Chapter Fifteen

Louise was panting, just having become stationary, I could feel her whole butt shake and wobble with each exaggerated breath. I watched the subtle ripples across her skin as Louise was coming down from her orgasm.

My cock flexed under her.

She let out a little yelp, before she moaned.

I flexed my dick again.

She moaned louder now, her body started to rock and move and the sensation of her ass enveloping most of my torso, it was incredible and it was clear now, more than ever, that I was desperately turned on by her form.

By her reactions, it seemed that she too was very turned on.

The camera was filled with her entire ass, just spread over half of my chest. It was massive and still barely covered by her suit. The vast swell of flesh that was bulging out of the gap in the fabric on her flanks was enticing to say the least but the central seam was still very much holding on to her enormity, even if the whole suit was creaking and I swear I could hear it giving way very slowly, yet I could not see an advance of flesh from the expanding rear that was most certainly still growing, being this close solidified that fact to me.

Seconds felt like eons, as I watched intently with each eon bringing another few centimetres of growth. The stationary growing woman started to move. Slow at first, she was gasping, trying to hold back moans, as was I.

Her giant cheeks were moving on my chest, the weight moving around my body was making it harder to breathe, but it was a price I was glad to pay, I just hoped it wouldn't ruin the scene.

Louise's movements, again, became more deliberate, they were showing just how much her butt could move on my body for the camera, it was like it was trying to swallow me whole. For the viewer, very likely an incredible image of her gigantic rear but in person, it was even better. My cock was getting more than enough friction now for me to be struggling to remain focused, based on her movements I would suggest the same was true for her. I could feel her body twinging and twitching as she moved on my body.

Yet still, she continued to move, her ass growing. It was harder to see when she was in movement but the noise that the costume she had on made was a reminder of that. Louise continued for a few minutes, we both were forgetting that we were still recording but the tension was reaching a fever pitch now.

I had involuntarily started thrusting my hips, just a tiny amount, feeling her body react to the subtle movement was very enjoyable and made me almost want to throw the camera away and fuck her right then and there on the floor.

I had a tiny bit more restraint than that, thankfully, as it didn't take too much more movement from Louise for her body to spasm again as she orgasmed on my clothed cock. The sudden movement of her body tightening up from the orgasm was followed by a slow rip.

I leaned back, trying to remain still so that she could come down from her orgasm, but it also allowed me to look for the rip. From this angle I couldn't see it, but there was a warmth that I could now feel under all of that weight.

Did it rip where I think it did?

Louise was curled over, it made her giant butt stretch the fabric out even more, the slow tearing sound filled my ears and the camera as she leaned forward, her butt being thrust out.

The camera beeped at me, I glanced at the screen and saw a warning message come up for the memory card being almost full. Not surprising but it meant that we were done filming.

Then the realisation hit.

We're done filming.

I powered it down and put it aside.

"Hey... The camera is full, that's all we're going to get for a minute... You okay?"

I waited for her to reply, but her heavy breathing is all I had in response.

I didn't dare touch her, still too nervous to do so, I waited for her to make the next move. That is when I saw the huge mass on my chest move. The weight being lifted off of me was a lot more freeing than I thought, I took a full deep breath now that I had free movement of my diaphragm.

A full pair of lungs wasn't going to last long though.

I gasped when I saw Louise stand.

I was right...

The tear I had heard earlier when she had orgasmed was now very clear. The seam had torn under her. I would've thought the rip would unleash her whole ass at once but the fabric, despite being a stretchy material, seemed to still hold its form even after the tear. The suit held her twin globes together and tightly, so it really made the look far more arousing, but the tear gave access to her very ready sex.

There were no words, there didn't need to be, she hovered above me and I knew I needed to release my precum soaked cock. It was fully erect and Louise looking down between her thick thighs she could see it was ready for her.

Her ass loomed closer to my face, and I felt her touch the base of my cock to help her guide it into her. I was very grateful that when she crashed her ass down on my chest once more, that she stopped. If she had moved straight away, I would've likely exploded because of how pent up I was. I think Louise knew that but also she was very much over sensitive down there from her two orgasms already.

"FFFFuck!" I gasped, holding onto the floor, my hips involuntarily pushed forward, and I buried my cock as deep into her as I could.

Louise gasped and moaned herself, still not speaking even though the camera had stopped rolling.

We both froze in time for a moment, I reached my hands out and rested my palms on each side of her huge and round cheeks, my hands were dwarfed by the size of her now. I pressed my hands into the firm expanses and gave a little thrust, signalling I was ready for all she was about to give me.

All the time at the gym had more than paid off, despite the obvious change in her centre of gravity, she was able to move herself in this position that was going to drive me absolutely wild.

Laid there, I watched her body lift her huge butt up and then in a controlled way, she was able to let it crash down on my chest. The weight was so much that I needed to brace myself, the thought process required not to get winded and manage that would help me last longer, which was a growing concern as I was far too turned on at this point, even though I never wanted this to end.

Louise's oversensitive pussy was rapidly approaching another orgasm of her own. The question on whether her ass being bigger caused more sensitivity for the bottom-heavy woman was no longer in question, especially after I gave her a firm spank, I thought she was going to cum.

The clap of her ass against my chest was loud; each one probably sounded a fraction of a decibel louder as I could feel the increased pressure still emitting from her cheeks.

“L-louise!” I yelled. “You’re... Huge!” I was too far gone to make that sound cool, but Louise moaned loudly in response, clearly aware that her ass was not only massive but still expanding over my body.

“The suit... It’s not going to last...”

This sent her into a frenzy, her rhythm increased and she doubled her efforts, my hands grabbed her hips, and I was thrusting into her from my position too.

There was an almighty scream that came from Louise. The sensation of her clamping down on my rigid cock made me tip over the edge. I tried to move but her kegal muscles were clamped so tight that I could no longer slide in or out at all.

I let out a huge grunt as I started to release a torrent of cum deep inside of her, that is when her suit tore down the back, the movements, the growth, it had all cumulated into this moment.

Me pumping her orgasming pussy full of cum, her ass bursting out of her suit, it made me cum even more.

The seam down the back tore halfway up rather quickly, the elasticated fibres snapping and allowing the fabric to spread, I watched as her ass came bursting into view. Her butt looked like it grew several inches in a second after the release from the very constrictive material.

I was spent, struggling to keep myself up, the only reason for me to do so now was to see how Louise’s suit was still slowly spreading as the seam continued to fail, higher and higher it spread revealing more of her massive ass.

It's still going...
