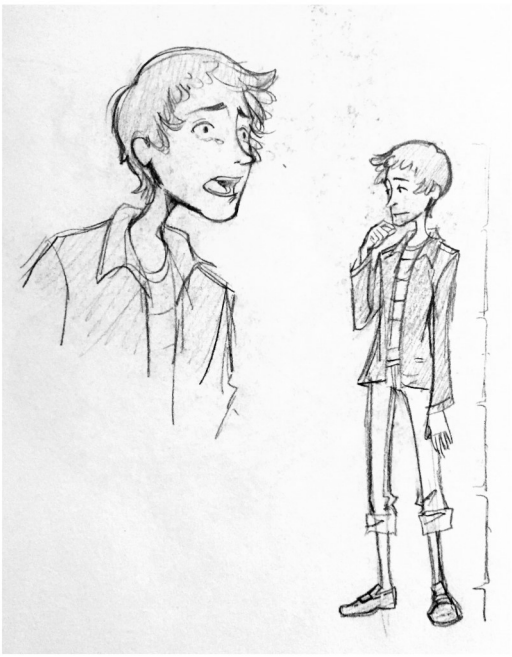

The boys enter the first town where they learn

1. A mysterious crow monster has been sighted
2. The crow monster appeared after the princess was kidnapped

Based on a dream I once had

Leading to a twine game that was never completed

A game following the life of the player from start to finish.

At each life stage, the player is represented as a different animal

Player as a deer, meeting a different deer underground
river boat conversation

Childhood - a caterpillar in a cocoon

Teenager - Bird in a cage

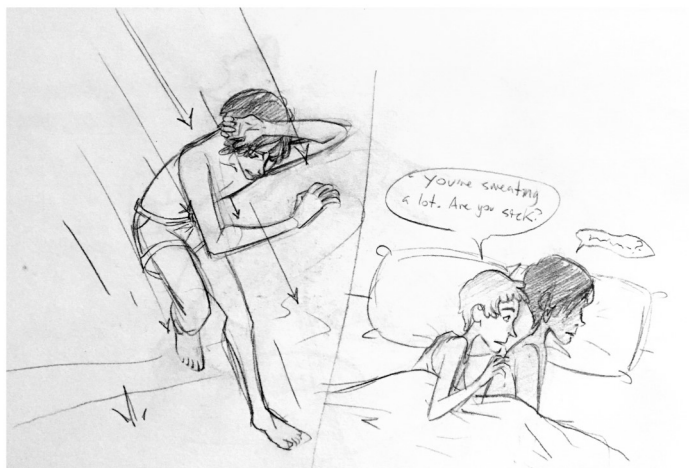

y. Adult - Mouse wakes up in hospital of cats, transition to maze w/ monkey quiz

Maze options

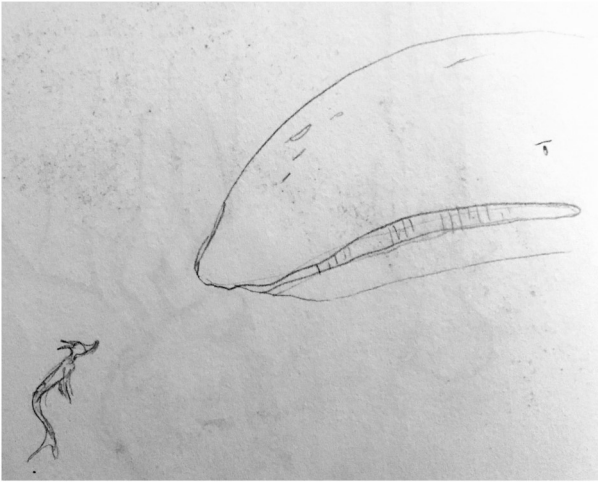

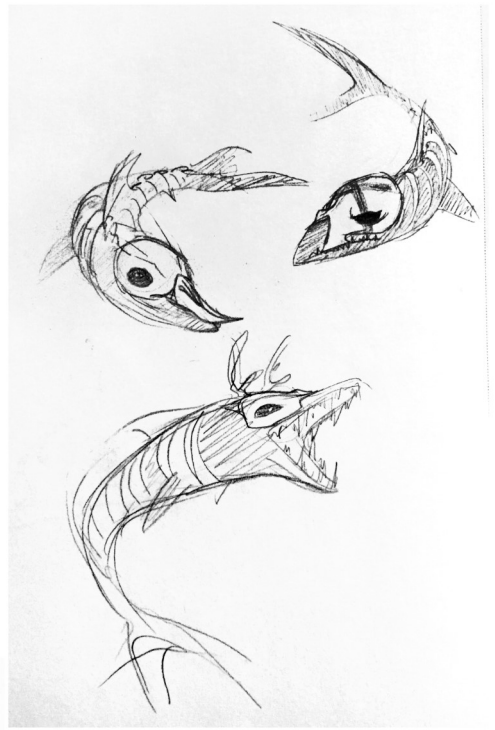

The player's love interest, the deer, who becomes a bat, then a bird who leaves you. If you are too attached to him when he leaves, you will become a sad worm who burrows into the ground, then falls out the other side into the sky → start game over

If the player leaves before broken up with, you turn into a capricorn and dive into the ocean.

Approaching old age, you are confronted by sharks wearing the skulls of a bird, mouse, and deer.

You meet an old whale, who might let you become consumed by the sharks, or throw you into the sky where you transform into a butterfly and fly freely at last.
