

“Oh, honey, we both know you can’t resist my power over you.” You said to your partner, smirking as they tried to shut your voice out. “This is why we play this game. I tell you to try to resist. You say you will, and in the space of a minute I’ve got you right where I want you.”

You let the crystal from your hand. Keeping a careful watch on them, seeing the signs of them beginning to slip under. How they began to blink more. The way their eyes stopped darting. “That’s it. You keep on staring, and sinking, and drifting.” They looked so good like this.

Their eyes were particularly beautiful, as you kept on ferrying your words into their open mind. “As each moment takes you deeper. Each second pulls you further into my power. You don’t need to think. You just need to sink, and drift, and drop.”

Their lips were parted. Their breathing had elongated. Your smile grew. This was where you knew you had them. “Just focusing, shutting everything out but my voice, and the crystal. It’s so easy to give in. It feels so good. Just let your body relax, and your mind go quiet.”

Their eyelids were fluttering. And you took a step forward, still holding the crystal up, so they slowly pivoted their gaze upwards, to keep staring. They looked incredible in this moment. You could see their mind shutting down. “Good pet. Shutting down, as you drop.”

You let the crystal fall, and their gaze fell with it, before they sank into trance. You caught them, gently, hand on their shoulder, and set them back against the chair they were sat in. “That’s it. Sinking so deeply, so effortlessly. No resistance. Just my control.”
