

Zap Medicine

Ash is the grandson of a genius apothecary who uses Pokemon specifically electric Pokemon to make medicine. Her daughter Delia took the method in a different direction going into cooking. Ash does a mix of both, after getting his Mareep he even goes to a special school to study herbs. He meets Arven and Miraidon.

Chapter 1 Family Business

Ash's grandmother was a talented medicine craftsmen, she combined herbs and used Electric Pokemon to cook them and produce higher potency. Katie runs her own pharmacy, the secret medicine had plenty of punch helping both human and pokemon.

She had two daughters, Delia was the eldest, but her path took her towards cooking. She did use Pokemon in her cooking, meals cooked by either Fire type flames or Electric type zaps, desserts chilled by Ice types. Mariah came later, and while she was eager to help with the family business she lacked imagination to expand.

Katie was happy to have a grandson, Ash Ketchum. When he was old enough she showed him their family business. Ash thought it was so cool, the world of Pokemon really inspired the boy. He wanted to become a Pokemon Master, mastering anything and everything the world had to offer. He learned about herbs, even studied the ways of Pokemon Medicine. Katie was happy to teach him.

Ash learned about plants from the Xanadu Nursery. Delia raised Ash strong, and encouraged his imagination. When it came to cooking Ash's experiments always looked messy, but when it came to taste it was impressive. His ability to mix combinations would serve him well in Pokemon Battles.

At 10 Katie gave Ash a Mareep to raise. The boy loved him instantly. They bonded and became friends and they worked together.

Then came an opportunity. Ash heard about special herbs in the Paldea Region, there was a Pokemon School where he could study, learn, and if he graduated he'd be an ace trainer able to carry 9 Pokemon on his journey.

Uva Academy was a great opportunity. Ash went, promising to return when the time was right to start his journey. Gary Oak was a bit annoyed. They were childhood friends, promised to be rivals, it felt like Ash was leaving him but you know what they say, absence makes the heart grow fonder.

Ash went to Uva Academy staying at the dorms. He made sandwiches to save money. He had his buddy Mareep and plans to study and learn about the herba mystica.

Jacq was impressed with Ash's know how, the boy absorbed Katie's lessons and the Pokemon Cook Method was impressive, risky, but high risk high reward. He had impressive control with Mareep. He aced a few exams with this method. The boy didn't cry when he failed, with failure he learned, but he didn't burn resources needlessly. He took the loss, regrouped, studied, trained, and came back harder.

Ash liked Dendra, the Battle Studies teacher, she admired Ash's drive for battle and complex analysis when it came to it. She explained how Power Levels worked. Pokemon battled to gain experience and grow stronger.

At Power Level 30, a Pokemon could know 5 moves, at 45 they could hold 6 moves, at 60 they can hold 7 moves, at 75 they could hold 8 moves, at 90 they had 9 moves, and at 100 they could have 10. A High level Pokemon had more ability and capabilities in a battle.

Mareep was a little guy but he was strong at PL: 32 It's moves were; Thunder Shock, Cotton Spore, Thunder Wave, Confuse Ray, and Electro Ball. What was more impressive was HOW Ash used moves, adjusting power in ways most trainers didn't get. Mareep kept up a strong stamina. After defeating everyone in class, Dendra gave Ash a Paldea Starter Pokemon.

Ash chose Fuecoco a fire type. He had a PL: 5, his ability was Blaze, his moves were Tackle, Leer, Bite, and Ember. He was a sweet little bean.

Miriam was the school nurse but also handled Health Class, she was impressed with Ash's medical knowledge and ability to create special medicine.

Hassel and Saguaro were impressed with Ash's creativity. The boy made sandwiches though sometimes his work station was a mess after or even the creation was a mess of ingredients but 9/10 times his concoction was amazing.

This is when Ash met Arven Pepper. He was also looking for the Herba Mystica but wouldn't say why. There was something else. Arven had another secret, he was taking care of a mysterious Pokemon known as Miraidon. Though they didn't get along.

Ash offered him a sandwich and the bond was forged. Arven gave Ash his monster ball and Ash gained a new friend. In the library they learned about where the Herba Mystica was located and that Pokemon tend to guard it with all their might, these were titled Titan Pokemon.

Miraidon let Ash ride him, which annoyed Arven since the Electric Dragon never let him before.

They decided to team up since Arven couldn't battle the Titan Pokemon. He picked an amazing battler. Much to Arven's shock Ash would even put himself into danger to help with the mission.

Arven was so closed off, trying to do so much on his own, but engaging with Ash and going on missions with him helped him grow out of his shell.

Miraidon apparently also was weakened and needed help recovering. When they gathered the Herba Mystica Arven made sandwiches and Ash made medicine. They had a picnic.

Arven's pokemon Mabostiff had been injured critically, in ways that normal Pokemon Medicine couldn't help.

They had defeated Stony Cliff Titan Klawf and gained the Sweet Herba Mystica. Ash analyzed the herb, it helped in aiding digestion, curing stomachaches and even stimulating one's appetite. Ketchum mixed some into a jelly and made a Sweet Peanut Butter and Jelly Sandwich. Miraidon loved it.

Then came Open Sky Titan Bombirdier a Flying/Dark type. Ash didn't have any trouble with this one, Mareep had the type advantage, after slowing it down with Cotton Spore. Mareep landed a Thunder Wave and the Electric Attacks that followed helped them seal the deal. They got the Bitter Herba Mystica.

Arven made another sandwich, and Ash made a Bitter Berry Burger/Sub. Miraidon loved it. Ash analyzed the herb effect, good for the blood circulation, warms the body and boosts immune system.

As they traveled Ash battled wild Pokemon, but after every fight he provided them with special medicine, it helped them not only recover but grow as well. Fuecoco needed training and he slowly got stronger.

They'd need his help because the third Titan was a lot tougher. Lurking Steel Titan Orthworm was a Steel type. Ash and Fuecoco had to work together to bring him down with Ash serving as the bait and letting Fuecoco attack.

Ash nearly got a bad hit when Miraidon swooped in and saved him. Fuecoco learned Incinerate and Yawn, a handy move. They scored the Salty Herba Mystica.

Arven made another sandwich while Ash studied the herb, it's medicinal effects included: alleviating aches in hands and feet, even helping heal muscle weakness and other neuropathic injuries. Ash made his own sandwich a Salty BLT Sandwich. Even Arven got in on that one.

Pepper finally let Ash see what this whole mission was about. Mabosstiff. Ash offered some of his special medicine and much to Arven's shock Mabosstiff took it and felt his strength return. "Don't you have anyone helping you?" Ash asked.

"All I have is Mabosstiff." Arven said firmly. "My Dad...he isn't around...too busy with his research."

"And your mom?"

"She ran off. She was also a scientist but she got tired of my dad." He frowned. "I owe you an apology when I first saw you I thought you were a lot like him, obsessed with research and not much else."

"I can get that." Ash said. "Mom told me her mom was a lot like that, only focused on the family business. Grandma respects talent and ability, but I can tell things are tense between her and mom. My Mom wanted me to find my own path, she supported me."

"Must be nice."

"Hey, you aren't alone anymore. I got your back!" Ash told him.

They'd need it. Their next target was Quaking Earth Titan Iron Treads. It reminded Ash of a Donphan, this mon was a Ground/Steel type which it made Ash at a disadvantage. This Pokemon wasn't so much defeating it but distracting it long enough to get the herb. Mabosstiff and Fuecoco managed to slow it down enough to get off a Yawn and Fire Fang. It fell asleep and they got the heck out of dodge.

The Sour Herba Mystica was required. Arven made another sandwich and Ash studied the herb. It could be used for heal people when tired, physically or mentally exhausted could be treated.

Their last opponent was the False Dragon Titan a combination of Dondozo and Tatsugiri. Ash and Arven battled him together and were able to take the two down. Mareep evolved into Flaffy, it learned Cotton Guard as a new move and forgot Electro Ball for Thunder Punch.

Flaffy used Cotton Guard on Mabosstiff adding extra protection for him in the battle. Miraidon stepped up and joined the fray, helping Ash get the win. They gained the Spicy Herba Mystica. Arven made a sandwich and Mabosstiff fully recovered.

Ash studied the Spicy Herba Mystica, it boosted metabolism and circulation, helping flush out both toxins and sweat. Ketchum had found all the special herba mystica and began using it in his potion creation. Miradion recovered as well and even became one of Ash's battlers.

Arven was so happy with his best friend healed he got swept up in the moment and ended up kissing Ash. Both boys froze.

There were sparks the kiss was electric. It lasted a bit too long before Pepper pulled back. “I um...I...”

“Don’t...” Ash said, before kissing him again. Arven closed his eyes and kissed back. The two made out and nothing more, but something had ignited like chemistry.

-X-

Things continued with questions lingering in the air. With Mabosstiff recovered Arven got his grades up, able to focus and take battle class. Health Class had them both blushing as the nurse explained sex and the two felt thoughts stir.

Ash tried to focus on his research, he’d collected enough of the Herba Mystica to start.

He was looking to make a new line of medicine to help humans and pokemon grow. With the herba mystica he found the key. Ash mixed them all and with Flaffy’s power they were able to combine. He had enough of the herb to make two batches, one for a test the other for...well...

Ash took it himself. He transformed, his body evolved in a special way. His digestion would now break down all food like a pokemon and convert it to energy. The boy’s ass would now exist solely for mating. He now only needed four hours of sleep a day which could be broken up in four 1 hour naps or taken consecutively.

The boy's rod grew, from the 5.5 incher into a thick 11 inch beast. His balls swelled and gained plenty of juice, his libido was enhanced in more ways than one. Special nerve endings lined the walls of his ass, protecting him from tearing and enhancing anal pleasure. His body enhanced he got a bit taller, and his muscles enhanced so he had lean and deceptive muscles. The boy was already freakishly strong, but now he could use his strength consistently.

Ash graduated, he got his Ace Trainer License and permission to carry three additional Pokemon. It was time to head home.

Arven had almost forgotten Ash was a transfer student he wasn't from Paldea. 'He's leaving...' His heart ached. They spent so much time together. He tried to avoid the talk he was sure was coming.

"Dad...can we talk..." He tried to make contact with his father, but the man wasn't responding.

PLEASE LEAVE YOUR MESSAGE...

"Dad, I haven't heard from you in months, I get your research is important but so is your son. I can't...I can't stay here anymore. Mom left and you weren't there, you both left me alone. I met someone...he makes me feel...seen...alive...things...things I'm trying to understand. He's gonna be leaving soon, I know it and I don't want to say goodbye. I don't have anyone to talk to about these feelings, not my mom, not my dad, and that's not okay." He had Mabosstiff but he was on a roll. "You need to talk to me! Because if not, I'm leaving. I'm going to go to Kanto with Ash and become a trainer there. I want to go with him, I want to live my life." The machine beeped. He gripped the phone tears rolling down his cheeks.

There were messages, Arven reaching out again and again, but he never got a response. When Mabosstiff got hurt he called and begged and nothing. Even now...

He let tears shed one last time. "Bye dad..."

To be continued...Celebration and Departure

Ash gives Arven his special medicine and the two become super human. Arven reveals he wants to go with Ash to Kanto and the boy is gung ho about it. The two celebrate and really "cook" together
