A character with dark skin, wearing a black, textured, form-fitting suit with orange accents on the forearms and a matching orange belt, is walking away from the viewer down a long, brightly lit corridor. The corridor has a blue and white checkered floor with yellow and black hazard stripes along the edges. The walls are white with some greenery in planters. The character is looking back over their shoulder.

A woman with long, wavy hair in shades of green and purple stands in a futuristic, industrial-style room. She is wearing a black, form-fitting, textured bodysuit with orange accents on the sleeves and a matching orange belt. She is also wearing tall, orange, high-heeled boots. Her right hand is on her hip, and her left arm is bent. A large, green speech bubble originates from her, containing text. The room features yellow walls, a yellow desk with a pink top, a small potted plant, and a large yellow structure with white and black patterns in the background. The floor is dark with yellow and blue lines.
