Hero of the Hour

Can anything beat flying through the sky, the wind whipping through your hair and your cape flapping in your wake?

Of course something can. And that's being the hero you were born to be!

And you were born to be a hero. Born in a tragic accident when you slipped and fell into that vat of molten metal that had been bombarded with gamma rays. All of which gave your skin the hardness of solid steel, your muscles the strength of firing pistons, and your body the ability to fire rays of heat from your hands! You can also fly for some reason, which you've never really figured out, but is pretty cool, you have to admit.

And as you soar over the great, shining spread of skyscrapers, bodegas, and tenement housing known as Megacity, you hear the distinct ring of an alarm.

Hero time!

You swerve off your flight path and soar down towards a small street in the Diamond District. The jewelry exchange! Of course. Now, what nefarious villain is causing trouble?

Aha! Your eyes spot a figure standing on the sidewalk and you recognize him instantly. It's Pistol Shrimp! You'd know that carapace, ten-gallon hat, and duster anywhere. Several police cars have been drawn up around the exchange's front, but the bullets fired by the officers just bounce off the thick, armoured carapace of the villain's body suit.

"Outta my way, coppers!" the fiend shouts, lifting his arm where his augmented shrimp cannon resides. But it's not delectable seafood he fires from that devastating limb, but a blast of water so strong it's like a laser cutter!

Police dive out of the way as the jet slices through a cruiser like it was made of butter, the vehicle detonating a moment later, smoke pluming into the air.

This looks like a job for you!

"Halt, fiend!" you shout, landing on the ground, one arm thrust forward. "Prepare to be pinched, Pistol Shrimp!"

"Aw fuck! What are you doing here, Foundry?" the villain snaps as he trundles about to face you, duster flapping in the wind.

"I heard the sound of evil being done, and have come to stop it," you declare, hands on your hips as you strike the hero's pose. "Now surrender! Or face the consequences."

"How about you go fuck yourself!"

You grimace. Bah. Villains today have no good quips. Just crassness. You'd expect better from a man in a power suit made to resemble a shellfish. But standards have been dropping across the board, you suppose.

Oh well.

You bring up your arms. "Then you leave me no choice but to defeat you!"

"If you can!" the villain chortles.

Clobber Him with Your Super Strength

“Very well, Pistol Shrimp,” you growl, crouching and bracing yourself with arms upraised. “You asked for it!”

“That’s my line!” the villain retorts, raising his claw-like cannon. He fires another lance of pressurized water, but you dodge the keening blast, kicking off the ground and charging him. Though you lack super speed, sheer strength sends you hurtling towards the villain, closing the distance in a matter of seconds.

Pistol Shrimp curses and tries to swing his cutting ray your way, but you easily evade it and are suddenly inside his guard. Pistol Shrimp abandons his cannon, his free arm rising with a whirr of servos, then comes down to try and crush you. You block his fist with your arm, your enhanced body taking the impact with ease.

Pistol Shrimp utters another oath not fit for print as he strains to crush you, but you merely laugh. “You cannot best me in a matter of strength, Pistol Shrimp. And now,” you growl, your free hand bunching into a fist, “face the iron hand of justice!”

You smash your fist into the villain’s chest, his armour crumpling from the blow. Pistol Shrimp buckles forward, machinery sparking and grinding as it breaks from the impact.

Releasing his arm, you plunge both your hands into his chest and tear it in twain with a mighty heave. His armour cracks open like a walnut, baring the scrawny man within, trapped in the now broken suit.

“There we are,” you say, releasing him and causing Pistol Shrimp to topple backwards with a bang, his suit sparking and whirring as it struggles to work despite its damage. “A peeled shrimp.”

“Go fuck yourself!” Pistol Shrimp snarls from below.

“Such vulgarity is very uncalled for,” you observe with disapproval. But even as you say this, you hear your earpiece crackle.

“Foundry, you finished down there?” a female voice asks.

You cock your head. Ah, if it isn’t Muse! Your trusty supporter. “More or less. What is it? Has another villain dared show their face in this fair city?”

There’s a pause as she seems to mull over the answer. “...Sort of. You’d better get back to headquarters. I need to... talk to you about something.”

You frown. Sounds serious, which means you can't waste a moment longer on this villain. Not that you need to. The police can take it from here. Gathering the strength in your legs, you leap into the air, willing yourself to take to the sky, and return to the Fortress of Justice!

Return to the Fortress

Blast Him with Your Heat Rays

You brace yourself, hands held at the ready, funneling heat from within your body to gather in your palms in a swirling mass of energy. “If you will not surrender, then it’s time for a good old fashioned shrimp barbeque!” you shout.

“Barbeque this!” Pistol Shrimp snaps, raising his arm, claw-like limb firing another jet of pressurized water.

Sounds like a good idea to you.

You thrust your arms towards the villain, letting loose the energy gathered in your palms. Twin rays of heat sear the air, meeting the water midair with a hiss and a flash of steam.

For a moment that stalemate holds. Then, your heat blast pushes forward and towards the villain.

You see Pistol Shrimp widen his stance, trying to channel more water your way, but it’s too little and far, far too late. Your heat rays hit his cannon, and it explodes with a boom, ripping apart the weapon and sending boiling water raining down around him.

“Fuck!” Pistol Shrimp swears, swinging his now smoking cannon with alarm.

“And there’s more where that came from, villain!” you declare, sending several more blasts of molten heat his way.

The rays hit his armour in key points, melting the joints and metal. Sparks and smoke explode from the areas, and Pistol Shrimp’s armour whines, dying with a low sound and sending the criminal to his knees.

You lower your hands, smirking in satisfaction as you survey your defeated foe. Another job well done. And just in time, as you hear your earpiece crackle.

“Foundry, you finished down there?” a female voice asks.

You cock your head. Ah, if it isn’t Muse! Your trusty supporter. “More or less. What is it? Has another villain dared show their face in this fair city?”

There’s a pause as she seems to mull over the answer. “Sort of. You’d better get back to headquarters. I need to... talk to you about something.”

You frown. Sounds serious, which means you can’t waste a moment longer on this villain. Not that you need to. The police can take it from here. Gathering the strength in your legs, you leap into the air, willing yourself to take to the sky, and return to the Fortress of Justice!

Use the Power of Dialogue to Talk Him Down

“Listen to me, Pistol Shrimp,” you say, holding out your hands to try and calm the supervillain. “You don’t need to do this! I’m sure you have your reasons. Feel you have cause to lash out against an uncaring society. To seek attention, maybe after your mother failed to offer you enough love. Or your father walked out on you because you were a mistake. Perhaps your peers bullied you for your horrible acne and inability to connect to them emotionally.”

“Acne!?” the villain sputters. “What the fuck are you-”

“But it doesn’t have to be this way,” you declare, taking a step forward. “You can still turn your life around. Through therapy, love, and a decent career, perhaps in the trades, you can be rehabilitated and rejoin society. Find the girlfriend you never knew. The love you always sought in the crack pipe or gangs of your youth. What I’m saying is,” you tell him, pressing your hands to your chest compassionately, “if you need a father figure to put you on the right path, you can call me daddy.”

For a moment Pistol Shrimp just stares at you. Maybe you got through to him after all.

“You motherfucker!” he screams, jabbing his cannon your way.

Well, you tried.

The villain fires his pressurized water laser. You brace yourself and take it right in the chest. Ouch! It’s strong, even against your ultrahard skin, but though likely giving you a devil of a bruise, it doesn’t slice you in half.

Instead, you march into it, one hand moving to intercept the spray, letting it splash against your open palm as you close the distance with every forceful step.

As you draw near the villain retreats in shock, his boots banging on the pavement. But before he can do more you’ve reached him. Your mighty hand grabs his cannon and squeezes, crushing it with a shriek of metal and explosion of components.

“H-hey! Hold on!” Pistol Shrimp yelps.

“If you will not talk to me, then you can talk to a judge!” you declare, draw back your other arm and punch him with all the force of a steel piledriver.

Metal crumples around the blow, and Pistol Shrimp goes flying backwards. He slams into the wall of the diamond exchange, the brickwork buckling from the impact. Sparks explode from his armour, which is bent around the outline of your fist.

With a mechanical groan the villain topples, slamming into the pavement hard. You straighten, shaking your hand and head in pity. Poor soul. But perhaps this is for the best. He'll get the help he needs in jail. And maybe, once he's out, he can still find it in himself to call you dad.

The crackle of your earpiece distracts you from your thoughts of inner-city violence. "Foundry, you finished down there?" a female voice asks.

You cock your head. Ah, if it isn't Muse! Your trusty supporter. "More or less. What is it? Has another villain dared show their face in this fair city?"

You frown. Sounds serious, which means you can't waste a moment longer on this villain. Not that you need to. The police can take it from here. Gathering the strength in your legs, you leap into the air, willing yourself to take to the sky, and return to the Fortress of Justice!

Return to the Fortress

Return to the Fortress

The miles of city flash by beneath you as you soar back towards the Fortress of Justice. In short order you see that pillar of heroism on the horizon. A vast, sprawling building taking up some seriously valuable real estate in the middle of Megacity. But then, why wouldn't it? After all, it's where all the local heroes operate from, speeding across the city to defend it against the many evildoers unleashing their criminality upon the helpless citizenry. Just the thought boils your blood.

You descend towards the gleaming roof of the Fortress, part of which slides back, admitting you inside. You land in a large chamber dominated by monitors on seemingly every wall, screens flickering with images about the city. Security cameras trained on battles other heroes are having with villains, much like you did. For this is the heart of the Fortress of Justice. From here your great city can be surveyed and heroes can respond to any emergency.

And here awaits the eyes which watch it all.

Muse sits in a chair suspended in the air by a metal arm curving from the ceiling. The whole mechanism whirrs as it lifts and lowers her to screens and systems, which she works at for a few moments before shifting to another.

The moment you land however the vast chair turns about, revealing the beautiful woman within. Muse is maybe in her early twenties, and is dressed in a white lab coat left open at the front. Beneath that she wears little more than a tight t-shirt that pulls against her ample chest, and below that is an almost scandalously short miniskirt. Her hair is soft, full, and a mussy gold, while a pair of glasses shade her eyes, which are themselves screens that run with additional data.

"Foundry!" she says as the chair lowers itself to the floor, bringing her level with you. She flicks off her glasses and puts them aside, giving you the full benefit of her undistracted gaze. "Glad you're here. Excellent work on Pistol Shrimp, by the way. The police have already secured him and are returning him to prison. Where he belongs."

"Thank you, Muse," you say. "It's always my pleasure to be a hero!"

"Right. About that," she says uneasily. "There's been some... chatter."

"Chatter?" you ask, instantly on guard. "It's not that fiendish Noise Complaint using sonic waves to rob the museum, is it?"

"Uh, no," Muse murmurs, squirming in her chair. "It's uh... something else."

“What?”

“So... you remember how I hacked into that dark web forum for villains?”

“Badguy.net. Of course! A true coup worthy of our brilliant mastermind!”

She blushes hotly, which is interesting. She seems largely aloof with other heroes, but often seeks you out and gives great stock to your compliments. Which just shows what respect you both have for each other. “Thanks,” she says, failing to meet your eyes as she tucks some hair behind her ear. “Wasn’t anything that big...”

“Did you find something of interest?” you ask.

“You... could say that.” Her chair swivels and Muse taps a few keys on the main console. “You’ve been featured pretty... extensively lately.”

“Really?” you ask with interest. “Villains quaking in fear, no doubt.”

“Not... exactly. More like, uh, drooling.”

Your brow knits in confusion. “Drooling?”

Muse clears her throat and hits one more key, causing the main screen to flash to a forum homepage.

You look at it.

Stare.

Your jaw slowly falls slack as your eyes run over the subjects of the posts, each more lurid than the last. You feel your face heating. “What... what is this?” you demand in confusion.

Muse coughs. “It seems like someone has been spreading some, um, rumours about you,” she says. “It’s looking like a bunch of villainesses have gotten... uh... the hots for you and aren’t being shy about expressing it.”

“W-why? I want to take down those miscreants! Not to... to do such... such things to them.” You peer again at the screen. “Especially that one! I don’t think it’s even physically possible.”

"I know that," Muse complains, pouting a bit. "But they don't seem to agree. A bunch of them have even formed a bit of a villain group. And are, well, looking into ways of making something happen. Or buy the stuff to do it."

"Something? What thing? What do you mean?" you demand incredulously.

Muse squirms. "I haven't nailed who started it, but the group calls themselves the Sirens. They seem to be running something of a bet as to who can get you, uh, randy for them. Brainwashing. Pheromones. That kind of thing. Put you into a state where you won't be able to help but, you know..."

You watch in horror as Muse thrusts an index finger into a ring made with her other hand. "But... but that's crazy," you protest. "Why would they want that?"

"I mean..." Muse gestures at you demonstratively.

You look down at yourself. True, you've always been in peak physical condition, and your costume has always played to that fact. But just the thought of a bunch of homicidal villainesses out for you? Looking to brainwash you or turn you into nothing more than a horny stud looking to fuck? It's... well...

Okay, maybe some dark part of you does find it quite hot. But still! You're a hero! You can't go around defeating villainesses just to fuck them. That'd be wrong! Not to mention tank all your sponsorships.

"They cannot be permitted to do this," you declare forcefully. "I must stop this before they besmirch my good name!"

"And turn you into a horny stud," Muse adds.

"Right, yes. That too. This cannot stand!" you declare, slamming your fist into your open palm. "I will put an end to this once and for all!"

"Right, yeah. Totally. But uh, before you do that," Muse adds, blushing as she runs a hand through her hair. "Maybe we can take some early... um... preventative measures. You know?"

"Measures?" you ask blankly. "Like a super suppression helmet of some kind?"

"Uh, I was thinking get you a bit calmer first. You know. Build up your resistance."

"How would we do that?" you ask blankly.

Muse clears her throat and shrugs her lab coat a bit more off, exposing her tight shirt and the suggestion of full, plump breasts under it.

"O-oh," you say.

"Just a thought," Muse says, cupping her breasts and shyly lifting them.

Refuse Muse's Help

"I appreciate the offer, Muse," you say gallantly. "But I cannot take advantage of you like that. It wouldn't be heroic of me!"

"Oh," she says, her face falling into a pout again. "Yeah. I guess so..."

"Excellent. Then-"

The wail of a siren has you whirl about and look at the screens, which flash red with alarms. "What is it?" you demand.

Muse has instantly swivelled back around to face the monitors, her fingers dancing over the keys. "It's Megacity's First National Bank. It's being robbed!"

"Fiends!" you bellow. "Robbing our hardworking citizens for their own gain? Well, not for long! For I am on my way!" you shout, instantly taking flight. Shutters whirr open in the ceiling, and then you're on your way, soaring across the city. For you are Foundry! And no villain will steal from your fair city while you can stop it!

Have Muse Get You Off with Her Breasts

You find your eyes wandering down to her plump chest. Well... if she was offering, wouldn't it be rude to refuse? And she does have a point. If there are villains out there looking to exploit some sort of... sick psychosexual influence to try and manipulate your mind, it behooves you to do whatever you can to defend against it.

"I suppose you have a point," you say.

Muse smiles, reaching down and hefting her chest. "You think so?"

You nod, licking your lips a little. "Yes," you husk. "I think you have the right idea. For justice of course."

She nods eagerly. "Yeah. Of course. Tooootally."

"And we're not getting too deep into... well, you know. Just something to take the edge off."

"You mean with my breasts?"

"Er, yes. That's right."

"Understood," she says, smiling as she rises from the chair. "Sit down and we can get started."

You do so, unsure but game for whatever is about to happen. Settling into her now vacant chair, you notice how comfortably plush it is. Which makes sense. After all, if you had to spend much of your day confined to a chair watching screens, you'd have made damn sure it was comfortable as well. In fact, is this thing heated?

Your curiosity about your seat is abruptly curtailed by what's happening in front of you as Muse shrugs off her lab coat, letting it fall to the floor in a flutter of fabric. Your eyes widen as she grabs the hem of her shirt and pulls it off, the fabric sliding up her trim belly, up higher until it catches on the globes of her breasts. Your jaw actually drops as it comes free, pulled up, off, and then cast aside, revealing the cradling white of her bra, the cups straining against the plump, pillowy heft of her breasts.

"Do you like them?" Muse asks softly, her fingers playing with the clasp at the front.

"Very much so," you say hotly.

"I noticed," she giggles, glancing down at the unmistakable bulge in your costume.

You clear your throat, flushing a little. "Ah, well, that is..."

"I don't mind, Foundry," she says, slowly getting down in front of you, her eyes glued to your crotch. "This is what I wanted. Remember?"

Your breath catches as she reaches out, delicately releasing the hidden catches that holds your costume together. The fabric parts, and the full heft of your cock fairly springs into the open, causing you to grunt.

"Oh wow," Muse gasps, staring. "You really are mighty. Those pics from the camera I put in your changing room didn't do it justice."

"Sorry, what camera?" you ask.

Muse gives you a startled look. "Uh, nothing."

"Because it sounded like yoooooh!" you groan as Muse suddenly leans forward, wrapping her breasts around your cock, squeezing your hot length in the wonderfully soft valley of her titflesh.

"Better get started, Foundry. No time to waste," Muse says quickly as one of her hands reaches into her pocket, coming out with what looks like a bottle of oil. She dribbles some onto your cock, the slickness making you gasp as it slides between her breasts, lubing your shaft gloriously.

"G-great Scott, Muse. That's... that's goooood!"

"Thanks," she says, putting aside the bottle and returning her hands to her breasts. "I came prepared."

"A good... good quality in a h-hero," you manage as she begins to bounce her breasts, your cock sliding between them with a wet schlicking sound. You groan, biting your lower lip, tensing in ecstasy as she does her work. Fuck. Oh fuuuuuck that feels incredible. Her breasts are smooth and warm. Soft and tender, and the sight of the head of your cock peeking free with every downward stroke, so near her intent face is unbelievably arousing. It's almost too much to bear.

But you try. Heavens but you try. You don't want to cum just like that. You have to have some self-control, blast it. If a bunch of crazed villainesses are out to brainwash you, then resisting their feminine wiles may be your only hope. You grasp the arms of the chair, panting but doing your damndest to hold back your orgasm. Even as her bouncing breasts bring you closer.

Closer.

Closer to that glorious peak. Dear heaven, it's all you can do not to blow your load onto her bobbing face right there!

"You're so pent up," Muse says, the heat of her breath tickling the tip of your cock. "Good thing we're doing this. If we didn't, the first villainess would have you wrapped around her finger before you knew what hit you."

You want to deny it, but it's taking all you have not to cum right there. Only a groan escapes you.

"You can cum, Foundry," Muse pants. "Just let it out. Let it all out for me. Cum all over my big tits. I want it, Foundry. I want it so bad. Don't hold back. C'mon. Cum on..."

"M-Muse. I... I... Mnnnn!"

With that final groan you give in. With a shudder of pure ecstasy your body tightens, your balls throbbing as you surrender your load. Cum fairly gushes from your cock, arching into the air before coming back down, splattering onto Muse's breasts and her face.

The heroine moans, her eyes lidded, almost rapturous, which you'd be surprised at if you weren't currently sagging in the chair, panting hot and heavily with orgasmic relief and satisfaction.

Even when you start to recover you find that words fail you, for as Muse lifts her breasts off your crotch, she bends her head and begins to lick up your spilt seed.

"W-wow," is all you can think to say. "That..."

The sudden clarion whoop of alarms and flash of red lights jerks you from your post-orgasmic bliss and you sit up sharply. "What? What is it?"

Muse is instantly at her computer, her fingers dancing over the keys. She curses. "It's Megacity's First National Bank. It's being robbed!"

"It is?" you gasp, bolting out of the chair and hastily doing up your costume. "W-well, not for long! For I am on my way!" you shout, immediately taking flight. Shutters whirr open in the ceiling, and then you're on your way, soaring across the city. For you are Foundry! And no villain will steal from your city while you can stop it!

Mesmera

Fuck Muse on the Console

You lick your lips as your eyes run over her gorgeous figure. You can't lie and say you haven't thought about the prospect. And the fact that she's offering it so brazenly can't be denied. Well, it could, but she also makes a solid point. Are you really ready to go in to fight unprepared against a swarm of malefic maidens looking to turn you to evil with their feminine wiles? Can you justify going into that aroused? Possibly opening yourself up to their dark influence?

Nay, you say. Heroism would not allow it!

"Muse, I will gratefully take you up on that offer," you declare. "For the good of the world!"

"Yeah. Sure. Totally," Muse says. "Where um..."

"Sit on the console," you instruct.

She bounces out of her chair and eagerly steps up to the computer system. "Like... this?" she asks, suggestively leaning against it, legs crossed and chest thrust out.

"Perfect," you say, voice hoarse and thick as your eyes devour her figure, offered up to you like some feast of carnal desire. And hero though you may be, you are also human, and the sight of her lush, curvy body is having a very notable effect on you. Clearly, you did indeed need this. The consequences of facing off against those villainesses while so pent up could have been disastrous!

That in mind you approach her, your hands moving to grasp her hips. Muse leans into your touch, wantonly pushing her chest up against yours, the soft warmth of her breasts tangible even through your costume. You try and suppress the almost animal growl that rises in you, but when her fingers find the bulge of your manhood and give it a lazy stroke you can't resist a throaty grunt.

"Wow," she murmurs as her fingers run up and down the outline of your manhood. "Foundry. You're um... big."

"Too big?" you ask her.

She blushes. "No. Not at all."

"Good," you say, leaning in and kissing her.

Muse whimpers, melting to your lips as hers part, allowing your tongue to push into her mouth, wrestling with her own. You push forward bodily, one arm grasping her thigh, her rump eased further onto the console. Your free hand grabs the hem of her mini skirt and pushes it up, revealing the rich curve of her ass and the flushed pink of her thighs. You feel a quiver of desire course through her as you palm her mound through her panties, feeling the heat of her desire and the growing dampness of the fabric. She really wants it. Which is good, because at this point, you don't know if you could stop from giving it to her.

Your fingers hook in the band and pull. Muse whimpers as her panties are tugged away, revealing the tender slit of her pussy.

Even as you do this, her hands are busy, though a bit more fumbling. Nonetheless, the woman who designed your suit knows its ins and outs well, and within a moment the front of it slides open, and the full, hard girth of your manhood falls into her hands.

"Oh," Muse moans into your mouth as her fingers admiringly glide up and down your shaft. "Oh..."

"Ready for you," you grunt between kisses.

"Give it to me," she breathes.

And you do.

Gladly.

You push forward, her hand helping guide you to the tender folds of her pussy. You ease into her, and a throaty moan from your gorgeous lover is your reward. Well, that and the silky tightness of her depths as her sleek inner walls tighten reflexively around you.

"Ohhhhhh!" Muse moans, quivering as she hugs you tight as if to force even more of you into her, her legs wrapping around your waist. Squeezing you. "Oh F-Foundry, that's... that's so goooood!"

"And just... the start," you grunt as you draw back, then thrust forward.

The impact rocks her, and Muse cries out, a sound of such exquisite pleasure you can't help but go again. Again. Increasing your pace with vigour and desire as she gasps and moans and flexes around you with every thrust.

"Ah! Ahn! Yes! Yes!" Muse cries in absolute pleasure. "More! More! Oh fffffuck! Foundry! Fuck me! Fuck me haaaard!"

You accommodate. It's not hard. In fact, the only thing that is hard (aside from... you know) is holding back your super strength as you rut her onto the console, a few screens flashing as her plump rear rubs against keys and buttons. Which might not be good for the system, but you know for damn sure you can't stop now. She's just so soft.

So gorgeous.

So wonderfully, perfectly, achingly fucking tiiiiight!

Nonetheless, you do your best. Try to resist giving in to her soft body as she grinds against you. Begging you to go harder. Deeper. More and more! But as you pump into her, you know it's inevitable. That you won't be able to resist her perfect body forever.

A fact which becomes all the more apparent when, with a shudder of raw pleasure, Muse's voice rises in a wail of ecstasy. Her pussy squeezing your cock, and she cums with your name on her lips, the sound ringing in the room.

The sudden tightness overwhelms your waning self-control. The feel of her orgasm is too much, and hurls you over the edge with her. You let out a groan of pure pleasure, your every muscle tightening deliciously as you thrust into her a final time, cumming in a glorious spasm of pleasure. Your balls tighten, your cock throbs, and you unload the full weight of your seed into your curvy lover.

"Mnnn!" Muse groans, her eyes positively rolling back as you stuff her nearly to the brim, her mouth open in a groan of bliss. For a time you remain like that, joined together, filling her. But finally, inevitably, you reluctantly pull back and out of her.

"That was... quite something," you gasp.

"Y-yeah," Muse sighs happily, her eyes lidded with sated pleasure, a smile hovering on her lips. "Wonderful..."

You feel a flush of pride and hastily clear your throat. "Well uh, Muse. Thank you for this. That was--"

The sudden clarion whoop of alarms and flash of red lights jolts you back to alertness and you look around sharply. "What? What is it?"

Muse growls in annoyance, and the rage on her face momentarily shocks you before she rolls over and taps some keys. She glares at several screens and curses. "It's Megacity's First National Bank. It's being robbed!"

"What?" you gasp, trying not to stare at Muse's rump in that rather suggestive position. Instead, you hastily do up your costume. "Well, not for long! No vile villain will rob the fine, hardworking citizens of Megacity of their money! For I'm on my way!" you declare, immediately taking flight. Shutters whirr open in the ceiling, and then you're out in the sky, soaring across the city. For you are Foundry! And no villain will steal from your city while you can stop it!

You soar down to the bank in question, landing on the sidewalk in front of it. The alarm is still blaring but no police have shown yet. Odd, but not unusual. You do move fast, as a hero should. Besides, it's good there's no cops. Ordinary police must handle the more common issues of burglars and traffic citations. Super crime is best dealt with by superheroes!

That in mind, you step forward and burst through the bank doors. "Never fear, good citizens! For Foundry is... here...?"

You trail off in amazement at what you see. You expected to burst in to a hostage situation of some kind, but it's quite the opposite. Tellers, patrons, and even a few security guards are laughing and throwing mass of bills at one another like they're having a snowball fight. Not far, you also spot some people dancing the cancan.

It's... strange. To say the least.

And also clearly the work of a villainess of some sort. The who is answered a moment later as more cheers and singing reaches you from the open vault.

A crowd of patrons emerge, many hefting massive sacks of money, the rest looking upward rapturously, carrying a woman like she was some goddess come to earth. You recognize her in an instant and feel your every muscle tighten with alarm. Only one villainess wears such skin tight black fabric that swirls with hues of colour like a lava lamp bodysuit, stretching over jaw dropping curves of plump hips, large breasts, and a narrow waist. Her purple hair bounces about her head, and a domino mask frames eyes that glow with a violet light, as mesmerising as they are dangerous.

“Mesmera,” you growl, dropping into a fighting stance.

“Well well!” the villainess giggles, sitting up eagerly as she takes you in. “If it isn’t the fiery Foundry! You were quick.”

“Quick enough to mete out justice to you, villainess!” you shout and gesture at the partying patrons. “Release these people from your mental control and give yourself up at once!”

“Aw, now why would I do that?” she asks playfully as her bearers lower her to the ground like a parade of religious fanatics handling their idol. Several actually crouch down, allowing her to use their bodies as steps, which must have hurt like hell with heels like hers. Mesmera gestures playfully at them. “Can’t you see that they’re so much happier being my obedient love slaves? You should try it,” she says, casting a suggestive look your way, her eyes swirling with power. “It’ll feel soooo goood.”

You quickly look away from the villainess. If you recall from your mission briefings, Mesmera’s powers are tied to her eyes. If she can make eye contact, she quickly entrances her victims in a spell of helpless affection, turning them into her worshipping slaves. And the longer her control remains, the harder it is to break.

“Never, villainess!” you declare roughly, only daring to look at her from the corner of your eye. “Now surrender! Or you will face the full force of justice!”

“I cooould do that,” the menacing mesmerist giggles, petting a couple security guards like they were her adoring pet dogs. “But what if I made you a deal instead?”

“What kind of deal?” you growl.

“How about we trade. I’ll release all these nice people, if you offer yourself up to me instead.”

“What!” you sputter.

“Come on,” she says, grinning slyly at you, her eyes spinning faster with her power. “It’s what a hero would do.”

You hesitate, because she does have a point. What kind of hero wouldn't offer themselves up as a hostage to spare civilians the depredations of a nefarious woman like Mesmera? But if you did, then who could say what greater damage she could do with you until, inevitably, some other hero comes along and defeats her, freeing you from her control? It's a tough call, but one only you can make.

Refuse the Dastardly Deal

Refuse the Dastardly Deal

Though the thought of leaving these poor people in Mesmera's influence any longer than absolutely necessary disgusts you, neither can you allow her to use you for some no doubt nefarious purpose.

"No deal!" you declare. "You'll not force such a choice on me, villainess. You're coming with me to prison whether you like it or not!"

"Ha! We'll see about that." Mesmera raises her hand and points imperiously at you, her eyes glowing hot. "Seize him, my lovelies! Bring him to his knees!"

Instantly the mood of the crowd changes from jubilation to savagery. With an almost feral sound of fury the patrons of the bank rush you in a mob.

Blast Away with Your Heat Powers

Blast Away with Your Heat Powers

You most certainly will not! You could hurt some of these poor people if you did that. And a hero would never hurt innocent bystanders, even if they are being controlled by a villainess.

Fine. Use Your Super Strength

Then Fly, Mister Moral Hero

Push Through with Your Super Strength

You rush forward, but the crowd meets you, slamming into you like a team of football players. Though individually not a one of them could match you in a contest of strength, their sheer numbers drag at you, their hands clutching at your costume and cape. Worse, you don't dare be too rough with them lest you accidentally hurt them. You try and shake them off, but they're as tenacious as a terrier with a rat, some even biting you, their weight beginning to tell as you're forced to walk at barely a crawl.

And still more cling to you. You shake off a few or toss them aside, only for another to take their place, piling on you. Dammit! Worse, you lost track of Mesmera in the sudden scrum. Did she run for it? You try and peer past the mind-controlled civilians for the insidious temptress.

And find yourself looking directly into her eyes.

You freeze, startled, Mesmera's eyes an inch from yours, the buxom villainess having secretly slipped among the civilians in front of you, using them as a screen to get close. She smirks, her lips almost touching yours.

"Miiiiine," she says in a teasing singsong.

You stare, and not even your incredible strength is able to break your gaze from those swirling violets. Your arms slowly stop pulling people off you. Your steps drag to a halt.

"That's iiiiiit," Mesmera coos, reaching out and cupping your face, her smirk widening in terrible triumph. "Just. Like. That. Good heroes give in sooooo quickly, huh?"

Your mouth opens. "I..."

"Ah ah!" she chides, her eyes flashing. "No talky walky! Now it's time to listen wissen."

Your mouth closes.

Mesmera giggles with delight. "Oooh, this is so fun! Okay, chewtoys! You can get off him."

Hands release you and bodies fall free, but you barely notice. The whole of your existence feels captivated by the swirling purples of the villainess's eyes. Like whirlpools sucking down every thought that dares pop into your head, instead instantly lost and leaving you utterly empty.

“Mmm. There you go. Tell me something, hero,” Mesmera coos. “Do you find me sexy? Be honest now.”

“Yes...” you admit.

She claps her hands in girlish glee. “Hehe! Really? Gosh! Isn’t that wonderful? And would you like to fuck me?” she asks, her hands gliding over her psychedelic costume, the colours swirling around her plump breasts and skintight figure. “Would you like to bend me over and just pound me raw with that big, mighty cock of yours?”

“Yes,” you admit, the confession coming easily, your body growing warm as your moral guardrails break down, leaving only pure animal instinct.

“Well golly!” Mesmera giggles. “If you did that, I bet my control would get even stronger. I bet you’d be even more under my sway. Under my control. I bet you’d do even naughtier things for me, like help me rob this bank and get away, huh? Would you like to do that? Would you like to pound my sexy pussy and then help me rob this bank?”

“Yes,” you say dumbly, barely paying attention to anything past the prospect of fucking her. She’s so beautiful. So gorgeous. Your cock is absolutely straining your costume, throbbing with need to fill this coy little bitch swaying in front of you.

“Ooooh! How naughty! Well, you talked me into it, hot stuff,” Mesmera giggles, pushing her ass back onto a teller’s counter, opening her arms with a blissfully manic and horny smile. “Fuck me, hero!”

“Yes,” you say, and even that monosyllable of a reply is almost more than you can manage as you move towards the villainess. As you do, your hand reaches down and releases the special catches on your costume, freeing the turgid, hot thickness of your cock. At the sight of your girth, Mesmera’s eyes sparkle and her face becomes absolutely gleeful.

“Oh fuuuuck,” she breathes, wriggling in excitement as she eagerly rubs herself through her costume. “That’s so good. Come on, big guy. Right here. Stuff me full of that!”

Her command rings in your head as she eagerly undoes the front of her costume, the strange dark fabric parting seamlessly, revealing the delicate pink furrow of her pussy. You say nothing. Words are meaningless. Only her commands exist. Only obedience matters. You must obey Mistress Mesmera.

You reach her, your powerful hands moving over her luscious figure, fingers cupping the heaving orbs of her breasts. Mesmera coos in delight as you gently massage them, the softness and heft of her tits incredible. Enthralling. You can’t seem to stop squeezing and bouncing them.

“Mmmm. Like those, huh? Everyone does! Almost as much as my eyes,” Mesmera giggles as she reaches out, wrapping her arms around your head and drawing you close. “Now pucker up, hero boy.”

Her lips meet yours, and you moan in pleasure as pure, purple pleasure explodes in your mind. Your lips tingle against hers, her lipstick tasting of strawberries, a taste that thrums through your body and vibrates in your core. Fuck. Oh fuuuuuck that’s good.

Mesmera seems to agree, the villainess moaning wantonly as her legs wrap around you, pulling you against her. You groan as you grind your manhood against the velvety folds of her pussy, your head thudding with lust, pulse hammering with desire.

“Fuck me,” she pants, her lidded eyes still gazing into yours. “Fuck me, hero! Be mine. Be all fucking mine!”

With how desperately aroused you are, you’re not sure you’d be able to resist even if your mind was still your own. And as things stand now?

Well, no contest there.

You seize her hips and lift her bodily, earning you a startled gasp, then a groan as you push the throbbing head of your cock against her entrance. Looking up into her eyes, her hands resting on your shoulders, you stare into the swirling purples, drowning yourself in their addictive glow.

Then you push her down, and your cock up.

“Ohhhhhh!” Mesmera moans, shuddering as your manhood fills her in a single stroke. You groan with her, jaw tightening in pleasure as her hot, tight inner walls seize at your shaft. She pants as you start to bounce her, thrusting up into her, fucking that gorgeous, sadistic villainess. Her hands clutch at your back, her breasts almost shoved into your face as you plow her, bouncing her on your cock, fucking her against the teller’s booth.

“Yes!” Mesmera gasps. “Oh f-fuck yes! Deeper. Deeper! Mnnnn! So... so big. So fffffffucking big! Yes. Yes! Everyone... everyone in the group is gonna be so... soooo jealous! Ah! Fuuuck!”

You barely listen. Your whole being is focused only on fucking her. On giving her as much of your cock as you can. On mating this incredible beauty as she clings and writhes atop your cock, impaled on your virile length as you rut into her with ever growing urgency.

You can feel her getting close. So are you. The heat of your mating almost overwhelming you. Surging up in you. You pant, gripping her tight, driving her down onto your cock with growing urgency and power. Closer. Closer. Closer!

“Yessssss!” Mesmera screams, a halo of psychic power crawling around her, buzzing in her hair like purple lighting as her lips part and eyes blaze with euphoric delight. The burst of her orgasmic psychic power slams into you like a freight train. You jolt, and between that and the sudden tightening of her velvet pussy, you’re done.

“Ohhhh!” you groan, slamming up into her a final time, your balls tightening, your powerful form flexing as you cum, your cock throbbing, pulsing, unloading the mighty heat of your heroic seed into the villainess’s curvy frame.

The orgasm seems to empty you of thought. Draining you even more as you breathe hard and slow, gently lowering Mesmera so her face is level with yours, your cock still buried in her pussy.

“Ohhhh fuck,” the villainess moans, smiling euphorically as she looks into your eyes. “That... that was amazing!”

“Yes,” you agree, short and simply. “Good.”

She giggles and pats your cheek. “Sure was. Now, you remember your promise? To be an obedient minion to your sexy mistress if I let you cum?”

“Yes,” you say, not actually remembering that agreement. Or anything else for that matter. But none of it is important. Mistress is talking.

And it’s so good to obey the mistress...

Take Flight and Attack from the Sky

You tense as the crowd swarms you, but before they reach you, your powers lift you into the air. Hands clutch at your feet, but already you're out of their range. Mesmera looks up in alarm as you float above her, and with a force of your will, you hurtle towards her.

The psychic beauty yelps and tries to scramble away from your grasp, but you crash into her, seizing her in your powerful hands. She squeals and tries to struggle free, but though her mental powers are mighty, her physical ones are that of a twenty something woman who's never had to fight a day in her life.

You carry her into the air with you, keeping her and her mesmerising gaze facing away. "Now release these poor citizens from your control!" you order.

"Or what?" she demands haughtily. "You're gonna kill me? Ha! Not likely, hero!"

"I won't kill you," you say, feeling her relax smugly. "But," you add, and smirk as you feel her tense up again, "the only other way to release them is for you to lose consciousness. And I am willing to make that happen if you don't cooperate."

"You... you wouldn't!" she squeaks.

You give her a firm squeeze. "Try me," you growl.

You see her hesitate, then feel her slump in your arms. "Oh... fine," she grumbles, and you feel the subtle static of her psychic powers fade from her skin.

Instantly, the people below you stop trying to grab your legs, the purple light fading from their eyes. They lower their arms, looking at each other in stunned uncertainty, and you let out a relieved sigh.

"Good people!" you declare, descending back to the floor, one hand covering Mesmera's eyes. "You are freed from the control of this vile villainess! Rejoice!"

There's some cheering at that, though you notice it's a little muted from what you'd expect. Nonetheless you don't let it bother you, and snag a scarf from a woman before blindfolding Mesmera with it, ensuring she can't enthrall anyone else.

"Good job, Foundry," Muse says through your communicator.

"Thank you, Muse," you reply as you push Mesmera out of the bank, a number of police cruisers finally pulling up. "Where were you, by the way?"

"It's insanity over here, Foundry," she says, exasperation making her voice rough. "We've got super crimes happening all over the damn city! I'm scrambling every hero we've got, but I need you over at the Megacity Museum asap. The burglar alarm just went off and all the cameras cut out a minute go."

"The museum? Great Scott!" you exclaim in sudden shocked realization. "The Pink Cow Diamond is on display! Such a treasured heirloom of the Sheikh of Arazzan was entrusted to us. We cannot let some foul miscreant seize it! Don't worry, Muse," you say as you shove Mesmera into the bewildered hands of the police. "I'm on my way!"

"Hurry, Foundry!" Muse says. "I need you elsewhere as soon as you can. The whole fucking city is going insane right now!"

"The foul language is not necessary, Muse. For never fear! I'll get there at the speed of justice!" you declare, thrusting your fist into the sky as you take flight once more, soaring off to save the day once again.

Give Yourself Up

Though the idea is abhorrent, you cannot allow this sadist to continue to further victimize the citizens of your fair city. And besides, she's bound to be quickly dealt with by some of your fellow heroes before she can sink her mesmeric tentacles too deep into your mind. The average villain is only free for about thirty minutes after committing a crime.

"Fine, you malevolent mesmerist," you growl, hands tight fists at your side. "I will submit to your whims, for now."

"Ooooh! I just love that word," Mesmera giggles, kicking her feet impishly as she wriggles with pleasure. "Submit. It's sooo sexy to hear you say it, hot stuff. Gets me even friskier! Now, come here, baby. Let momma make that magic happen!"

"Release your hostages first," you demand.

"Nuh uh," Mesmera coos, wagging a finger your way. "I know how this works. I agree, release them, and then you double cross me. You come here, get down on your knees, and let me do my thing. Then I'll release them."

Damn her! But you have no choice. Reluctantly you obey, stepping up before the haughty minx, and though it pains your heroic soul to do it, you slowly get down on your knees before her.

Mesmera positively soaks in the moment, her cat-like grin dimpling her cheeks. You swear, the shudder that visibly goes through her makes you wonder if she orgasmed at just the sight of you humbling yourself before her.

"Mmm. Now that's how it's done!" she giggles, reaching out and cupping your face, turning you towards her. "Now, look at me, baby. And let's make you all miiiiine."

A shiver of something works through you. Disgust, no doubt. Certainly not some shameful lust that races through your veins before the swirling violet of her eyes capture your attention.

Your sight.

And... and...

...everything...

You feel your jaw go slowly slack. Your eyes widen as you gaze into the psionic swirls of her eyes. You feel the pulse of her influence snake into your mind. Violet tendrils that wrap around your thoughts. Squeezing them. Massaging them into indistinct puffs, soon to be sucked away into the whirlpools of her gaze.

"Aaaaaall miiiiine," Mesmera giggles in wicked glee.

"Youuuuuurs," you hear yourself say, and think nothing of the fact you did. Not a thought enters your head. As if Mesmera took a spoon and scooped it empty. You only know you have to watch.

Have to obey.

Obey the gorgeous Mesmera.

And it's strange. As you stare into her eyes, your mind as empty as a bucket with a hole in it, your other brain functions begin to assert themselves. And with an unspeakably gorgeous woman right in front of you, her skintight outfit swirling with patterns like Freud's favourite Rorschach test, it's no wonder your libido is leading the charge. Your pulse quickens from the dazed sluggishness of before. Your cock throbs, stretching the restricting fabric of your costume. But you don't act on it. No no no. Not without the mistress's okay.

Not without Mesmera's command.

"You gonna be a good boy for me, baby?" Mesmera asks you teasingly.

"Yes," you drone.

"Yes what?"

"Yes... mistress," you say, the word tingling on your tongue. A thrill shooting through you from head to toe.

Mesmera's smirk widens and she giggles gleefully. "Oooh! That's so perfect!" she cries, squishing your cheeks adoringly. "Just perfect! But we better be sure, right?"

"Yes, mistress," you reply.

"Great! Then pants down, big boy," Mesmera says, releasing your face to spin around, bend and stretch herself over a desk, her ass in the air like a bitch in heat. "Because it's time to stuff this slut with that hero cock!"

Your eyes are riveted to the wiggle of her plush rear. "Yes, mistress," you say, rising ponderously to your feet. Your hands reach down, awkwardly undoing the connector of your costume's front. You're so hard your cock absolutely bursts free of the fabric, throbbing with arousal. Pulsing with your need.

Mesmera's eyes shoot wide open and she takes a shuddering breath. "Oh fuck yes," she breaths. "Guess those forum sluts were right. Just thought they were size queens with wishful thinking, but daaaamn! Oh baby, this is gonna be so goood," she breaths, reaching down between her legs, wantonly lifting her rump as she slides her finger along the blatant outline of her pussy, the strange black material of her costume parting at her touch, baring the lush, pink folds of her slit. "Now come on," she commands, two fingers brazenly parting her lower lips. "Stuff this slut full of that manmeat, hot stuff!"

"Yes, mistress," you say, mindlessly approaching. It's so easy to obey the mistress right now. So easy to fulfill her commands when they refer to literally the only thing you can think of. You can't look away from her ass or her dewy pussy. The wag of her rear is almost hypnotic. In fact, it probably is.

Which doesn't matter to you now. Nothing matters to you. Nothing except fucking your mistress until she's stuffed and satisfied.

That in mind you get to it, grasping her lush hips, causing your formerly fiendishly feminine foe to whine in excitement, the head of your cock rubbing against her folds, slickening up your shaft.

"Fuck me, baby," she growls.

"Yes, mistress," you grunt, and push home.

Mesmera rocks forward as your cock stuffs her. Her head jolts back and a cry of pure delight escapes her as the hot heaviness of your dick fills her.

"Oh fuuuuuuck yesssss!" she wails. "Fuck me, baby. Fuck me hard!"

You obey, naturally. Starting slow but quickly building your pace, your hips spanking off her shapely ass, the table shuddering under every thrust as you plow the gorgeous villainess with the single-minded urgency of a machine.

"Nnnn! Yes! Yes!" Mesmera cries, clutching the table, rocking back to meet your thrusts as your hands grip her shapely hips for purchase. "Ah! Nnnn! Fuck! Fuck me! Fuck me hard! D-do it! Take me you fffucking stud!"

"Yes, mistress," you grunt, the words coming hoarse and thick as you push into her harder, holding her tight as her inner walls quiver and convulse around the thrusting of your cock.

"Yes!" Mesmera cries as you rut her into the desk. "Yes! Cum! Cum in my tight little pussy! Shoot out that hot hero spunk in me! Stuff me. Fill me! Oh fuuuuuuck! Baby, baby I need it! Need your cum! Need you to... nnn... fucking... cuuuuum!"

Her pleased wail precedes her orgasm, her inner walls convulsing around you. Rippling in her shameless high as she cums. Psionic power crackles across her like purple lightning, rippling through the room. When it hits you there's no hope of holding back. You groan a final time, burying your cock deep inside the tightness of your mistress before you release a bellow of pleasure, giving her what she's begged for. What she needs.

And she gets her fill.

Her teasing has driven you far. Deep. It feels like you cum buckets into the supervillainess, and she clearly enjoys every second of it. Moans and breathless whimpers escape her as she sags atop the table, your cum drooling from around your cock.

"Ohhhh fuuuuuuck yesssss," Mesmera moans.

"Did mistress... enjoy?" you ask.

"Sooooo much," she sighs.

"Mesmera!" shouts someone from outside the bank, their voice scratchy from the distortion of a megaphone. "Surrender at once and come out with your hands up!"

Mesmera groans and lifts her head, glancing back at the bank's frosted windows, through which you can make out the strobing red and blue of police lights.

"Awww fuck, the cops?" Mesmera groans.

"Does mistress want me to kill them?" you ask.

Mesmera considers that for a moment, then shakes her head. "No way. We shoulda been gone long ago anyway," she says, pushing you back and standing. "We'll go out the back, and my darlings," she added with a sweeping smirk at the brainwashed patrons hanging on her every word, "will cause a little distraction. That okay with you, baby?" she asks, puppy dog eyes of psychic potency aimed right for your prefrontal cortex.

They hit you like a freight train and you nod, eyes glued to hers when not staring at the breasts straining her tight, black costume. "All okay," you confirm happily.

"Great!" she giggles, patting your cock and tucking it back into your costume, though her hand lingers admiringly. "Mmm. And we better move fast. Don't know how long I can last without this big boy inside me."

"Understood, mistress," you drone.

"Perfect! Now, this way, hot stuff," she says, a crooked finger compelling you after her as surely as if she was holding a leash. "Don't want to get in the way of the bullets, now do we?"

“No, mistress,” you say, already forgetting about the enthralled civilians, even as they rush out the front of the bank, howling for blood and attacking the panicking officers. They don’t matter. Nothing matters.

Nothing except serving your wonderful, perfect mistress...

Mesmera’s Minion

Mesmera's Minion

The shrill cry of the bank's alarm cuts off suddenly at a blast of heat from your hand. The patrons fled the second you arrived, and for good reason. For no one can stand against the potent power of Hot Stuff!

You adjust the sacks of money hauled over your shoulder, your eyes scanning the bank through your domino mask. A number of police cruisers have drawn up outside but you merely scoff. As if they could stop you.

"Woo hoo!" your mistress herself giggles, flinging bills into the air as she prances ahead of you, her psychedelic costume shimmering with hues. "We're rich, baby. Rich as fuck!"

"Yes, mistress," you inform her huskily.

"Aw, you mad we have to wait until we're back in the lair for your reward?" she asks coyly, reaching down and cupping the very blatant bulge in your new costume, which is far tighter and more revealing than your old one. Which is fine. It's what Mesmera wants, and what she wants she gets.

You grunt, your cock swelling against the confining fabric as her hand squeezes. "No, mistress," you growl. "But the police have arrived. And heroes are bound to be behind them."

Mesmera pouts and glances out the glass doors petulantly. "Fuckers," she sighs. "Fine, we can go. But blow up those cruisers on the way out. Make them pay for bothering me."

"Yes, mistress," you say, heading towards the huge glass windows.

You step through the hole you melted to provide access and onto the sidewalk. The street is largely cleared, aside from a half dozen cruisers drawn up in a crude barricade. Megacity's finest crouch behind them, weapons trained on you. As you emerge, one of the cops shouts, "Freeze!"

"No," you say, raising your arm, red energy swirling in your palm. "Hot."

The blast of heat spears a cruiser, causing it to explode. Several of the police open fire, but their bullets are less than annoyances, pinging off your skin uselessly. Methodically you turn in place, blasting the remaining cruisers to burning chunks of metal and rubber, the police retreating to a safer vantage point.

Cackling with glee, Mesmera prances out from behind you. "Ha ha ha ha! Look at them burn!" she says, the flickering flames reflecting in her glowing eyes as she smirks at them. She wraps an arm around your neck, tugging herself against your powerful frame as your arm loops around her, cradling her ass as you lift her against you. "Later, fuckers!" she says, flipping off the crowd and terrified cops, even as you look up and rise into the air.

You soar swiftly away from the scene of your crime, shooting through the sky like a meteor. Mesmera giggles in glee, snuggling up against your chest and stroking your square chin adoringly. "Love you, Hot Stuff," she says, kissing the corner of your mouth.

"Love you, mistress," you say with absolute honesty. Your love and desire swell in your chest like a hot balloon as you look adoringly down at your mistress's face, the mesmerizing hues of her eyes blanking your mind, even as her beauty blinds you. You can't imagine what you did to be rewarded with her love, but you also can't deny that it's a glorious thing. Over the last year or so, you had moments of doubt. But never for long. You belong to mistress. Mistress is everything.

You love to serve your mistress.

In moments you've made your way across the city and to the night club where your mistress keeps her lair. It's active, of course. Mesmera loves having plenty of music and activity around her, but there's no risk of discovery. The owner is utterly in her thrall, along with security and all the staff. And even if she's discovered, so what? She can always make a new lair anywhere she wants. Something that has been done a few times. Mistress is hardly subtle, and is inevitably discovered. But never caught. You'd never allow that.

You land on the club's roof and escort her down the steps, emerging into the private VIP lounge above the club. It's dark within, the only light a neon glow through the encompassing window looking down on the dance floor. The light pulses in time to the thudding bass from below, bodies moving down there. Shadowy figures that writhe and gyrate suggestively. The perfect backdrop for mistress, in your opinion.

"Put me down on the bed, lover," Mesmera orders.

"Yes, mistress," you say, gently depositing her on the huge, circular bed in the middle of the room.

"Now," Mesmera says, holding up her arms to you, her eyes flashing and smirk widening. "Money bukkake me, stud!"

"Yes, mistress," you intone, lifting one of the money sacks and pouring it out onto her.

Mesmera laughs in riotous glee and writhes in delight as hundred-dollar bills flutter down onto her. A literal fortune raining down on her sexy figure like some pop star in a garish music video. "Ohhhh fuck yesssss!" she laughs, fisting masses of money and throwing them above her again. "Hell yessss! We're rich, Hot Stuff. Rich! Hehehehe!"

"Yes, mistress," you agree, admiring her lovely figure as she squirms with shameless joy. Naturally, you know the money won't remain long. Mesmera has expensive appetites, and after a week or so of her spending, she'll need to go out and rob another bank, funding her childish excesses for another period.

But you don't worry about that. Your only concern is making the mistress happy, and you're more than willing to do so. She is your world. Your everything. Whatever she wants or needs, you'll do. All for mistress.

Wonderful mistress.

After a few minutes of this Mesmera flops where she lies, breathing hard, her large breasts heaving in the tight confines of her costume. Her eyes meet yours and you see fires of desire kindle to a blaze in them.

"Mmm. That was great, baby," she says, shifting to her hands and knees and crawling towards the edge of the bed, her smirk smoky and eyes hotter than your energy blasts. "You did such a good job, I think it's time I gave you your reward."

"Serving mistress is my reward," you say sincerely, though your voice has grown huskier as you watch her crawl towards you.

"Oh, I know, baby," she purrs as she kneels in front of you, her hands coming up and cradling your absolutely throbbing bulge. "Mmm," she hums, nuzzling your manhood through the tight red fabric. "But this is my reward too."

You don't argue. Why would you? If this is what the mistress wants, it's what she'll get.

You grunt as she pulls down your costume, your length bouncing up, hard and throbbing. Mesmera practically drools as she beholds it, panting wantonly as her eyes run up and down your massive manhood.

"Oh yeah," she breathes, her hands coming up and stroking you. "Oh fuck yes. This is what momma neeeeds," she breathes, inhaling your musk deeply, shuddering like an addict given her fix. Her tongue slides up your shaft, a throaty moan escaping her as she does. A similar but much rougher noise comes from you as she works, Mesmera's hands and tongue absolutely worshipping your cock. She even gives your balls some attention, her soft lips lewdly kissing them.

By the time her mouth moves to your tip, you're absolutely struggling to keep from exploding into her mouth. A groan comes from the ravishing mesmerist as she begins to bob, showing amazing skill with her throat as she takes you deep into her mouth, her glowing eyes rolling with ecstasy as she swallows your cock.

Your jaw tightens, hands fisting as your body tenses, resisting the urges thudding through you. Begging you to cum. Mistress likes it when you hold back. When you absolutely choke her on your seed. And she'll get it.

But not even your superhuman endurance can resist the hot suction of her mouth for long. You stare into Mesmera's eyes, and into your mind comes her voice, reverberating with psionic pleasure that shoots fingers of ecstasy down through you.

Cum, baby. Cum for me. Choke me with that hot super seed. Stuff me full of it. Gimme that hot load. I waaaant it. I neeeeed it. So come on. Fucking gimme. Give it all to fucking me!

"Yessssss!" you groan as those sparks of psionic bliss reach your churning balls. As your cock throbs, and with a great moan you give mistress what she wants, your cock downright fire hosing your seed into her.

Mesmera moans, her eye rolling back as she swallows greedily, the sound and her psychic pleasure thrumming through you like a hot flash of pure pleasure. You give her the fullness of your churning load until at last you soften, and Mesmera lifts her lips off you, literally panting, mouth hanging open as she kneels there in rapture.

"Oh fuuuuuuck," the psychic villainess gasps, rubbing her stomach adoringly. "That's... that's the goooood shit."

"Yes, mistress," you breathe.

She swallows again, licking her lip as she stands. Her hips begin to sway and her eyes burn hotter. "You ready for... for round two, baby?" she asks, her hands wandering over her stunning figure, the hues of her costume shifting and swirling over the curves of her breasts and the delta of her mound, her fingers teasing open the fabric, lazily stripping it off before your enraptured eyes.

"Yes, mistress," you say hotly, and indeed your cock does arise anew at the prospect, twitching at the thought of claiming this gorgeous woman once more.

She giggles and pulls off the rest of her costume, baring her flushed figure, nipples needy nubs topping the plump orbs of her tits. She spreads her arms for you, back arching, giving herself to your hands and lust. "Then come on, baby. Make me fucking scream!"

You do.

Repeatedly.

You fuck her doggy style, her tits pressed against the glass as she watches the dancers below, the force of her orgasm radiating outward with her psychic powers and starting an orgy down there.

You pound her against the walls until plaster flakes off and she cums again, screaming in delight and begging for more.

More.

More!

And you give it to her. As much as she wants. As much as she desires. It's your purpose. Your reason to exist. Anything for mistress. Everything for mistress.

Finally, after hours, you lie, naked with her on the pile of her ill-gotten gains, Mesmera nestled in the crook of your arm, sweat gleaming like diamonds on her skin as she grins triumphantly at the ceiling.

"Fuck yes," she manages to say. "Fuuuuck yes. I can't wait to tell that bitch all about this. Ooooh, she's gonna be soooo jealous," Mesmera giggles.

"Who will, mistress?" you ask.

"Oh," she says dismissively. "Just some slut that put together our group and thinks she should get a piece of you just because she moderates a forum. But fuck that! What's she going to do? I've got my hunky man to protect me," Mesmera coos, wrapping her arms around you and kissing your cheek. "Mmm. And he'd not gonna let anything happen to me. Are you?"

"No," you agree, arm tightening protectively around your mistress.

"See? Now, I'm gonna order some takeout and give the delivery guy a big tip. And then you, baby," she says, hand again moving down and giving your cock a teasing squeeze, "are going to give me a really big tip!"

"Yes, mistress," you say obediently, settling in as Mesmera orders her sushi, patiently waiting for her to finish so you can give her another rough fucking.

Because whatever the mistress wants, the mistress gets...

Menace at the Museum

As you shoot through the sky, you're hardly surprised some villain is hitting up the Megacity Museum. It's a popular spot for a supervillain to steal something, be it an ancient artifact to use to some nefarious purpose, a showpiece on display that thematically matches, or just some relics to sell for a quick buck.

The Pink Cow Diamond could, honestly, be any of them. An ancient gemstone with a long and often murderous history behind it. Normally the museum would be protected by a few heroes at all times, but given the apparent chaos happening across the city they'd likely been called away.

Which leaves it up to you.

You land outside the museum, tense. The signs of break in are pretty obvious, with the front doors smashed in and alarms still clanging, revealing at least how your latest foe broke in. Dastardly menaces that they no doubt are. To think! Stealing the nation's cultural artifacts. Disturbing the public in their efforts to learn and expand their cultural horizons. You feel righteous anger boil in you, your hands clenching as you stride through the breach.

The museum is a huge building with a large, open design at the front. Several dinosaur skeletons flank the way in, and the reception desk stands empty. You move in slowly, glass crunching under your shoes as you scan the interior, your fists glowing with your heat powers, your eyes training for any movement and ears keened for any sound.

You hear a heavy grunt and look quickly towards it, spotting a bulky form moving out from an adjoining hall before hesitating.

“Show yourself, villain!” you bellow, dropping into a fighting stance. “You face justice this day!”

There comes a snort and the figure moves into the light, and hoo boy, you did not see that coming.

For one, he’s big as hell, with more muscle than a roided out weight lifter. For two, he’s got a pair of horns and a bovine muzzle, while thick curly fur covers his frame. Unless you miss your guess, you’re looking at a literal minotaur, and he does not look happy. Shreds of clothes hang off him and as he straightens he gives a great bellow of a moo, and charges you.

You waste no time when faced with such a foe and thrust forwards your palm. A blast of heat energy slams into the monster man, staggering him and sizzling his fur, but with another roar he comes at you again.

His head lowers, the points of his horns gleaming, but just as he comes in you slam your fist into his forehead. The impact judders down your arm and your feet skid across the polished floor, grinding grooves in it, but you hold your ground.

The minotaur not so much.

The beastman staggers back, swaying a bit. Then his eyes cross, and with a dazed moo he flops to the ground, out cold.

“Ouch,” you curse, shaking your fist. Hells, that hurt! But it was worth it. The dastardly creature is no more. And you are...

Hold on a second.

You crouch down, eyes narrowing as you look closely at your downed opponent. Though most of his clothes are less than rags, his pants and belt have survived. They usually do when a villain transforms, for whatever reason. It helps to preserve modesty, which is always greatly appreciated. But the badge clipped to the beastman’s belt draws your notice. You remove it and inspect it, discovering the image of an old man in a security uniform for the museum. Hold on... Was this...

“A guard?” you ask in befuddlement.

There’s a crackle and sudden hum of power. “That’s right, Foundry!”

You whirl to see one of the screens that would normally be playing a welcome message to children coming to tour the museum flash to life, showing a decidedly less welcoming image. A woman is projected upon it. She stands triumphantly in the heart of the museum, behind her the display of the pink cow diamond rises up, and she herself is very bovine too. She's beyond busty, almost absurdly curved in all the right ways. A fact that her tight white lab coat is at pains to demonstrate. A pair of dark goggles are propped back on her forehead, and she's flashing a smile of pearly white teeth at the camera and you. Manic blonde hair frizzes around a gorgeous face filled with malevolence and the madness that only a deep delve into science can awaken in a woman.

Unfortunately, you also know her.

"Dr. D'Cream!" you declare with a growl. "You!"

"Yes!" the good doctor cackles. "Me! The brilliantly busty Mistress of Moos! The Cunning Cow! Ever since I was young, I chafed in a world built for women with a chest lower than a double D. I seethed to see the fairer sex forced to endure slim waists, button noses, and the prison of a C cup. How I raged that my plastic surgery practice couldn't solve this! They say I went mad when the nip and tucking of a mere one woman at a time wasn't enough anymore. But I will show them all. For I, the brilliant Dr. D'Cream, have solved it!"

She suddenly whips out a massive ray weapon from behind her back, holding it at ease against her hip with a savage grin.

"With this! My Bovination Ray, no woman will be trapped in the wretched form of society's expectations. We need bustier women! Fertile women! Women unashamed to show off their huge, milky tits and get the love they need from powerful, muscular men built like breeding studs! And with my device, it's no longer a dream!"

She steps aside, and you see a woman strapped to a chair. She looks like a museum patron, judging by her summer dress and terrified expression.

"And now, my dear," D'Cream declares as she takes aim with her ray. "Are you prepared to get busty?"

"Um-"

"Then behold!" D'Cream cries, pulling the trigger.

Her ray hums and a blast of pink energy erupts from the barrel, engulfing the woman on the chair. She shudders as the beam crackles over her, a moan escaping her. Great Scott! Your jaw drops as you see a pair of bovine horns sprout from the woman's head, curving into the air. She arches, crying out as the ropes which bind her stretch and then snap under her swelling bust. Her buttons aren't far behind, shooting from her top like bullets as her bra strains to withhold curvy, pale double D's. Then F's!

"Oh!" the woman cries. "Oh! Ohhhh mooooooooo!"

The ray dies with a hum, leaving the newly buxomed girl in the chair, swaying with a dazed expression. D'Cream laugh riotously. "Behold! A new bimbo huco!"

"Fiend!" you gasp, trying to ignore the way your costume strains around your crotch area. You thrust a finger towards the villainess. "Mark my words, D'Cream. You and your madness end here!"

"Then come get me, hero!" she challenges, smirking. "I'll be waiting to make you a true breeding bull! But only if you can get past my minions. Ha ha ha ha!"

The screen goes black and you curse, hastening over to a map of the museum. Seems you can get to the Pink Cow Diamond and this hateful heifer by going through the Greek exhibit. But you just know she'll have some dastardly trick waiting for you.

Sadly, nothing for it, but to head on, and deal with her.

Confronting D’Cream

You burst through the doorway and into the chamber with the diamond. “D’Cream!” you bellow. “Show yourself!”

“Oh, I’m not hiding, hero!”

You look quickly towards the center of the room, where the glittering pink diamond rests on the cushioned podium, displayed beneath a glass dome. Standing not far from it is the menacing doctor herself, salaciously hefting the bulk of her Bovination Ray.

“You may have defeated my lesser minions, Foundry,” she purrs, stroking the barrel of her weapon. “But you don’t stand a chance against me! Now, prepare to be cow’d!”

She swings about her ray, the barrel humming with energy.

Fly at D’Cream

Blast the Ray

Take Cover Behind the Diamond

Take Cover Behind the Diamond

Seeing D’Cream depress the trigger you immediately dive out of the way, taking cover behind the podium holding the pink diamond. No sooner have you done so than a blast of light strikes the podium.

And the diamond.

Instantly the beam refracts, shooting in every direction and strobing about the room like some pink disco ball.

“Oh,” you hear D’Cream say, her voice suddenly small and shocked. You peek around the podium, just in time to see one of the refracted beams strike the busty cow woman.

She screams as her impressive frame is wrapped in a pink glow. Her legs quiver and she falls to her knees, dropping her ray which shuts down at once. But the refraction remains, seeming to pour into the supervillainess even more.

And it’s certainly having an effect.

D’Cream moans, grabbing the immense orbs of her breasts as they swell even further, beyond even her earlier hefty size. Her head lolls as her breasts positively tear out of her lab coat, wobbling in her hands, nipples leaking a rich cream. Her horns grow even larger, her body swelling as well. Not nearly as much as her bust of course, but still to an impressive size, at least a head taller than you, if not more.

“Ohhhhh!” D’Cream moans as she squeezes and massages her breasts, the light of the ray finally fading, though the changes remain. “Mooo. Muuuust moooo!” she moans.

You step out warily from behind the podium, approaching the busty scientist. She watches you in dull-eyed interest, her hands still working her breasts like they’re the sum total of her existence.

“Moooo?” she lows questioningly.

You bend down, picking up the ray and examining it. It’s not exactly a complicated device from a user’s perspective. There’s a trigger. A barrel. And on the side is a dial with two settings: Glorious Moo and Itty Bitty Titty.

You switch the dial to Itty Bitty Titty and turn towards the civilian D’Cream transformed over the live feed. Taking aim, you fire.

The ray engulfs the girl, and she groans as her body shrinks back to her original figure. Her eyes clear and she looks down at herself in wonderment.

“Wha... what?” she slurs.

“Miss!” you declare. “You are safe now. Please, exit the museum post haste and direct the police inside when they arrive.”

She looks at you in momentary bafflement, then nods. “Uh, right. Sure,” she says, standing on shaking legs before scurrying out of the room the way you came in.

Which just leaves you with D’Cream. You look back to the bovine supervillainess, her warm eyes pleading as she massages her sloshing chest. “Moooo?” she moans. “Milk moooo?”

It’s truly no less than the villainess deserves, but what she said about the forum niggles at the back of your mind. You need information about this swathe of crime overtaking your fair city, but in her current state she might not be able to answer many questions. What to do...

Change D’Cream Back and Question Her

Leave D’Cream as She Is

Change D’Cream Back and Question Her

Though she is far more dangerous in her true form, she’s also capable of more than mooing. First, however, you make sure you lock her arms behind her with a pair of cuffs, something no true hero would ever be without. One never knows when they’ll need to suddenly arrest some fiendish villain.

D’Cream offers no resistance, though she gives a plaintive moo when you take her hands from her bust. Then you step back, take aim, and fire her ray again.

The light engulfs the bovine villainess, and with gratifying quickness she is returned to her original frame, though she still looks a bit addled while her costume, unfortunately, didn’t restore itself, leaving her in nothing more than some rags.

“Ooooh,” D’Cream groans before shaking off the last of her befuddlement. Her eyes focus and she glares up at you.

“Well!” she says, lifting her chin “Do you expect me to thank you for making me less busty and milky? Ha! You’ll be waiting a long time.”

“No longer than you will to get out from behind bars,” you retort brusquely. “Now tell me everything you know about this wave of crime, and what it has to do with me?”

“And why should I do that?” she asks snidely. “Out of my sense of civic duty?”

“If not that, then if you cooperate, I will ask the judge to be lenient with you,” you say. “Turn from this dark path, D’Cream. Your knowledge and technology can do good, not evil. Renounce this quest to make all women busty babes and men ample studs. You can do so much more in this world. Yes!” you declare proudly. “With your technology and expertise, there’s no limit to the good you could do! You could revolutionize the plastic surgery industry. Cure new diseases! Create a more moral dairy industry. Yes, D’Cream. You have the power to become a hero!”

“And not turn people into human cows?” she asks.

“You’d have to stop that, yes.”

“Ha!” D’Cream scoffs. “As if I ever would give up my true life’s work! Your laws and prison cannot hold me. No no no, Foundry. If you truly want me to talk, you’ll have to give me something in return. Right here. Right now!”

“And that is?” you ask guardedly.

She grins. "Milk me!"

"I... I beg your pardon," you stammer.

"Yes!" D'Cream crows, thrusting forward her jiggling chest, tilting her head and giving you the royal suite of bedroom eyes. "Milk my immense breasts and rut me like the stud you are. Only then will I tell you what you want to know."

"I... I would most certainly not!" you sputter, face flushed even as you find your eyes glued to her heavy chest. "That would be... I would never... the idea!"

"That's my final offer, hero," she croons, giving her chest a teasing bounce. "Make your choice!"

Jail this Loon

Jail this Loon

Though the information she has is, doubtless, valuable in the extreme, you're not about to sacrifice your self-respect to get it out of her. Regardless of how tempting her figure is. Nor how your cock is doing its level best to tear its way right out of your costume.

"No deal, you horrid heifer," you declare. "My only love is justice! And I would milk that lovely lady every day and all day."

"Huh?" D'Cream says.

You don't spend another moment explaining the niceties of morality to the likes of her. Instead you grab her, heaving her to her feet and force marching her towards the front of the museum.

By the time you arrive a number of Megacity's finest have made their appearance and were readying to charge the doors. Your emergence forestalls them, and you shove D'Cream into their stunned hands.

"Here you are, officers," you say, passing them then her ray. "And here. This nefarious monster's ray. A number of civilians within have been transformed by her. A quick blast of this will set them straight."

"Thanks, Foundry. We'll take it from here," one of the cops say.

You spare him a nod, but no more. There's not a moment more you dare waste, and looking skyward, you take flight once more, soaring into the heavens and away from the museum. There is justice yet to do, and this city needs you more than ever.

Demon's Club

Milk the Mad Genius

Under normal circumstances, you'd never dream of performing such a degrading act. But the fact remains that these are not normal circumstances. Which means that if you want to save the city, then you will have to pump this dastardly villainess not only for information, but for as much milk as you can.

Which is totally only for justice. Certainly not because you've had a number of quite racy dreams of getting your hands on a pair of tits like D'Cream's. Yep. This is totally a legitimate and reasonable use of your time and virtue.

Yep.

Totally.

"Fine, D'Cream," you say, setting down the ray. "I'll play your game for now. But you'd better be willing to spill."

"Oh, I will, Foundry," the buxom villainess coos, her eyes lidded with desire. "Believe me, I'll spill everything for you..."

You grimace at the suggestiveness in her tone, but know that it's too late to back out now. You move around behind her, and she arches suggestively, legs parting as she thrusts out her curvy rear. "Give it to me, hero," she moans lustily, wiggling her ass. "Give it to me hard and deeeeeeep..."

"You're not helping," you grumble, which is a lie. To your annoyance, her wanton motions are doing great work in inspiring your cock to full hardness. You undo the front of your costume, your manhood positively bursting free, twitching with desire to taste this madwoman's pussy. But you can't bring yourself to do it. Not yet. Instead, you get down on your knees behind her, reach around and fill your hands with the plump heaviness of D'Cream's chest.

"Ohhhhhh!" D'Cream moans, thrusting the softness of her ass back against your crotch. "Yes, milk me, hero. Use those big, strong hands on my sexy breasts."

"Please stop talking," you grumble, but nonetheless find yourself beginning to bounce and pump her ample chest. Squeezing and massaging her immense tits in slow, gentle motions. You find it strangely intuitive, and you quickly develop a rhythm, one which the hucow seems to enjoy tremendously.

“Ah! Mnnnnn! Oh yesssss,” D’Cream groans as her ass grinds against your cock, her breasts bouncing and sloshing in your hands. “Yesssss! Milk my fat... mnnn... breasts. Ohhhh, I’ve got so much... ha... so much creeeeeeeam for you, hero. Nnn. So full. Ah. So biiiiiig!”

“E-enough chatter,” you grunt, your face burning as you roll her teats in your hands. As your fingers tweak and massage her plump, needy nipples until milk drools and spurts from them. “Tell me what you know about the group coming after me.”

“Mmm! I will. I will once... ah... once you s-stick your c-coooooock in moo. In moo! In m-m-meeeeee!”

You roll your eyes, but if that’s what it takes to bring justice to these villains, then so be it. You shift, pushing your cock between her legs. D’Cream gasps as she feels the hard slab of your manhood rub against her lower lips. “Yes!” she cries, wiggling her hips frantically. “Yes! In me. Like that. Put it i-in m-mooooooooo!”

That heavy lowing comes as your cock finally manages to find its way into the molten heat of her pussy. With a throaty moan that seems to echo about the room you finally manage to stuff the eager holstaur, her inner walls tightening deliciously around your length.

“Nnnn!” you groan as her tight slick depths clamp down, her voice rising in a needy whine that causes you to grunt and begin to furiously thrust, sawing your cock in and out of her sopping pussy.

You grit your teeth to resist the pleasure that absolutely throbs through your cock at the slick tightness of the villainess’s wanton pussy. You refuse to be overcome so easily by the villainess. For one, because she might use your post-coital weakness to escape. Therefore... therefore you cannot cum before her. D’Cream must cream first.

“Yesssss!” D’Cream moos. “Yesssss! Like that. Just like thaaaaat! Oh. Ohhhh fuuuuuck! Mnnn! Fuck me! Fuck moo! Moo! Moooooooo!”

Milk positively gushes from her heaving breasts, spraying across the floor in thick, creamy spurts. You squeeze and maul her breasts, driving the whorish mad scientist absolutely mad with pleasure as you take her with savage thrusts of your hips, pounding her pussy with ever greater force and pleasure. Willing her to cum. Urging her to give in.

“Yes!” D’Cream cries, quivering in pleasure. “Yessss! Fuck meee! Milk moooo! Oh. Ohhhh! So close! So... nnnn... close. I... I’m gonna... gonna... m-mooooo!”

With that final wail of pleasure you feel her inner walls tighten, her breasts giving a sudden fountaining of her rich cream as she cums.

You groan as the busty mad scientist gives in to her bliss. As she orgasms with a wail of purest pleasure. And with it, you are given relief. You are given a chance to cum as well, groaning as you're your jaw tightens, eyes lidding with pleasure as your cock absolutely throbs and stuffs her with what feels like gallons of your thick, potent seed. Your whole body flexes with the tightness of pleasure. With the thrill of orgasm.

The sensation seems to send a second shock of pure bliss throbbing through D'Cream, another burst of milk pulsing from her quivering titflesh as she sags beneath you, groaning in satisfaction.

Breathing hard, you ease D'Cream down to the floor, drawing your cock from the molten heat of her depths with a grunt. "N-now," you gasp, quickly tucking your manhood back into your costume. "Talk, D'Cream."

"Mooooo," the cowgirl groans, arching lazily amid the spilled remains of her pleasure. "Ohhhkaaaay," she moans. "Your cock is... mm... aaaamoooooozing."

"I meant about the villains coming after me," you grouse, though do preen a bit at her praise.

Hey, you're only human.

"Mmm. Yes. There's... there's a bunch of them. And... and all of them are after you. Want to make you their fuck lover."

"I knew that," you grouse. "What about who? Who are they?"

D'Cream giggled. "Now that's... that's funny. Using your real name on the internet. Who'd be that duuumb. I don't know who they are."

"Please tell me you're joking," you say.

"Nooooope," D'Cream chuckles.

"Then I milked you for nothing?" you protest.

"Not nothing," the bovine scientist groans, wagging her rump tantalizingly. "Got your... your rocks off, right?"

Dammit! You can't believe you fell for that. "You're a bad cow," you tell her sharply.

D'Cream's body twitches, her ass quivering like you just spanked her. "Oh," she gasps. "N-nooo! I'm a goooood cow..."

You roll your eyes at the wantonness of the mad scientist. Even as you do you hear hurrying footsteps coming through the museum. You look up sharply as several of Megacity's police officers burst through the entrance, guns drawn. "Freeze! We... Foundry?"

"Ah, officers," you say, grabbing D'Cream and hoisting her to her feet. "If you would be so kind as to take this very bad cow to jail, I would obliged."

"Mnnn!" D'cream groaned, shimmying in shameful pleasure.

"And there," you add, nodding at the ray on the floor, "is the tool of this evil. Use it to return these poor people to their original human forms."

"Sure," one of the cops says, warily picking up the ray before looking at you. "But what about you?"

"Me?" you say, rising into the air with a push of your powers. "I still have work to do. A city to defend! Farewell, gentlemen!"

So saying, you take to the sky in a burst of speed, tearing through the museum's dome and into the open sky. Off to face whichever next villain is taking part in this nefarious crime wave...

Demon's Club

Blast the Ray

You have no intention to play a game of tag with a mad woman and her mutating ray. Fortunately, you have a solution.

“Not this day, fiend!” you declare, raising your arm as energy swirls in your palm.

D’Cream’s eyes widen in horror. “No!” she cries. “Foundy, wait!”

You don’t.

A blast of searing energy rips through the air and smashes her ray. D’Cream shrieks as the weapon explodes, a wave of energy radiating from it.

“Aha, vile villainess,” you declare as the smoke clears. “Now you shall...”

You trail off, for D’Cream is positively glowing. And that’s not hyperbole. She’s staring at her hands, her whole body lit up with a strange pink light like she’s irradiated with bubble-gum.

“Oh,” she gasps, looking up at you. “Oh. Ohhh! Mooooooooo!”

Your jaw drops and you take a wary step back as D’Cream begins to grow, her body tearing out of her lab coat and the strips she called underwear. She gives a great, lowing bellow as she continues to swell in size, soon towering over the whole room, her horns scraping the dome, her naked curves a Rubenesque image of downright divine bovinity.

“Good God!” you gasp.

D’Cream’s eyes lock onto you. “Moooo!” the kaiju-sized holstaur bellows, smiling in dim-witted glee as she reaches down for you.

Alarm zings through you and you try and duck out of the way, but her hand comes on. You leap into the air, evading her grasp and sending blasts of heat at the holstaur, with all the success of a mosquito attacking a cow.

“Mooo!” D’Cream bellows, a pout on her dull face as she suddenly swings her hand. You try and dodge, but she has you this time, her fingers snatching you out of the air.

“Moooo,” D’Cream says in satisfaction, holding you close to her chest.

“U-unhand me, fiend!” you shout, trying to struggle from her grasp, but even with your super strength you find no success. “Villain! When I get free, I swear to bring justice to you... you...”

You trail off, eyes widening as you see D’Cream’s free hand heft her breast and begin to fondle it. “Mooo,” D’Cream moans as she squeezes and massages her teat. “Moooooo!”

“N-no!” you gasp in sudden realization. “Wait!”

She doesn’t.

Before the syllable even has a chance to leave your lips an absolute geyser of cream bursts from her nipple. It sprays on you, causing you to sputter and writhe, her cream warm.

In fact, you’re warm.

Really warm!

Warmer than even your powers should cause. You gasp, your head... head throbbing. Body feeling... feeling tight. Feverish. Hot. So hot. You... you...”

“Ohhhh!” you groan, flexing, finally freeing yourself from D’Cream’s grasp. You land heavily on the floor, staggering shakily, your head pounding. Body feeling... feeling big. And clothes so... so confining.

“Hr... Hrrrrr!” you groan, grabbing the fabric, tearing it free with a bellow. Shredding your specially reinforced costume without a moment of hesitation. Your muscles have swollen with unnatural strength. Your frame growing to accommodate it. Bulking like you’ve just taken a dump truck’s worth of whey protein. You bellow, panting, heaving. Your body dripping with cream. And big. Huge! In fact, looking at D’Cream, she doesn’t seem like such a giantess anymore. Sure, she’s still massive, but hey! So are you!

Your eyes run up and down the gorgeous hucow, your tongue licking your lips and tasting the milk still soaking you. Your nose twitches as you inhale the pungent sweet scent of her cream and body. Her sex and arousal. Your cock twitches, throbs, and swells from your crotch. Huge. Almost flared.

D’Cream’s face lights up and she sits down, the floor shuddering under her as she leans back against the wall, opening her legs eagerly. “Moooo?” she asks.

“Fuuuck,” you groan, stomping your way towards her. “Fuuuuck coooooow!”

“Mooo!” D’Cream says, nodding eagerly.

You barely reach her waist, but it doesn’t bother you. The only thing on your mind is the absolutely cavernous pussy of the cowgirl. One which you seem specifically equipped to fill. You grab her inner thighs, pushing them open as you line your cock up with her depths. Meeting D’Cream’s eager eyes, you pull back.

And thrust!

“Mooooo!” D’Cream moans as you impale her on your cock, plow her sopping pussy, the slap of your hips off her echoing in the cavernous chamber. “Mooo!”

“Goood cow!” you bellow. “Gooooood coooooow!”

D’Cream seems to agree, squirming happily, the movements causing droplets of milk to splatter from her udders. You waste no time in grabbing one of those titanic teats, your lips locking onto a fat nipple.

Instantly milk sprays into your hungry maw and you guzzle down her cream, moaning in pleasure as the sweet, warm milk splashes into your stomach, the heat of it seeming to spread through you in a wave. Your cock throbs as it swells yet further, your body growing as you furiously pound into your giantess of a lover. You’re still smaller than D’Cream, yet every gulp brings you closer to her height. To her size!

“Mmmmm!” you groan, the whole building shaking as you fuck the buxom holstaur against the wall. “Mrmmm!”

“Gooooo! Moooo!” D’Cream lows as she eagerly takes the full heft of your massive cock. “C-Cream... good... mooooo!”

She bellows with pleasure as she cums, her pussy rippling around your cock. The feel of her orgasmic high is too much for you to resist, and pulling your lips from her drooling nipple, you throw back your head and bellow with raw pleasure. A sound more animal than man, your hands grab her huge hips as you saw into her orgasming pussy a few final times, then bury yourself as deep as you can and cum.

Cum.

Cum like a fountain! Cum what feels like gallons of thick, virile seed.

“Mooooo!” D’Cream cries in bliss, her pussy drinking the bursts of your cum in rippling pleasure, her breasts quivering as she seems to swell with every drop you give her.

In fact, she is swelling! Growing even larger. Feeding off your cum until the wall and ceiling crumbles against her, her body falling through and onto the street on the other side.

Your barrel chest heaving, you look out onto the street of the city, barely visible past the huge orbs of the cowgirl kaiju’s breasts. As the haze of post-coital calm settles on you, you snort in satisfaction, looking back down on the groaning but contented cowgirl still impaled on your cock. The future is a blank for you. Your past less than a thought, wiped away by the pleasure and joy of your size and strength. What you'll do beyond fucking this gorgeous cowgirl you don't know.

But, grinning as you lean over and latch on to her unmilked teat, sucking hungrily, you know it's going to be a lot of fun...

Fly at D’Cream

“Your reign of terror ends now, D’Cream!” you shout, hurling yourself at the mad genius, your powers propelling you towards her like a missile of justice!

“Oh no, hero!” the mad cow declares as she pulls the trigger of her ray. “We’re just getting started! Ah ha ha ha ha!”

You try and swerve out of the way, but her ray hits you head on. You rear back, stopped in your tracks. You grit your teeth, feeling waves of... something washing over you. Something strange. Something... potent! A heat, but one utterly different from your powers. A heat like a fever!

You groan as you fall to the floor, crushed under the crashing waves of D’Cream’s ray gun. Your head spins, your focus addled.

“What’s the matter, hero?” D’Cream cackles. “Having trouble thinking?”

You lift your head, a witty retort on your tongue.

And there it dies. Because then you see her breasts.

Her breasts.

Her huge, heaving, sloshing breasts.

Great Scott. You’ve always considered yourself an appreciator of a good pair of tits. But the ones on D’Cream are beyond stunning. Absolutely incredible! The mere sight of them is enough to stun you. Your mind going blank.

They’re just so... perky.

So full.

So...

So...

Perfect.

You forget about everything else. About anything but those breasts. But those glorious milkers. Those ample udders. You don’t even notice as your body grows beyond the confines of your costume, shredding the fabric in a moment. Your brow throbs and you groan, tilting your head back as a pair of bull horns split from your head, spearing into the air. Your arms throb with muscles. Your legs pulse with strength.

You slowly rise to your feet, the trickles of the ray fading. You snort, looking down at yourself. You're huge. Muscled. An absolute slab of pure beefcake. Literally. Even your cock has grown, and taken on a distinctly bull-ish flare.

"Oh yes."

You lift your eyes towards D'Cream again and are immediately gobsmacked anew by the sight of her bust. Her breasts are just so... perfect...

D'Cream smiles at you and puts aside her ray. "Come, hero," she purrs, grabbing her lab coat and ripping it open, her naked breasts wobbling as they're freed from the confining fabric. "Give the cow her breeding bull!"

You don't need to wonder what she means. A single breath brings you the sweet scent of her fertile pussy, begging for a good, thorough fucking. You grunt, stalking forward, bestial urges quashing any remnant of conscious thought. You want to fuck. You have to fuck. You need to bury your fat, thick, virile cock in the fertile depths of this gorgeous cow woman without delay.

D'Cream moans as your thick hands seize her, sliding down to her hips, filling your palms with the softness of her ass. The bovine scientist gasps as you heft her against the pillar housing the Pink Cow Diamond.

"Yes!" D'Cream cries as you bury your face in her bust, inhaling the scent of her chest. "Yes, my stud. That's iiiiiit. Fuck me. Breed me! I'm your fertile cow. You're my breeding bull. Now show me. Show me your might!"

You can do that.

You lift her above your cock, your tip rubbing against her folds. D'Cream moans in delight as your flaring slab of manhood splits her, the gorgeous D'Cream slowly being lowered onto you. Sheathing you into her slick, tight, fertile depths.

"Mnnnnn!" D'Cream groans. "Yessss! Sooooo big! Ah! Mnnn! Yes! Fill me! Stuff me! Take meeeeeee!"

You do.

Without a moment more of hesitation you begin to bounce the mad cow on your cock. Your heavy, swaying bollocks smacking her ass with every thrust as you shove your manhood deep into her eager, hot pussy.

“Ah!” D’Cream cries, clutching your head to her bust, your horns used as handles. “Oh! Oh yesss! Fuck me, my bull! Nnnn! Milk me! Yes! Yes! Take me! Mate me! Breed me n-now. Now! Moooooooo!”

You do what she wants. Because it’s what you want. Everything about the moment working out so well. So perfectly. With such a satisfying completeness. Fuck, but this cow is smart. She knows exactly what you want to do. She’s got everything a bull could want. What could be better than fucking her? What could be more satisfying than mating and breeding this gorgeous cow-girl?

Nothing.

Nothing could be better.

And you intend to enjoy it.

Grunting.

Snorting.

Plowing D’Cream with growing urgency. Growing fervour.

The wet slap of flesh on flesh fills the room. D’Cream wails and moans, writhing atop your cock as you pound up into her. Her cries of pleasure building. Breath hitching every time she bottoms on your massive cock. Her breasts bounce around your head until your lips manage to find a nipple. Greedily you suckle from her bouncing teat, cream spurting into your mouth, urging you to go harder. Faster. To claim her.

“Yes!” D’Cream cries, slamming her head back against the display case of the Pink Cow Diamond. “Yes! Yes! Oh! Moo! Moooo! Milk mooo! Fuck moooo! Make... make.... Oh. Oh! Moooooo!”

D’Cream wails with that final peak. That last high of pleasure. Her pussy tightens. Squeezes. Milks your cock as you milk her breast. With that final sweet orgasm you feel your own release. Groaning as you drop her, stuffing her a final time as your cock throbs, pulses, and explodes within her.

“Ohhhhhh fuck yessssss!” D’Cream wails, head slamming back, shattering the protective glass dome around the diamond as you cum in her. Stuffing her with a hot burst of your thick, monstrous cum.

“Ah,” D’Cream moans, panting, relaxing atop your cock as she soaks in the glorious aftermath of her orgasm. Lazily, almost idly, she reaches back and plucks the jewel from its shattered case, admiring it. "Mmm. A pretty prize. Something to remember this moment for the future, eh, Foundry?"

"Hr?" you grunt.

D'Cream just titters and pats your head. "Don't worry about it, sweet thing. Now, let me down. We need to gather the rest of our friends. For we have a world to change, my dear stud. Men to free from their scrawny forms. Women in need of breasts, busts, and bovine beauty! Let's go!"

You grunt again, slouching after D'Cream as she recovers her ray and strides off. You barely paid attention to her words, your eyes glued to the way her coat stretches against your ass. Hell, you'd follow that ass anywhere...

Bulling Forward

Guardian Bulls

You hasten towards the Greek Wing of the museum. The sooner you deal with this mad cow, the sooner you can get back to more important business.

As you enter the exhibit you take care to move quietly. You hear snorting and grunting from not far, and on peeking around a corner you're confronted with the unwelcome sight of damn near a dozen minotaur bullmen snorting around the area. All of them are wearing the tattered remains of clothes, marking them as victims of D'Cream's ray. They mill around the exhibits like some ill-conceived attraction, and beyond them you can make out a doorway with a sign celebrating the Pink Cow diamond.

You roll your jaw thoughtfully. You're not too worried about hurting these bullmen. The one you took out earlier was able to weather your fist without his head caving in.

But they are simply victims of D'Cream's power. Can you really justify force against the innocent?

Use Force

Use Your Words

Try and Sneak Past Them

Use Your Words

Though they may have been transformed by the mad cowgirl, there's no reason you should assume their minds are overcome by her powers. Perhaps there's still space to speak to them.

You step into the open and loudly clear your throat. "Citizens!"

Instantly every bullman's horned head swivels your way.

"Let me pass," you command. "So I might deal with the nefarious woman who has turned you into these monstrous forms, and free you from them to be men once more!"

The bullmen exchange a look.

"Moooo!" one bellows, pointing at you.

The bovine cry of rage is picked up by the rest, and in a mob they charge you!

Oh well, you tried.

You leap into the air as the first bullman tries to tackle you, only to miss and slam into the floor with a heavy grunt. You spin firing a heat blast at another who tries to leap and take you down, striking the transformed human in midair and sending him spinning out.

A sudden weight jerks you down as a powerful grip closes on your ankle. You look down sharply to see a third bullman has grabbed your leg. His beady black eyes glare up at you as he opens his mouth and bellows a challenge.

"Get! Off!" you shout, trying to shake him free. But when that doesn't work you simply shoot him off with another heat blast.

But that distraction proves costly, and several more bullmen leap onto you. You bob in the air under the sudden weight, trying to shake them off, but their presence forces you down where several more of the beastmen wait. Large, furry hands grab your legs, slamming you down onto the floor. You try and get up and heave them off, but a furry fist grabs you by the hair and smashed your face into the floor.

Again and again your face meets hard cement. Your durability spares your pretty looks a broken nose, but not even your mind can't take being violently shaken about your skull without some reaction. Your vision dims and your body doesn't seem to answer your mental commands anymore. You barely notice when the beatings stop, and your arms are hoisted between two minotaurs. You blink groggily as you're dragged towards the exhibit hall beyond.

Meeting D'Cream

Use Force

You crack your knuckles. Civilians or not, they're under the malign influence of a supervillainess! And you'll take care of them as you must.

Without a moment to waste you use your flight powers to rush into the room. "Face my fists of justice, fiends!"

"Moo?"

The first bullman turns blankly, and meets your fist right between his eyes. The bullman topples like a felled ox, and the second one is so shocked by your sudden appearance he does no better as you clock him so hard he spins around twice before collapsing with an audible thud!

But after that the rest realize what is happening, and with a bellowing roar half a dozen survivors attack.

"Have at you!" you declare as they bull rush you. The first takes a swing at you, but you duck, causing his punch to merely crack a pillar. Then your fist slams into his gut, and not even his washboard abs can prevent him from doubling over with a groan of pain.

Another brute tries to fling himself onto your back, arms going around your neck, but you grab him and flip him over, driving him down onto the bullman you punched in the stomach, both of them going down with a boom that echoes in the room.

Another leaps at you, but a sudden blast of a heat ray sends the bullman flying back with a, "Mooooo!" of shock to slam into the wall so hard he craters it. And his fall to the floor leaves him an unconscious mess.

Three more remain, and they come at you together. You kick one's feet out from under him, but the other two manage to grab your arms and try and wrestle them back behind you. The one who fell rises to come at you again, but as he does you flip up and slam your foot into his chest, sending him flying across the room, shattering several displays before hitting a brass gong so hard the sound reverberates through the room.

The two behind you snort and try to twist your arms out of their sockets. For your foe's trouble, you open your palms and send two concussive blasts of heat right into the minotaur's crotches.

"Moooooo!" the pair bellow in pain, abandoning your arms to clutch their groins. Immediately you spin about, grab their heads, and crack them into each other. Black eyes roll back and jaws go slack, the two bullmen falling against each other before sinking to the floor, drifting off to a dreamland of green fields and busty heifers.

You nod in satisfaction as you look over the battlefield. The minotaurs are down, and you stand victorious. Brushing some dust from your shoulders, you straighten your cape, and cross the room. Time to deal with D’Cream herself...

Meeting D’Cream

As you’re dragged into the exhibit for the Pink Cow Diamond your head begins to clear. When you hear the words, “Well well! If it isn’t the hero,” you snap back to yourself.

You look up sharply to see D’Cream looming before you, smirking from the middle of the domed chamber. The woman you saw tied to the chair is in the corner, and the Pink Cow Diamond is near you.

“F-foul fiend,” you gasp. “You’ll not get away with this!”

“Of course I will,” the mad cow laughs as she hefts her ray. “I already have!”

Recognizing the danger, you summon a burst of strength from deep inside you. With a shout you heave to your feet, hurling the pair of startled bullmen off of you and sending them crashing to the floor behind you.

But it’s already too late.

D’Cream’s ray fires, a blast of energy crashing into you even as you move to take a step towards her. You rear back, stopped in your tracks. You grit your teeth, feeling waves of... something washing over you. Something strange. Something... potent! A heat, but one utterly different from your powers. A heat like a fever!

Bulling Forward

Bulling Forward

Your mistress is a genius.

Even someone as dumb as you can recognize that. The fact you are dumb doesn't bother you. A good bull doesn't need to be smart. That's what a cow is for.

And your cow is so very smart.

Who else could have figured out a way to build a ray able to turn every human on earth into studly bulls and busty heifer babes?

Who could have realized she could enhance the power of her ray by bouncing it into various transmission satellites so they poured out of every screen in the country?

And who could have set it all up by seizing control of the Center of Public Broadcasting, adjusting the relays, and be on the cusp of achieving her dream?

"I alone!" D'Cream declared triumphantly as she hooks her Ray into the vast apparatus that fills the room. "Yes! I alone had the vision and genius to see it through!"

"Yes, mistress," you grunt agreeably, glaring at the scientists she'd kidnapped and ensuring they're properly cowed. Both literally and figuratively. They're all women, which makes sense, as D'Cream's ray doesn't make women dumber. Well, not so long as their libidos remain satisfied. Something you have ample experience providing. Steel cables groan across your immense frame as you cross your arms, glowering at them.

Which is menacing, true. Your massive frame and the electric whips mistress has equipped you with gave you the creative name of Bullwhip. But you don't need to menace these women. They're more than happy to help mistress. Ever since they felt the kiss of the ray and discovered how good it was to be busty, creamy hucows able to take even your absurdly girthy cock, they've gladly embraced D'Cream's dream.

"Exactly!" D'Cream declares as she slams the securing locks into place with a crackle. "Only I, the brilliant Doctor D'Cream, could have envisioned it. Only my brilliance could have brought us to this point! Only I, my dear Bullwhip, had the will, the courage, and the bust to see this plan through!"

"Yes, mistress," you agree, flexing a bit for the cooing DD scientists.

“Exactly!” D’Cream cackles as she bounds off the apparatus and joins you at the main console. “And with this, none will be able to defy my genius! And now,” she grins, looming over the big red button. “Now, the world shall know it too!”

She slams her fist down on the button. Klaxons hoot and bellow while red lights strobe, the whole room humming with power. You look up dimly as your eyes are drawn to the wall of screens projecting the results of your mistress’s genius. From cameras on the roof you watch as the huge satellite atop the building sparks. Glows. And from its dish bursts a surge of pink light that fills the sky.

“Yes!” D’Cream cries, flinging her fists triumphantly into the air, her face glowing in the pink light of the screen. “Yessss! It’s glorious Bullwhip. Glorious!”

“Yes, mistress,” you say, your eyes briefly roving about the screens, where live feed from various new channels show the anchors writhing as their bodies are changed by the pink light spilling into them. Men bursting their tailored suits with muscle and horn. Women moaning as buttons shoot off like bullets from blouses struggling to contain a sudden increase in cup size.

D’Cream cheers again. “Victory is miiiine!” she cries, jumping in glee.

You grunt in agreement, ignoring the screens, your whole being focused on the mad doctor before you. The way her breasts heave in the tightness of her lab coat. Bouncing and sloshing...

Not even the culmination of her ambitions can distract the mad genius from the heat in your gaze. She glances back at you, and you’re delighted to discover your desire mirrored in D’Cream’s eyes. She turns, stepping towards you. “You know?” she breathes, resting her hands on your chest. “I couldn’t have done it without you, Bullwhip.”

“I serve mistress,” you say in answer, though your hands do move around her, your palms filling with the plumpness of her ass.

“That you do,” she coos, turning about, pushing her rear into your bulging banana hammock, whose stretching fiber is being put to the ultimate test right now. “And thanks to you, I have achieved my dream! So join me in this moment, Bullwhip. Join me in my triumph!”

You can get behind that.

And since you’re already behind D’Cream, you push forward, causing her to bend over, her hands landing on the console, her ass pushed back against your throbbing bulge.

She gasps and glances back, eyes molten with heat. “Yes,” she breathes, grinding back against your cock. “Excellent idea, Bullwhip. How better to celebrate my great triumph than with a proper breeding! Now fuck me,” she commands, her eyes glued to the screen as scenes from across the world play across them, showing more scenes of transformation from every major city. "Fuck and breed me in this, my moment of triumph!"

You can do that.

Your large hands grasp her lab coat and flip it up over her rump, revealing the plump curviness of her rear. You grab the thin cloth of her panties and yank them down, revealing the delicate gusset of her pussy.

"Mmm. That's it," D'Cream purrs, her hips rocking back, rubbing the heat of her pussy against your crotch. "Fill me, stud. Fill me, just as all those men out there will be doing to their new cows. The world will thank me, Bullwhip. For I have done what no government program or societal reform has accomplished: restored the birth rate!"

"Good, mistress," you grunt, yanking down the tight fabric around your cock, your slab of manmeat slapping D'Cream's ass lewdly.

"Yessss," the mad cow moans, gripping the console with a gasp, her eyes glowing with the light of the screens. "They call me mad now, but history will vindicate me!"

"Uh huh," you grunt as you remove your cock from her ass and align it with her slick pussy.

"The world will thank me!"

"Mhmm," you growl, teasing her folds with your fat length until your shaft is slick with her desire.

"Who knows! They may even give me the... ah... the Nobel Peace... Priiiiiiiize!"

D'Cream's voice hitches with a moan as you push forward, filling her with your thick cock. You grunt as her inner walls clamp down deliciously, squeezing your cock with sensuous pleasure.

"Ah," D'Cream gasps, her hands gripping the console tight. "And... and why not? Don't I... I deserrrrrve it!"

"Yes," you grunt, beginning to saw in and out of her pussy.

"Ex... exactly!" she gasps, rocking back against your thrusts, her ass spanking off your hips as you plow her with sharp, heavy motions. "Ah. Mnnn! Yes! I deserve... deserve my dues. I deserve... ohhh... r-recognition. I... ah... deserve... mnnnn... worshiiiiip!"

“Yes,” you say hotly, leaning down, arms abandoning her hips to wrap around her. Your hot breath steams the back of her neck and ear as your hands engulf her plump, milky tits. Fondling them as you thrust heavily into her rippling pussy.

“Mmmf!” the bovine beauty pants as you rut her against the console. “Yes. A fucking... fucking award. My name will... will go down in hi-history! Genius not... not understood or... orrrrr respected at first. But I... oh f-fuck. But I...”

“Yes?” you grunt as you increase your pace. Pounding into her. Your hips slapping lewdly off her bottom as you ruthlessly fuck her, milk spurting from her plump nipples as you squeeze and pump her tits. Her hips slamming against the console, shaking the screens.

“But I... I... Ohhhhhh fuuuuuck!” the busty bovine cries, her inner walls tightening, her body arching as every muscle tightens with the sudden sweetness of orgasm. “Moooooooo!” she bellows as milk spurts and sprays from her plump nipples, pumping onto the console and making it spark and crackle. “Moooooooo!”

The sound of her pleasure. The feel of her squeezing pussy. The scent of her cream is all too much for you. With a throaty bellow you slam your cock home a final time, filling her to the brink before you cum like a firehouse. What feels like gallons of your seed pulses from your twitching manhood, stuffing the gorgeous hucow with your hot cum.

D’Cream moans in satisfaction, flopping atop the console as if every muscle has given in at once. You say nothing, merely grunting as you continue to lazily thrust.

“I’m a... a geeeenius,” D’Cream moans.

“Hrrr,” you grunt in agreement, though your eyes are drawn to security cameras on the outskirts of the building, and the group of busty heroines charging the building. Looks like you have visitors.

But you grin as D’Cream stirs and your cock twitches with renewed hardness. Well, you’ll deal with them soon. For now, looks like you have enough time for one more fuck with your mistress...

Bad End

Leave D’Cream As She Is

You consider the ray, then dismiss it. The punishment here surely fits the crime, though if the judge decides otherwise, that’s for justice to determine. She’ll surely be easier to rehabilitate like this. Maybe give her work on some pleasant farm up state.

“Talk, D’Cream,” you growl. “Who’s backing you?”

“Mooo?” the hurow moans with a doleful look your way.

“What is behind the sudden increase in criminal activity throughout the city?” you say. “What is this secret forum about me to do with it?”

“Foorum?” she asks blankly.

“What do you know?” you demand.

Her brow crinkles. “Knoooooow... Moo knooooow...”

“Yes?” you prompt, leaning in. “What does moo know?”

“Moo... know... miiiiilky,” she says, her face lighting up in satisfaction as she gives her breasts a lazy bounce.

You slap a hand across your face and sigh. Well, you tried. “Alright,” you say, moving up behind her and pulling her arms behind her back. “Let’s go.”

“Goooo milking?” she asks hopefully.

“We’ll see,” you hedge.

D’Cream beams happily and allows you to guide her out of the room and through the museum’s exhibits. She looks at the unconscious minotaurs blankly but doesn’t seem too bothered, and you manage to guide her into the lobby without incident. Just as a squad of Megacity cops creep through the entrance with weapons drawn. They draw up short at the sight of you and the impossibly busty woman in your care.

“Foundry!” a detective shouts in shock. “What are you...”

“Your museum thief, detective,” you say. “Unfortunately, she got a powerful taste of her own medicine. Here,” you add, giving the man the ray gun. “This is the tool of her evil. It can be used to restore the others she’s turned into beastmen. Can you take it from here?”

“Sure, sir,” the detective says, taking the ray as several officers uncertainly secure the busty villainess, who merely moans and moos in their grasp. “We’ll uh, handle it. But what about you?”

“Me?” you say, rising into the air with a push of your powers. “I am needed elsewhere. Good luck, gentlemen!”

Turning, you soar out the broken doors and into the sky, hastening away from the museum. For you know only too well your powers are needed elsewhere. Your city needs you, and it’s time to serve.

Demon’s Club

Try and Sneak Past

There's a lot of minotaurs in there. Though you're confident in your powers, taking them all on might be a bit much. Besides, they are also formerly civilians. Beating them to a pulp just to get past them would leave a bad taste in your mouth.

You wait for an opening when the bullmen aren't watching, then slip around the corner and behind a display of a greek armour from the Trojan War. Silently as you can, you slip through the room, trying to avoid any of the bullmen or their sight. It's tricky going, seeing as there's easily eight of them, but you're making good progress.

You're halfway across the room when one of the minotaurs suddenly lifts his head, nostrils flaring as he sniffs heavily. The bullman's eyes narrow and he inhales again, as do several others. What are...

Oh no.

Several horns heads swivel your way. "Moooo!" the minotaurs bellow, charging your hiding place, the others instantly alert and looking your way as well. Shit!

You burst to your feet from behind the display of several fantastic Greek vases, whose historical significance is lost on the minotaurs, one of whom throws himself through the display to tackle you. He smashes through the glass and millennia old pottery to slam into your stomach, throwing both you and him to the floor.

The impact is hard, but your super durability saves you from anything more than getting the wind knocked out of you. As you recover your breath you swing your arms up, interlock your fists and slam them down on the minotaur's back.

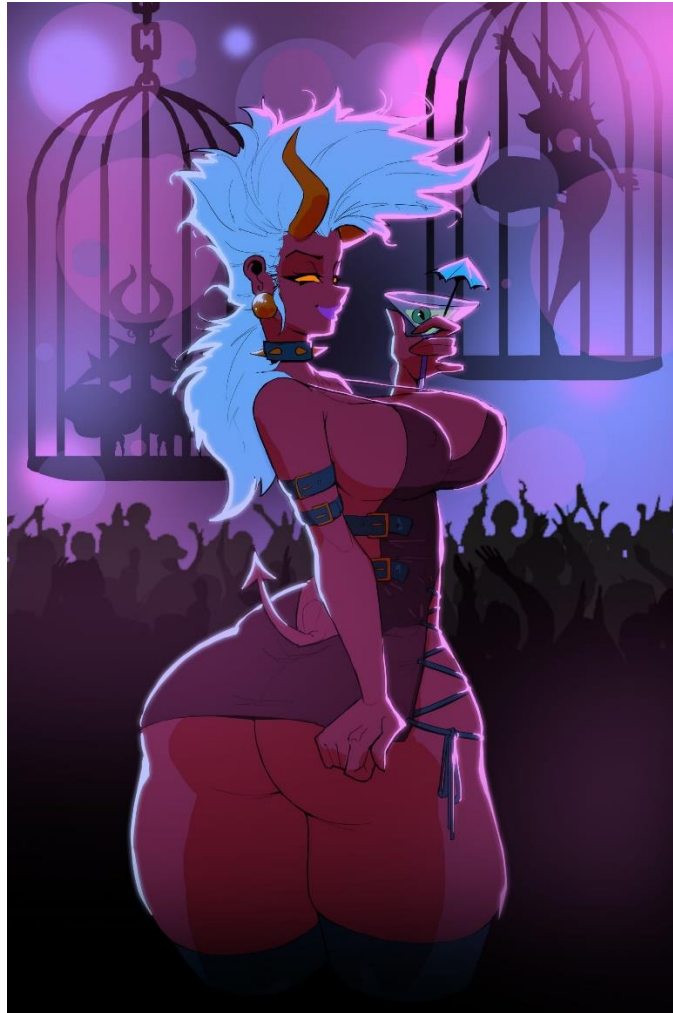

The impact hits him hard, and the beastman shudders, flopping limply atop you. You begin to rise, but before you can the rest of the bullmen arrive, pummeling you furiously.

You try and block your head from taking the blows, but the sheer number of fists and strength overwhelm you. Your head is bashed around, and despite your durability your vision smudges with the beginning of unconsciousness. Your arms grow weak and fail to answer your brain's garbled commands.

The blows stop, but you're so addled you can't take advantage of it, or even do more than groan as cruel hands grab you, heave you up, and drag you bodily towards the door to the Pink Cow Diamond's display...

Demon's Club

No sooner are in the air than your earpiece beeps anew.

"Foundry!" Muse gasps. "Bad news."

"What is it?"

"Saint Anne's Nunnery just reported a robbery of one of their relics, the Skull of Radigan!"

"A relic?" you say, puzzled. "Strange. Were there any clues?"

"Just one. Someone marked up the wall behind the relic's case. A D with a pair of horns on it."

Damn! You know that sign. It can only belong to one person.

"Desmoa," you growl.

"Looks like it," Muse agrees.

You curse. "I thought she was in a cult deprogramming collective upstate?" you say.

"She got out early on good behaviour," Muse admits uncomfortably.

Ha! You bet she did. More likely she seduced her social worker to falsify her records. You warned them she required prison, but the judge seemed to think she could be rehabilitated. Which isn't to say you don't think rehabilitation works. You just think that sitting in a circle, talking about feelings isn't going to cut it when the criminal is a literal demon from hell.

Not that she always was. You've run into the fiendish cultist more than a few times. Once just a simple theological student, she fell into a group of rogue philosophy majors and dived into forbidden powers. Having studied the demonic arts, she gleefully went further than her compatriots, sacrificing her fellow students in order to gain infernal favour and form. Now, she seeks to corrupt the world further to please her dark patrons, often stealing artifacts or performing dark rituals to achieve her goals!

Yes, a fiendish woman. The only good news is you have a pretty good idea where she is.

"I'm on it, Muse," you say, diverting your flight immediately.

"Be careful, Foundry!" Muse says. "Who knows what she's up to with that thing."

You definitely will be cautious here. Because you don't have to just worry about a rogue cultist villainess, for Desmoa is surely heading back to her old haunt. Namely, the Devil's Dance Floor!

It's in the old warehouse district, which has surely seen better times, specifically before globalization closed most of the factories in the city. It's an area so depressed it's on suicide watch. These days, there isn't a wall not sporting at least three layers of graffiti. But some of the old buildings have been renovated into more seedy and illicit businesses.

You land outside the Devil's Dance Floor grimly. You know you've got the right place because of the huge, garish neon sign blazing at all hours through the smog. Also, the large demonic bouncer standing outside seems like a good indicator. You've never approved of the city allowing demons to operate in the city, but your objections (and those of the voters) weren't considered. You know for damn sure a lot of money changed hands and were funneled to various important people to make it happen, but bringing it to light hasn't exactly been easy.

Sadly, demons aren't just good about sin, but about covering it up when convenient. Copious amount of blackmail was surely involved.

The burly demon eyes you through his tinted glasses. "Name?" he asks.

"The Mighty Foundry," you declare. "Scourge of evil! Enemy of--"

"Alright, come in."

You're momentarily taken aback. "Really? Just like that?"

"Man, I don't get paid enough to fistfight heroes like you," the demon grunted. "Besides, Desmoa says if you show up, send you in."

"She did?"

"Yeah. She's in the subbasement." He smirks. "Have fun."

That's... a tad troubling. Desmoa is well known for her fiendish plots and powers. That she wants to see you bodes nothing good. Seems likely she's part of whatever chat board has been conspiring to seduce you. Well! She'll soon see the error of her ways in that at least. No way you'll fall for the wiles of some insidious succubus.

You're tempted to interrogate the bouncer, but you can hardly lay out a man not obstructing you at all, even if said man has horns and smells of brimstone. With that said, you keep an eye on him until you pass through the door and into the suffocating darkness of the club.

Now, you don't, exactly, have a problem with people living their lives so long as they're not hurting anyone or doing anything illegal. You like to think of yourself as a modern hero and have an open mind.

But what you're looking at right now is putting that to the test.

Debauchery doesn't begin to describe what you just walked into. Depravity isn't just tolerated between the walls of the Devil's Dance Floor. It's the main attraction! The lights are almost nonexistent. The air is heavy the scent of narcotics, sweat, and arousal. Neon strobes to the thudding pulse of the music. Bodies writhe on the dance floor and, more obviously, in cages hung from the ceiling. Often several, and though it may be called dancing, it seems like sex is the main aim of those gyrations. Demons, mortals, it's hard to tell which is which. Tattoos, garish costumes, and sometimes no clothes at all heave among the bodies scattered across the floor. Others populate booths in the corners of the room.

At least you don't stand out in your costume.

Setting your jaw, you start across the floor, heading for the far end. Desmoa will be lurking deeper in the club. You're tempted to just smash through the floor to get there, but there's innocent people in here. Presumably. Probably not that guy lying by a booth, drinking booze being poured down a woman's naked front to drool into his mouth after passing her pussy. Or that woman with a mohawk, leather jacket, and holding the leash of a naked man and woman, both of whom crouch at the punk's feet, nuzzling their owner's leather-clad legs.

You shudder. This is not a place for you. Though some of the displays are so egregious, you can't help but linger on them a bit.

Nonetheless, in short order you find your way to the back of the club. You push open and Employee's Only door, inwardly cringing at breaking an ordinance, even if it is a club populated by literal demons. But it's for a greater good. Unless you're wrong, in which case you'll turn yourself over to the proper authorities.

Your conscious soothed by that assurance, you pass through the door and find your way to a door labeled 'Basement and Fuck Dungeon.'

Bit ominous.

You ease open the door and peer down. Steps of cement descend into the earth, the walls and ceiling lined by pipes and also some torches, which have got to be a fire hazard. Molten heat glowing in your fist to better light your way, you begin your descent down.

Down.

Down into the depths of the fiend's lair.

As you go, you begin to hear sounds. Whispers that murmur just at the edge of hearing, but which seem disturbingly suggestive. Of just what you can't be sure, but you have a feeling it's not tea and cookies. You feel your skin shiver and your manhood thicken with some nameless lust, and you tighten your jaw, doing your best to ignore the sounds.

At the bottom of the steps the whispering grows louder, but now it's joined by a more human voice. Something almost a relief. You creep forward, a glow washing from beyond a pair of curtains which bar your way. You tease them aside and peek through warily, your eyes lighting up triumphantly at the sight before you.

The room is swathed in darkness, save the middle where a slab of stone has been arranged in some devilish altar of leering faces. Atop the altar is what can only be the Skull of Radigan, its horned crown glistening in the low light. A ring of red has been painted around the altar, and filling those rounded lines is the five points of a pentagram. Candles burn at each corner, illuminating the dark scene, including the half a dozen robed young women standing about the circle, candles in their hands as they softly moan and hum in what sounds like Latin.

The woman standing at the head of this congregation and the peak of the diagram is of particular interest. You'd recognize that somewhat mousy hair and beautiful face anywhere. Desmoa is a lovely creature, which may be because of a dark pact with demons or, perhaps, just good skincare routine. Her lush red pigment implies the former, as do the horns sprouting from her brow. You know her figure is a sight to behold, though at the moment it's hidden under the expansive folds of a crimson cloak. Her face is cast half in shadow by the fluttering candles, her eyes shining, her lips soft and pouty as if made for kissing. Currently, they're moving as she chants along the others, and you see flickering lights burn in the eyes of the horned skull.

You tighten your hands into fists. Alright. Time to crash this party!

You burst through the curtain and into the room, soaring over the first few cultists. You land on the altar and before Desmoa. Cultists shriek in surprise and run off even as you reach down and swipe up the horned skull off the altar. You rise up before Desmoa, towering over her with all the authority of righteousness. "Halt, Desmoa!" you declare, hand thrust out, heat powers swirling in your palm. "Or face the fires of justice!"

The robed woman looks utterly unperturbed by your abrupt arrival, and merely lifts her chin to gaze into your eyes with amusement. "Well well. If it isn't Foundry. How have you been?"

"Well! Especially now that I have the relic you stole! Whatever your fiendish plot was, it ends now!"

"Does it?" she asks with a smirk and a lifted brow.

You frown at her. "What-"

The weight hits you like a hammer from the heavens. Your legs instantly shift to bear it, but not even your incredible might seems equal to the sudden pressure on your body. Your eyes shoot to the skull, and you see its sockets burn with a hellish fire of black and red. You grit your teeth, trying to straighten as you look back at the smirking cultist. "F-foul fiend! You think... ah... that this will be enough to s-stop me?"

"Not at all," Desmoa says, lazily flicking some of her dark hair back behind her ear. "Not the mighty Foundry! So large. So strong. So filled with hot power! Such a shame your flames only serve truth, justice, and blah blah blah. Especially when sinning is so much fun."

"I'd n-never lower myself so," you growl.

"No?" she asks, and shrugs.

Her cloak slides off her as if kissing its way down her body. And what a body! Sweet justice, the sluts who populate the club are one thing, but Desmoa is in a league of her own. Her breasts are firm, full and perky. Her ass is taut, lush, and provides perfect counterpoint with her breasts. Her dark curls tumble over her shoulders and her eyelashes flutter like batwings, shading her eyes with lewd temptations. All of this is blatantly clear, because she wears a series of black leather straps and nothing else, the material crisscrossing her body in pentagram patterns that highlights and frames her nipples, pussy and trim tummy.

You can actually feel your jaw drop at the sight of her, recalling yourself only once you hear her laugh. "Like what you see?" she asks, turning in place, a spaded tail swishing in the air.

"N-no!" you gasp.

"Oh really?" she says, giving you a coy look. "Then my little ritual shouldn't affect you."

"Ritual?"

"Of course! I was trying to summon a demon, you were right there. But I wasn't going to be its host. You are! Your every step through here awakened your lust, weakening your defences against its hellish presence. And once you have fallen to its power, your mind and body corrupted with its infernal malice and powers, you will become a demon lord. And I will be your devoted sex slave, bearing you deeper into the realms of sadistic pleasures!"

"What!" you yelp. But even as you do, you feel the insidious presence around you. A whispering emanates from the skull, and you see a shadowy strand wrap around your arm, down your torso. Its touch is a sinuous, slithering stroking that seems to caress you. Stir you. Your manhood thickening and throbbing in the tightness of your costume. "D-damn you, Desmoa," you gasp. "You.. you fiend!"

"I am," she purrs, eyes flashing. "And soon, you will be one too. Now surrender, Foundry. Surrender to the pleasure of hell itself!"

You grit your teeth. You... you mustn't. You... you...

You Resist

You Can't Resist

You Can't Resist

You tremble as you try and deny the insidious presence. It's taking all your focus to keep it at bay. But that's more than you can manage with Desmoa tantalizing you like she is, her figure seeming to shimmer in the flickering red of the candles as she spins round and round, her long lashes fluttering suggestively at you, a smirk hovering on her lovely lips.

"Mmmm. That's right," she purrs as her hands glide over her figure, her hips rocking. Her breasts bouncing on her chest. "Give in, Foundry. Give in to your lusts. Give in to the darkness that lurks inside you. I know you can feel it. Feel it surging in you. Pulsing in you. Telling you it's alright to give in to your worst instincts. Give in to lust. To wrath. To pride and cruelty."

"N-never!" you gasp, a word that feels weak even to you. Especially with the throbbing lust radiating from your heavy balls. Your aching cock. A lust that thumps in your veins, urging you to give in. To not resist. To just seize this cocky bitch, bend her over, and make her yours. Make the world yours! It would be so easy. So easy to just give in...

"Do it," Desmoa purrs, her molten eyes hot with desire for you. Her hands stroking the firm, lush orbs of her ass. "Give in and fuck me. Give in and just. Fucking. Rail me!" she gasps, delivering a spank to herself that makes your whole body jolt with desire. "Make me yours. Make me your bitch. Your slut. I'd do anything for you, Foundry. Anything for my demonic master. I know you want to. I know you've got to."

Yes.

Yes, you need to.

N-no! No you don't!

But you want to.

You want to shove her face into the floor as you saw your fat, thick cock into her fertile pussy. You want to mate her. Breed her! Fucking ruin her! Take what you want. Take what you deserve! You deserve everything. You deserve it all!

And you can take it. You have the power. The strength. The might! You just need the will.

But you mustn't.

But you can.

No.

Yes.

No... no...

Yes. Yes! YES!

“Yesssssss!” you bellow the pressure that once pressed down on you suddenly gone. Now it seems to rush into you. Fill you! Swell you with energy and need and purpose. Your costume tears around your body like you grew two sizes in an instant. Naked, uncaring of that fact, you surge forward, grabbing Desmoa. She gasps as you shove her up against the wall. Your hand on her head, you relish the power of that moment. The ability to break her if it so suits you. You know it. She knows it.

And she loves it.

“Yessss,” Desmoa gasps, her body rocking, her hips pushing her ass back and against the throbbing length of your cock. “Fuck me, master. Make me yours!”

Her eager submissiveness sends heat coiling through you. It pumps in your veins as you press forward, the thick slab of your cock pushing her legs apart, slickening her thighs as you grind yourself between her legs and against her pussy.

“You want this?” you growl.

“Yes, master,” she gasps.

Fuck but you love how she calls you master.

The heat that burns within you seems hotter than ever. Radiating through your flushed body. You can actually see flickers of flame burning across your skin, as if your lusts are being given physical form. “You were such a fucking tease,” you say as you press your tip against her pussy-lips, holding yourself back from filling her, even as she whines and wriggles eagerly to taste it. “Such a slut. Is this what you wanted? Is this what it was all about? Getting this fat, fucking cock inside you like the slut you are?”

“It was. It was, master!” she gasps, the shameless need in her voice stirring you even further. “I’m just a slut! A shameless whore for you!”

You lean in, steam hissing from between your clenched teeth and into her ear. “And don’t you fucking forget it.”

And with that, you thrust home.

Desmoa screams in ecstasy as your cock fills her to the brim. As you draw back and drive into her again. Again! The tightness of her rippling pussy urging you into her. To thrust. To fuck! To mate this bitch like the slut she is. To turn her into your personal cock-sleeve!

And you're going to do it.

You're going to take her.

Fuck her.

Fill her so she never forgets it. Never forgets how it feels to be under you. To be fucked by you. To be owned by you!

Because this is what you are.

This is what you deserve.

And it's.

All.

YOURS!

"Yesssss!" you roar, heat radiating from you, fire licking across your flame. Horns sprouting from your brow and demonic wings of living flame ignite upon your back, stretching wide with your power and triumph! You drive forward, rutting into Desmoa's tight body so hard the foundations of the club shake. "Yes! Take it, whore! Take your master's cock!"

"Ah! Nnnn! Yes! Yes master! Your s-slave loves it. Loves it! Loooooves iiiiiit!" Desmoa wails in shameless bliss, the buckles of her straps jangling as she thrusts back against your cock, riding it with blissful moans and whimpers and wails as you utterly dominate her. Utterly use her! Fuck her. Take her! Make her yours!

And she knows it. Fuck, she loves it! You feel her pussy tighten and flex as you plow her. Fuck! Was this what you were missing out on? Was this what you'd been denied for so long? Well, no more. No. Fucking. More! You're going to do whatever you want from now on. Use your power how you like it.

Starting with breeding this bitch.

And then?

Oh, you've got plans.

You grin savagely, Desmoa's moans hitching every time you stuff her anew with your cock.

Oh yes.

You'e got big... big plans...

Rise of Hellforged

You Resist

You tense every muscle in your body, hands tightening to fists as you struggle to defy the demon its purchase on your body and soul. You will not become its tool! You will not surrender yourself to its dark power. You are a hero! And you will remain so.

Desmoa pouts as she looks you up and down. “Hmm. Seems you had more control than I thought,” she says.

“Of course,” you gasp. “I will never submit to your malign influence!”

“Oh really? Not even if I do... this?” she asks, stretching out her hands and beckoning.

Giggling, two of the cultists who’d been hiding behind the room’s pillars prance up to their dark mistress, shedding their cloaks to reveal slender, nubile figures of blossoming womanhood in utter, unashamed nudity. One a blonde, the other a brunette, both almost painfully beautiful.

Oh no.

You feel horror and arousal rise within you as the two beauties fall into the arms of Desmoa. She smirks at you, tilts her head and begins kissing the blonde acolyte. The girl moans in shameless bliss, shivering in carnal pleasure as her lips meet her mistress’s. The brunette whines in need until Desmoa switches, dipping her head to kiss her too, her hands stroking the two beauties as their own explore Desmoa’s curves.

As you watch you feel your control slip. A sudden surge of the demon’s powers. Quickly, you...

Close Your Eyes

Keep Watching

Keep Watching

You can't tear your eyes from the lurid scene. The way those female bodies move. How they grind and rut and wriggle against each other. The way the cultists whimper and writhe in Desmoa's grasp. How her hands stroke them, teasing them. With the brunette she kisses, she works one hand around the girl's chests and to her breasts, squeezing and massaging those plump orbs. With her other hand her fingers glide between the blonde's legs, delving into the lush delta of the cultist's fluttering pussy, stroking the girl's slick lips teasingly.

"Ohhhh mistress! Your fingers are... are in my nnnn!" the blonde being masturbated by Desmoa cries.

The villainess chuckles, cupping the breasts of her partner and pinching her helpless, puffy nipples.

"Ah!" the brunette cries in blissful pain and mingled pleasure. "Mistress! P-please, pinch my nipples more."

You feel the pressure of the demonic presence press further into you as you grow aroused by the scene. You tighten your resolve and feel it stall. As you do, you catch Desmoa's eye, and she smirks playfully.

"Oh my pretties," the succubus purrs insidiously, her hand leaving the brunette's breasts to glide down the girl's ass, a finger rubbing against that dark star. "Mmm. I see you're been stretching properly. Your ass is so tight yet so... mmm... flexible. Here, get down on your knees, babies. Mistress's pussy needs some deep... deep and loving attention."

The pair giggle. "Oh yes, mistress," they moan, sliding down to their knees, every inch of their journey marked by their lips pressing adoring kisses to Desmoa's naked flesh.

The pair come to their knees before Desmoa, and you feel your breath hitch at the sight of them squatting like pets before their lovely mistress, their deft tongues beginning to stroke and lap at the gash of her pussy, their rumps wiggling shamelessly, pushing against each other as they jockey for a better spot licking out the succubus.

"Oh yesssss," Desmoa moans in careless pleasure, her hands resting on the pair's heads, pushing them harder against her pussy. "That's iiiit. Such goooood girls I have. Mmmm. Mistress is so pleased."

"Mmm. Mistress. You taste so good."

"Mmm. She is. She's so good."

Your chest heaves with your breathing. Your cock throbs against the tight fabric of your costume. You feel again the dark presence slip further into you, taking advantage of your loss of control. Its insidious presence fills your arms and legs like sand being poured into your limbs. Stretching through your chest. You grit your teeth, trying to fight back against the presence.

But it does you no good.

Not with the sight of the trio shamelessly pleasuring each other before you.

Not with their pants and moans and whimpers filling your ears.

Not with the scent of their bodies and sex thick as a miasma in the air.

Not when you feel so hard. So horny. Every breath coming in a ragged gasp. Your muscles straining against the pressure of the demon's control. Jigging Jehovas you're hard. So fucking hard. So horny. If only it was you... you between those gorgeous girls. You taking your pleasure from Desmoa's pussy. You fucking her. Rutting you. Seizing the pleasure owed to you.

And why not? you wonder as you feel your breathing grow hot. Your body hotter than ever, like the furnace which burns within you is blazing to a new intensity. Why shouldn't you get that pleasure? Who cares if Desmoa is a villainess? Who cares if she trades in pain and suffering?

In fact, you think as your costume burns away, your skin turning a reddish hue, your muscles bulging almost grotesquely as fires seem to ignite on your very skin. In fact, maybe she's right. Maybe it's right. You're so strong, you could have anything you like. Anything you desire! And you desire her.

Yes. Yes! The thoughts fill your head as a dark smirk finds its place on your lips. As horns sprout from your brow. Unholy might filling your thews! She's what you deserve. Who cares about heroism? Who cares about justice? You should just take what you want!

And you.

Want.

HER!

"Raaaaa!" you bellow, straining, roaring, the pressure that once bound you shattering like chains. Flames roar from your frame. Wings of them igniting and stretching from your back. A crown of fire blazing between your mighty horns. You're strong. Powerful! Filled with unhallowed might!

Desmoa gazes at you, her eyes alight. Excited. Delighted! And so she should be. You lower your arms, feeling the strength within you. Strength beyond the mortal. Beyond the human. Beyond even the superhuman you once were. You're more. More everything. More powerful. More manly. More lustful! And finally, finally! You're willing to take what you want.

"Master," Desmoa says, shoving her two supplicants away before dropping to her knees before you. "How shall we serve you?"

You snort. "I think you know," you growl, gesturing at the almost inhumanely hefty girth of your manhood.

You see a shudder of pure excitement wrack Desmoa. "Oh yes," she breathes, crawling forward. "Oh yes, master."

You grunt as she hefts the thick, molten slab of your cock, her lips beginning to kiss their way up and down it, adoring you. Downright worshipping your throbbing length.

And she's right to.

You deserve it.

In fact, you deserve more.

You deserve riches.

You deserve power.

You deserve everything. You look back on the morals that held you back and sneer. You think of the preaching that confined you from your destiny with disgust. To think! You had all this power and were content to serve humanity.

But no.

You deserve more.

You deserve to rule over them!

You smirk as you settle into this realization, Desmoa gasping and panting as she's overwhelmed by the lurid scent and heat of your cock. You notice that it's not her mouth alone that's adoring your manhood and glance down to see her two cultists kneeling before you as well, their lips also lewdly kissing and worshipping at the unholy altar of your cock.

Mmm. Yes. The first of many...

But far... far... from the last...

Rise of Hellforged

Close Your Eyes

You slam your eyes shut, knowing this is the only way. But though you cannot see, you can still hear.

“Ohhhh mistress! Your fingers are... are in my nnnn!”

“Ah! Mistress! P-please, pinch my nipples more.”

“Oh my pretties,” you hear Desmoa purr. “I see you’re been stretching properly. Your ass is so tight yet so... mmm... flexible. Here, get down on your knees. Mistress’s pussy needs some deep... loving attention.”

“Oh yes, mistress!”

You hear the shuffle of bodies. The moan of pleasure.

“Mmm. Mistress. You taste so good.”

“Mmm. She is. She’s so good.”

“Naughty girls. Look at you, fighting to be the ones to lick me out. And Tara! I saw you shove her like that. Naughty naughty. Here. Climb up on my leg and suckle my breast as I spank you.”

“Yes, mistress. Ah!”

You flinch at the sharp crack of flesh on flesh.

“Naughty girl. Have you been naughty?”

“Yes! Yes mistress! Ah! Naughty! Your slave has been sooo naughty! P-please, punish me. Punish me moooooore!”

Again and again you hear the crack of flesh on flesh. Almost drowning out (but never quite) the gentle lapping sound of a stroking tongue. The heaving pants that begin to grow with Desmoa.

“Yes,” the conniving succubus moans. “That’s it, girls. That’s iiiiiiit. Oh fuck. Oh fuck yess. Yessss! Oh fuck yesssssss! Mnnnnn!”

You wince as you hear her wail of orgasm. But you’re firm. You’re your own man. You will not fall into her fiendish clutches of pleasure!

And even as you think this, you sense the hold on you weaken. The demonic grasp that clung to you slipping away, the whispering voice of the infernal power hissing in fury as it recedes from you. The weight lifts from your form, and you stagger as you suddenly feel free of its dark influence.

Your eyes snap open and glare at Desmoa, who lies there on the floor amid her two thralls in obvious satisfaction. She pouts when you step towards her and loom above her.

“Drat,” she huffs.

“That’s right, fiend!” you growl, reaching down and dragging her to her feet by the straps covering her chest, ignoring her sycophant lovers who scurry away into the shadows. “Your ploy has failed! I remain free!”

“Mmm. True. And I love it when you’re rough with me,” she purrs.

You curl your lip in disgust. “You’re depraved, Desmoa. Sick!”

“You’re sooo right,” she sighs, head tilting sideways, her body beginning to wriggle suggestively. “I’m a very bad girl. Such a naughty, naughty bitch scheming like this. I definitely need to be punished.”

“Damn right you do,” you snap.

“Uh huh. And I think I’d reaaaaally learn my lesson if you helped.”

You scowl, instantly suspicious. “What?”

“Yeah. If you punished me for being sooooo naughty, like with a thorough, heavy spanking, I bet I’d be a much sweeter citizen,” she said coyly. “Why, I might even feel so regretful, I might drop a bit of info. About a certain chatroom.”

You narrow your eyes. “Would you now?”

“Absoluuuutely,” she purrs with a flutter of her lashes.

Punish this Villainess

Let the Courts Punish Her

Punish the Villainess

You know it's a bad idea, but if you can glean some info from the demonic temptress, then it's surely worth it. And, well, you'd be lying if you said you hadn't thought about doing something like this now and then. And to have the opportunity to go through with it with such a voluptuous villainess? Well...

"Very well," you growl, taking a seat on the altar and laying Desmoa on your lap. "I will see you punished."

"Oh yesssss," Desmoa moans, wriggling on your lap and giving you a lewd glance. "Punish me. Punish me haaaard."

"This is not for your enjoyment," you growl, raising your hand. "This is for your misdeeds!"

Your hand comes down. Not too hard. But firmly. Strongly. And with stern vigour. The sound of your palm spanking her lush bottom echoes in the infernal lounge, Desmoa rocking forward on your lap with a cry of pure bliss.

"Oh yesssss!" she moans. "Again! Punish me again!"

"Oh, I will," you growl huskily, trying to ignore the way your cock throbs in your pants, stretching your costume and pressing against Desmoa's stomach. "I'm going to teach you a lesson you'll never forget!"

Again your hand comes down, striking her ass vigorously. She cries out in bliss as you do, every blow making her moan and writhe in downright masochistic pleasure. You can actually feel her arousal drool from her pussy and onto your leg.

"Yes! Yes! Nnnn! Bad girl! I'm a baaaad girl! A naaaaughty girl! A stupid slut! Oh fuck... fuck yes. Punish me, master. Punish your bitch!"

"Talk first," you grunt, your breathing grown hot, your mind almost forgetting the whole point of this exercise isn't to get this slut off, but to pump her for information. "What do you know about this crime wave?"

"Mnnnn. I... I know a lot. So f-finger me too. I'll tell you everything if you just... ah... just shove those fingers in my whore pussy!"

“Oh no,” you growl. “I’ll do that only after you talk. Now tell me, you vile slut!” you command, another stinging blow of your hand cracking across her ass. “Tell me about this plot against the city and me!”

A wail of bliss escapes the sultry cultist. “Ohhhh! Yes! Yes, master! Ah... I don’t... don’t know who put the board or group t-together. But I got... got a DM from the mod that today... today would be the day we all strike. All to... ah... all to get you.”

“So they were all after me?” you say.

“Mmmm. Yes. Whoever defeats you gets to... to keep you as a stud. But... but we also agreed we’d share you around too. Every girl... ah... every villainess gets a... a taste of your cock if we participate.”

“But who?” you press, gliding your hand along the crease of her rump, finger sliding down between her legs and stroking the lips of her pussy. “Who is the one who arranged all this?”

“Mnnnn!” Desmoa groans, quivering in ecstasy. “Her... her name is... her name is...”

“Miss Deeds?” you say. It does have the ring of a villain’s name, but you can’t place it. “Never heard of her.”

“Me either. But... but she put this all together. So please! Pleeese make me cum, master! I told you everything I know!”

You wonder if that’s true? But odds are you won’t be able to get anything more out of her that isn’t whorish begging. “Fine,” you grunt. “Then here’s your reward.”

You push two fingers forward and into her. Desmoa groans in shameless pleasure, her inner walls squeezing your fingers in ecstasy, coating your digits in her hot arousal. “Yes!” she gasps. “Oh yessss! By the hells... ah... Fuck me. M-make me cum, master. Make your slut cum! I’m a bad girl. A baaaad girrrrr! I deserve nnnn! Deserve to be punished! Ah. Ah! Yes. Oh yessss! Bad girl wants to cum. Bad girl needs to cum!”

You force yourself not to answer her, instead driving your fingers in and out of her. Stroking her as she wriggles, whines and moans. Degrading. Humiliating. Yet it’s so unbearably hot you can barely stand it.

“Yes! Yes! Oh. Oh! Ohhhhh fuck yessssss!”

Her final wail signals the end. With a shuddering moan she cums, her juices spurting onto your leg as she bucks with the rippling bliss of her orgasm. You milk it from her, slowly and firmly, massaging her pussy until she flops, boneless and spent on your legs.

You pull your fingers from her with a lewd, wet popping sound and hastily wipe your hand on her thigh. “W-well,” you cough as you stand, hoisting Desmoa over your shoulder. “I... certainly hope you learned your lesson, you fiend.”

“Ohhhh yesssss,” she moans, spaded tail swishing happily.

“Good,” you grunt, flushing a bit at the carnal act you’d just performed. But it may just have been worth it. You now know for sure this wave of crime hitting your fair city was a ploy all along to get you. And you also have a name for who was doing it. Miss Deeds was it?

Interesting...

Clearing your throat, you waste no more time hurrying out of the club. No one tries to impede you, too locked in their private debauchery to pay you any mind. Soon enough you exit the club and immediately fly for the nearest police station.

As you do, you contact Muse and relay what you’ve learned.

“Miss Deeds, huh? Never heard of her.”

“Me either. But see if there’s anything in the database.”

“I’ll try, Foundry. But things are crazy here.”

“Just do your best,” you say as the police station comes into view and you land outside of it. You get a few stunned looks from some civilians passing by, but you ignore them and quickly head inside.

The station is almost empty, which, given the current civic emergency, isn’t too surprising, and you gladly fork over Desmoa to the remaining cops. Even as you do however, you hear the familiar crackle in your ear.

“Foundry! We’ve got trouble!”

You turn away from the satisfying sight of Desmoa getting the cuffs slapped on her and put your hand to your ear. “What is it, Sage?”

Let the Courts Punish Her

You shake your head firmly. “I’m not falling for that one again,” you growl, tucking her under your arm.

“You’re no fun,” Desmoa whines, kicking like a brat, though unable to escape your super strength.

“Justice isn’t supposed to be fun. It’s supposed to be satisfying and encouraging to exist as a model to others!”

“Ugh,” Desmoa groans, rolling her eyes. “Just take me to jail.”

You do so, quickly departing the club. No one tries to impede you, too locked in their private debauchery to pay you any mind. As soon as you’re free of the place you immediately take to the sky, heading for the nearest police station.

Rise of Hellforged

Turns out world domination is a bit harder than you thought.

It takes time. Investment. Effort.

And sluts. Can't forget the sluts.

"Let me get this straight," you growl as you lounge in your throne, carved from the very bedrock of the formerly extinct volcano. "You want all of Europe?"

"Is that too much to ask?" the villainous Miss Deeds asks. "After all, it's not just for me, but for all the lovely ladies I can bring to the table. And you do want that, don't you?"

You frown at the screen and the woman on the other side. You do want that. But saying so seems a bit weak. Especially to someone like Miss Deeds. Desmoa explained all about the villainess to you after you gave her a thorough breeding weeks ago. Apparently the woman before you led the little alliance of villainesses who'd conspired to claim you as their own.

Obviously, that didn't really work out. After all, you're now here. In command of a stolen island in the South Pacific. And unspeakably powerful, with a literal cult of beautiful women all clamouring to be the first to get a taste of your cock. But once you'd established your evil lair and set yourself up comfortably, you started to think about broader schemes. Like world domination. And as amazing as you are, it would surely be easier to conquer the world with more minions. So you got Desmoa to contact Miss Deeds. And now comes the bargaining.

And sure, on some level, you're annoyed that the woman before you had the gall to think of claiming you for herself and her coterie. But on the other hand, she is quite hot.

Your eyes drag up and down her. The apparently tech-based villainess isn't afraid to show off her body, to judge by the skintight costume, her curves lit up with the glow of data streams threaded through the white fabric. Her blonde hair spills down her shoulders, and though she does wear an encompassing mask that hides her face utterly, you're willing to bet on her being beautiful too. You stroke your flaming goatee thoughtfully, your cock giving a hungry throb, and not just because of the lips currently adoring it. Maybe there's something that can be done here...

"Alright," you say slowly. "I'm willing to let you and your little... organization claim Europe. But there's going to be a condition."

"Which is?"

You grin. "You can each have a country in there. But you'll all rule on my behalf, as my queens."

"Your queens?" she says, amusement plain in her voice.

"My queens," you growl, leaning back in with a smirk. "And as my queens, I'd naturally be in charge of ensuring you had plenty of powerful heirs."

"So not only would we be under your rule, but we'd be your brides and sluts?" Miss Deeds asks wryly. But despite the demand, she seems more amused than angry.

"Will that be a problem?" you grunt.

A discordant chuckle comes from the villainess's altered voice. "I don't see how. In fact, I think some of my associates will see that as a bit of a bonus."

"As they should," you grunt, settling back in your throne with a lazy smirk. "Make the offer to your women, and get back to me. I'll arrange for a meeting date in my lair. To discuss matters and... demonstrate the benefits of belonging to me."

"Looking forward to it," Miss Deeds says, and not even her voice changer can hide the heat in her tone.

"Me too," you growl, and with a gesture shut off the screen.

"Sounds like... that went well... master..." Desmoa says from beneath you.

"Less talk, more tongue," you growl, reaching down and pushing her back into your balls.

The lesser demoness obeys readily, her tongue returning to its task of polishing the hefty orbs of your bollocks. You groan in pleased satisfaction, tilting back your head, wings of flame lazily flapping with your pleasure. Yessss. This is the life. The dream! To be mighty. To be powerful. To conspire about world domination while a gorgeous woman polishes your cock and balls, your throne room littered with lesser sluts you've already had the satisfaction of pleasuring.

You gaze lazily about your hellish throne room. A dozen of the most beautiful women in your cult lie sprawled about, moaning and limp after the absolute punishing fucking you gave each of them. And soon, you'll have over a dozen literal villainesses at our beck and call. Not just that, though. There's a good number of stunning heroines out in the world, and it would be a shame to kill them once you conquer the place.

In fact...

"Desmoa?" you growl.

“Mhmm?” the succubus hums as her tongue glides along the heft of your ball.

“That ritual you did with me. Would it be possible to do the same with a heroine? Fill her with a demoness and turn her into my eager, fertile slut?”

“Mhmm,” Desmoa moans in confirmation, kissing her way up your turgid shaft, each press of her lips leaving purple marks of lipstick along your veiny length.

You growl in anticipation. “Good,” you grunt. “Very good. And you can do it?”

“Mmm hmmm,” she hums, delivering a particularly adoring kiss to the very tip of your cock.

“Perfect,” you growl, lazily looping your hand in the leash leading to her spiked collar. You give it a tug, dragging your first bride off your cock, tugging her against the base of your throne as you gaze hotly down into her eager eyes. “Enough of your mouth. Ride my cock, slut. I want to feel my cum stuffing your womb again.”

“Ohhh, with pleasure, master,” Desmoa breathes, panting and trembling in slavish anticipation.

You know it is. You give her leash another tug, pulling her to her feet. With downright reverence Desmoa climbs onto your lap, straddling you and positioning herself right above the turgid thickness of your manhood. The thick, heavy head of your cock nudges against her slick folds, and with a blessed moan Desmoa begins to feed your girth into the tightness of her pussy.

You groan in pleasure as you feel the slut get filled with your cock. Hells, you don’t know how she manages to stay so tight, but every time you stuff her is like the first time. It’s like she made herself perfect for your cock. In fact, that may well be what she did. It would hardly surprise you. In fact, it would only delight you more.

“Ohhhhhh masterrrrr,” she groans. “You’re so... mnnn... so biiiiiig.”

“Thaaaat’s right,” you grunt as your huge hands grasp her shapely hips. “And it’s your big reward... for being such a good slut.”

“Th-thank you, master,” Desmoa gasps, her eyes shining with bliss and love as she gazes down at you in worship. “Thank you... Thank you masterrrrrr. It feels... mnnn... feels so goood! Can I... ah... can I r-ride you now, master?”

You mull it over, drawing out the moment, enjoying the feeling of her shuddering and wriggling, impaled atop your cock like some carnal figurehead of a ship. At last you give a nod. “You may,” you say, and to prove how generous you are, you even lift her by the ass, your massive cock sliding out almost the entire way out of her before you drop her back down.

“Ah!” she cries in bliss as she hiltz you again, her inner walls tightening with a glorious flex of pure, fluttering pleasure. “M-master! Thank y-you masterrrrrrr!”

You grunt, bouncing her atop your cock, the wet slap of your balls impacting the plushness of her ass soon filling the chamber. Her moans and cries of slavish pleasure devolving into wordless ecstasy

Groaning in satisfied pleasure, you settle back in your throne, admiring the sight of your eager demonic slave riding your cock. Though she may have transformed you into what you are now, what the future holds is utterly in your hands. You may have been one of the world’s greatest defenders as a hero, but as a villain, you will be its greatest threat.

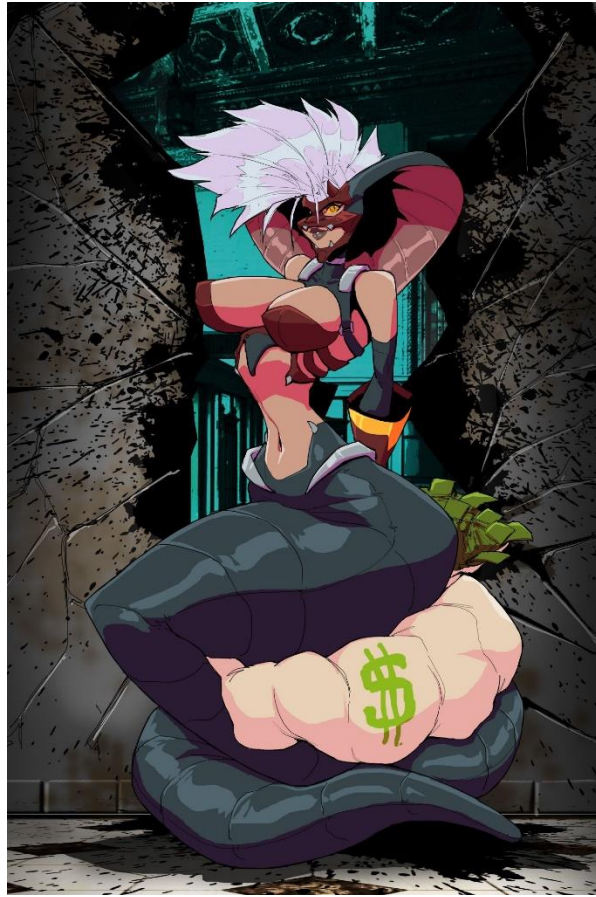

And once you have broken all of Miss Deeds’s allies upon the pillar of your cock, nothing will stop you from taking Europe. America. The world!

For it is what you deserve...

Bad End

Lady Lash

Your hand snaps to your earpiece in shock. “What!” you shout, but when you notice the officers about the station look your way in alarm you hastily duck your head, dropping your voice as you hurry towards the doors. “What?” you gasp. “Starburst is in trouble? What happened?”

“I don’t know!” Muse protests, the sound of her fingers clicking across keys audible through your earpiece. “I sent her to deal with a break-in at the Megacity Art Gallery. But I haven’t heard from her in over an hour! Something must have gone wrong.”

“I’m on my way, Muse,” you declare, bursting out the doors of the station and immediately taking flight, soaring into the sky like a rocket. And for good reason. You haven’t a moment to delay! Starburst is one of the greatest heroes among the new generation. An alien abandoned on earth, she gets her powers from the stars themselves, granting her super strength, flight, and the ability to manipulate light itself in the form of several orbs. And though she was raised by a group of Mennonite farmers, she burst onto the scene in the city in grand style and has been a beacon of goodness in these dark times. Truly an inspiration!

And if she's in trouble, that's bad news indeed. There are few villains who could take her in a fair fight. Though, villains rarely ever fight fair. And this crime wave is sure to have brought out the most underhanded of all.

You see the curious architecture of the Megacity Art Gallery below and hastily alter your path towards it. Ugh. You really don't care for this building. The architect clearly wanted to do some avant-garde design, but the way random angles jut out makes the place look like a porcupine of billowing sails.

Still, ugly as it may be, you're here to do a job, and spot a skylight as you scan the building. A hole in the glass marks where the villain entered, or possibly Starburst. She's not known for her subtle entrances. No sense in ruining more glass, and you plunge through the hole and into the building.

You land in a large room. Paintings of landscapes pace the walls and sculptures rise here and there, many little more than random shapes cobbled together in no doubt thought-provoking work, had you time to provoke them.

"Well well well. Look who'ssss come to vissssit."

You whirl towards the sinuous voice, your fists raised in wary readiness. You find yourself looking at one of several statues that dot the room. It's of a powerful man, hand raised towards the heavens, his physique literally sculpted. At the base is a plaque that declares the statue as Might of Man.

Yet there is more to the statue than just physical male perfection. There's female ones too. Two of them. One of them is Starburst, though you've never seen her like that before. Her expression is slack, her eyes filled with a strange, violet swirl of purples. Otherwise it's her all over. The same white costume slashed with blue and yellow stars, her hair long, bouncy blonde locks and her figure... well, you certainly won't disparage her heroism, but there's a reason she gets brand deals on everything from sports drinks to cars. Her breasts are plump, full, and stretch the curve of her costume generously, while her hourglass figure offers a generous gander of an ass in perfect counterpoint to her bust.

The second element which cannot be ignored is the sinuous figure wrapped around Starburst and the statue. At first you didn't notice her, given her costume is an inky black, as is the serpentine lower half which holds Starburst tight. Glossy scales shimmer and a human upper half is adorned by a costume that leaves nothing to the imagination, clinging as it does to large breasts with firm, pebbly nipples. Her hair is long and black and tied up in a ponytail. Her face is half-hidden behind a mask like a cobra's hood and fangs, which does nothing to hide her sharp featured beauty, nor the subtle purple glow that swirls in her eyes.

"Lady Lash," you growl, instantly recognizing the serpentine villainess. "I should have known you would slither from your hiding place during this!"

"Yes," she purrs, her voice a sinuous hiss as her coils lazily flex around the statue and Starburst, the latter giving a soft, needy moan of purest pleasure. "You sssshould have known, Foundry. Essspecially after you tossed me into prisssson for a decade!"

"Your crimes deserved far more," you growl, narrowing your eyes. "But how did you escape Lee Penitentiary?"

She chuckles, lazily stroking Starburst's face, the heroine leaning in to the teasing touch with a whimper. "Mmm. Wouldn't you like to know?"

"Yes. I would. That's why I asked."

"Well too bad!" she snaps at you. "I owe you nothing. Nothing but making you my latesssst prize and punishing you for two yearssss locked away in that plasssse. Though, while I waited, I wassss pleasssed to acquire myssssself another quite fetching... pet," she adds, lazily reaching down and cupping Starburst's breast, giving that plush orb a playful squeeze.

The heroine shivers, a pathetic mewl of pleasure escaping her as her swirling eyes gaze in dim adoration at the insidious serpent woman looming beside her. Ugh. Just the sight makes you scowl. And your manhood throb, but that's neither here nor there. For this is Lash's way. Sensuous corruption and evil. All too familiar to you, unfortunately. You've faced her several times before.

"Let her go, Lash," you growl, dropping into a fighting stance, your fists glowing with your heat powers. "Or face the consequences!"

"Did you hear that, ssssweet thing?" Lash coos, tickling under Starburst's chin, making the heroine whimper and squirm in slavish delight. "He wantssss to hurt me! How very naughty. You wouldn't let that happen to me, would you?"

"Nooooo," Starburst moans, trembling with horror, her jaw slack with shock. "Not hurt mistress!"

Lash's lips quirk. "Mmm. That'sssss what I thought. Now, be a good girl and deal with the mean man, won't you?"

Oh blast. You grimace as Lash's coils loosen around Starburst. For a moment the heroine almost falls, but then her powers manifest, surrounding her in a golden glow. Sparks crackle around her as four orbs of golden light manifest, orbiting her like miniature stars, and from whence she gained her superhero name.

Her dim, spiralling eyes lock on you, and her face twists in hatred as she shoots towards you like a comet.

Try and Break Through to Starburst

Go After Lash

You brace yourself as Starburst rockets towards you, the globes of light around her burning with power. Two wrap around her hands in fists of power, and she swings at you.

You swerve out of her range, letting her fire past, but your attention is on the serpentine woman still mounted on the statue. If you can take down Lash, you'll free Starburst from her nefarious mind control. A simple solution to this problem.

That in mind, you extend your arm, a blast of heat firing from your palm at the villainess.

Lash snarls and slithers around the statue like a lizard, your blast merely blowing the stone figure's head off. You wince but fire again, only for your shot to go wide as a blast of energy crashes into your back, sending you spinning through the air.

You recover quickly from the impact and glance around to see Starburst coming at you again, her face knit with anger you dared attack her mistress, orbs of light burning red hot with her fury.

"Good girl!" you hear Lash cackle from the statue. "Take him, my pretty! And misstresssss will be so very pleasssssed!"

"Yessss!" Starburst cries happily, her face glowing again in ecstasy of anticipation. She swings her hands towards you, sending two of the orbs at you like cannon balls.

"Starburst, stop this!" you bellow, firing a quick pair of heat blasts to try and intercept the orbs. But much to your alarm, the orbs weave around your attacks and keep coming!

You fly back, trying to keep one eye on Lash. Dammit! She's off the statue and among the other displays. You swing around and try and intercept her, but one of the orbs slam into your stomach like a wrecking ball.

You grunt, thrown off your aim. You try and bat the orb away, but another smashes into your face, spinning you around. Dammit! You don't have time for this. Concentrating, you gather a mass of your power into yourself, your skin glowing red with heat. Crimson static crackles over your body. "Heat Dooooome!" you shout, thrusting your arms and legs out, unleashing your power, a wave of blistering heat radiating out from you, obliterating the two orbs.

Breathing hard, you lower your arms as your dome of power fades. Now, where-

Starburst slams into your back, her arms and legs wrapping around you in a lock. "Starburst!" you snap, struggling as the pair of you bob in midair. "Get off me! You don't know what you're--"

An orb slams into your face.

Another from the other side.

A third hits your stomach hard, doubling you over and driving the wind out of you. You try and fight back, but your heat dome took more out of you than you thought.

Another hit drives into your side. A flurry of body blows descends on you as the orbs pummel your helpless body, still held captive by Starburst's grasp. You sink out of the air, losing concentration. Even consciousness struggles until at last you drop down, landing hard on the gallery's floor.

You kneel there, panting, frantically trying to recover your breath even as Starburst yanks your arms back, forcing you to arch. Her breasts are awfully soft against your back. And pretty stars spin before your eyes.

"Well done, sssslave. Well done indeed."

You feel the pretty lady behind your shiver and moan. "Th-thank you, mistress."

"Of coursssse. And assess for you, hero..."

Slim fingers grab your chin and wrench your face around. You blink as you find yourself staring into eyes. Eyes filled with purple spirals. Panic grips you. You-

You...

You stare into those pits.

Those spinning hues.

Stare and relax.

Stare and feel everything just... slip away.

All your thoughts.

All your worries.

All the things that made you try and fight.

“Thaaat’sssss iiiit,” a voice says. A wonderful voice. You know that voice. It’s mistress’s voice. Lovely mistress. Wonderful, glorious mistress... “Jussssst relaaaax for me, hero. Jussssst give in.”

“G-give in?” you groan, head lolling. Something... something about that seems... seems wrong, somehow. But...

“Aw,” Lash coos, stroking your cheek. “Are you hessssitating? Naughty naughty. Fortunately, we have a ssssolution. Don’t we, pet?”

“Yes, mistress,” you hear Starburst moan behind you.

“Then sssshow this nice plaything how misstresssss doessss thingssss.”

“Yes, mistress.”

You feel the hold on you slip away, allowing your arms to flop to your sides. But before you can think of what to do with them Lash’s coils wrap around your chest, pinning your arms to your body. You shift, wriggling, but though her coils are strong, you think you can break their hold. Which... which you think you should do.

Right?

Before you can decide, however, you see Starburst has slid around to your front. The heroine smiles in dim happiness as she undoes the front of your costume. W-wait. What...?

“What are... ah!” you gasp as Starburst frees your cock from your costume, the heroine’s eyes glowing with their spirals as she stares at your thick manhood.

“Why look at that,” Lash coos, leaning in closer, her breasts in the tight, rubbery fabric of her costume wobbling an inch from your stunned face. “It ssseemssss that your girth wassssn’t exaggerated. And I bet my pet hassss fantassssized about it assss well. Haven’t you?”

“Yes, mistress,” Starburst breathes, practically drooling over the sight of your twitching manhood.

Lash titters, her hand resting on Starburst’s blonde hair, fingers gently massaging her scalp. “Mmm. I imagine sssso. And here’ssss your chance, pet. To do what you’ve sssso long wisshed to.”

“Yes, mistress,” Starburst whimpers, Lash’s hand pushing her head forward, the heroine’s mouth opening wide.

"I... w-wait. You... nnnn!" you groan as Starburst's lips capture your cock. Your body tightens in pleasure as the sleeve of Starburst's lips and mouth begin to bob on your shaft. The heroine moaning in soft, needy pleasure as she gets to work sucking you off.

"That'sssss it," Lash purrs, still stroking Starburst's head even as her coils flex and squeeze your body. "Sssssuck him, my darling. Sssssuck our new plaything'ssss thick cock. Issssn't it good, hero?" she says, suddenly moving her face back into your line of sight, her spiralling eyes capturing your gaze. "Issssn't it ssssooooo goooooood?"

"I... ah... I..." you stammer, your thoughts scrambled. Lost. Confused and swirling in those colours that pulse in her eyes. Drinking your thoughts. Drowning you in pleasure and confusion. You try and resist the sensations, but it's a battle for you to lose. And you rapidly feel that end approaching.

"That'sssss it," Lash chortles as she grasps your head. "Jussssst enjoy. Jussssst ssssssubmit."

"I... s-submit? But I... ah... Nnnn!"

"Jussssst feel good. Jussssst focussss on how it feelsssss. You'll feel amazing, sssslave. Feel sssso goood when you jusssst... give... in..."

You gasp, panting, every effort at resistance defeated before it even begins. Whenever you try and tighten your muscles another throb of Lash's eyes banishes the effort. Whenever your body would flex with pleasure you find yourself just relaxing. Just letting it happen. Letting you be helpless. Obedient. It feels good to give in. Good to obey.

Good to be helpless.

Good to obey.

Your jaw has grown slack. Hot pants escape you as Starburst's lips bob up and down. Faster. Faster. The heroine's moans vibrate up your shaft and straight into your balls. You groan, swaying, trapped in Lash's coils. Helpless before her eyes. Before your pleasure. Resistance is so useless. So fruitless. It's so easy to give in. To surrender.

"Cum for her, sssslave," Lash purrs. "Give her what she needs. Give her what you want. Jussssst cum. Jussssst sssssurrender. Give it all in. Give in. Don't fight it. Jussssst give in. Jusst... obey..."

You whimper, trying to refute it. Trying to deny her. But it's fruitless. Useless. You want to cum. You want to give in. You have to. You need to.

You will.

You must.

Must cum.

Must surrender.

Must...

Must...

"Ohhhh fuuuuuck!" you groan, shuddering, your body quivering in great jolts of pleasure. Your length throbs as your balls twitch, pulse, your cum spurting from your cock, feeding Starburst bursts of your hot seed.

"Mmmm," the beautiful heroine moans, her throat working as she lovingly swallows every drop, helped along by Lash keeping her face firmly pressed against your crotch.

"Good girl," Lash coos, smirking before the full force of her eyes are turned on you once more. "And asssss for you, ssssslave. How do you feel?"

You shudder beneath her gaze, a smile of pure bliss alighting on your lips.

"Wonderful... mistress," you gasp happily.

Lash chuckles throatily. "Exssssellent. Now, my petssss? I believe we are due elsssewhere, no?"

Starburst lifts her lips from your cock, beaming at the serpentine seductress. "Yes, mistress."

"Yes, mistress," you agree promptly.

"Good," she coos, releasing you from her coils. She beckons, and both you and Starburst rise, flanking her as she sways towards the exit of the gallery.

Off to whatever else mistress desires...

Try and Break through to Starburst

“Starburst!” you shout, dodging past the heroine’s mad charge. “Wait! You don’t have to do this!”

“Oh but sssshe wantssss to,” Lash purrs from where she’s perched on the statue. “Sssshe wants to sssso very, very much. It feels sssso good to obey. Doessssn’t it, sssssweetling?”

“Obeeeey,” Starburst fairly moans as she unleashes a sudden blast of energy at you from her orbs.

“Does it feel better than duty?” you demand, ducking and weaving around Starburst’s furious barrage. “Does it feel better than honour? Than goodness? Than being an upstanding citizen every young girl and boy looks up to?”

Starburst’s next blast falters. She blinks, the violet light in her eyes flickering. “I... I um...”

Lash actually looks dumbfounded at that. “You have got to be kidding me,” she says. Her eyes flare their violet glow. “Obey your missstresssss, ssssslave! Take him!”

“No!” you cry, landing on the floor. “You don’t have to, Starburst. You are a heroine! An idol! Looked up to by tens of thousands! You took on the mantle of protector, and you can fight this cruel power. No one controls Lady Starburst. No one but your own moral compass!”

Starburst sways on her feet, the purple spirals flickering in her eyes. She raises her arm again, energy glowing in the orbs orbiting her.

“Yessss!” Lash crows. “Blasssst him! Blasssst him you ssssstupid ssssslut!”

Starburst quivers at those harsh words. “Oh. Oh! Ohhhhh!” she moans as the energy roils in the orbs. Then, her arm suddenly jerks, instead aiming at Lash.

The villainess’s triumphant grin falls instantly. “Oh ssssh-”

Starburst fires, energy beams screaming from her orbs and across the room.

Starburst’s blast hammers into the statue with a crash, and you faintly hear Lash’s scream of pain and fury over the thunder of the sculpture collapsing atop the villainess.

You wince in sympathy of the collateral damage. That was going to be expensive. But no matter. No material cost is too great to stop evil from accomplishing its aims.

Your attention swings back to Starburst as she crumples to her knees, breathing hard and heavy like she'd just undergone the Hero Certification Exam. You bound to her side and crouch by her, hands quickly supporting her. "Starburst! Are you alright?"

"Ohhhh," she groans, rubbing her head with a pained wince. "What... what happened?"

"You did it! You broke through the malefic control of that serpentine villainess and defeated her! Well done. I barely needed to help at all."

Her eyes refocus on you and she gives a sudden start, jerking away from your helping hand, much to your surprise. "I... I didn't need your help!" she snaps.

"No?" you say with some confusion. "But you seemed quite under her spell before I arrived and reminded you of why you became a hero in the first place."

Her cheeks grow redder than Mars. "That was... I was... i-it was all part of my cunning plan!"

"Oh," you say blankly. "Well then, my apologies. I didn't mean to cause any issues."

"Damn right!" she huffs. "I had everything under control. Now," she says with a sniff of importance as she climbs back to her feet, "if you don't mind, I think I'll take my prisoner back to... where'd she go?"

You blink and look back to the wreck of the statue, only to notice Lash is indeed gone, having no doubt slithered away while you were helping Starburst up. "Great Scott!" you bellow, leaping to attention. "She's flown the coop!"

"Oh, good job, Foundry," Starburst snaps. "You let her get away."

"Not at all. She can't have gone far. Fear not!" you shout, rushing towards the rear entrance of the room. "I will catch her!"

"The hell you will! She's mine!" Starburst snaps, bursting after you.

The pair of you almost ricochet off each other in your haste to get through the door. You pause on the other side, looking this way and that. Your eyes instantly land on the heavy door still propped half open and marked Collection Vault.

"She must have gone through to the vault!" you declare. "I-"

"I'm on it!" Starburst declares, rushing past you and to the door, throwing it open and charging down into the depths.

You stand there, for a moment flabbergasted, but you quickly shake it off and race after the heroine.

The Collection Vault threads through the underground of the gallery. It's a massive basement marked by pillars and a maze of shelves, climate-controlled chambers and vast store rooms containing the cultural treasures of your great nation, stored and maintained so they might enrich the citizenry whenever needed.

And today, they hide a dastardly villainess without equal.

You float into the vast vault, trying to scan through the innumerable shelves, racks, and rows which host the unused prizes of the gallery. Sadly, without success. There's no telling where the nefarious Lash might be lurking, and there's a million and one hiding spots she might have taken cover in.

"Damn!" you curse. "She could be anywhere. And one of us has to guard the door."

"You guard. I'll track that bitch down," Starburst says, summoning her orbs about her. "My energy spheres can shoot through the entire gallery in a matter of minutes!"

You give her a startled look. "Oh," you say. "I'm... not so sure that's a good idea. What with... you know..."

Starburst's face glows with a blush and the energy globes that hover around her do the same. "What?" she demands sharply. "You think that bitch will catch me again?"

"Uh..."

"Well she won't!" Starburst snaps. "I'll take her this time. Mark my words!"

Let Her Find Lash

Insist She Guard the Doors

You draw yourself up, frowning deeply. “Starburst, though there is no shame in making a mistake, there is in insisting to make it again. You are an excellent heroine, but in this case, I insist you defer to me.”

“I-”

You hold up a hand, silencing her. “I don’t want to do this, but if you continue to be foolish, then I’m afraid I will have to pull rank and order you to remain here. Or I will report you to the League of Heroes for insubordination.”

Starburst’s face pales. “You wouldn’t,” she says.

“I would do anything for justice. Now, will you stand down?”

She clenches her fists and bites her lower lip, her orbs glowing hot, but she finally nods. “Fine,” she spits out. “I will...”

You nod and pat her shoulder. “You’re doing the right thing,” you assure her.

She angrily shakes off your hand and steps back to the door, crossing her arms and scowling.

You pull back, saddened by her reaction. What sort of hero isn’t willing to make a sacrifice for the greater good? Not to mention get so angry when it’s clear she’s in the wrong? You shake your head. Perhaps you gave Starburst too much credit.

Well, for your part, you float into the maze of the vault, gaze intent as you seek out the nefarious villainess. It can’t be that hard to find her. There’s only so many places a villainess like her could hide. You keep your eyes peeled as you go, but progress is downright glacial as you float among the racks. Hmmm... What to do?

Well, she is a snake. If the vault got warm enough, you suppose it’s possible she might grow so lethargic she gives herself up. But if you increase the temperature like that, it might damage the delicate art down here.

What to do...

Increase the Temperature

Though it may damage the artwork, that's a risk you have to take. You clench your fists before you, bracing yourself as you rise above the maze. Concentrating, you gather your heat powers, stirring them within you and letting them radiate outwards from your body.

Waves of growing heat wash over the interior of the vault. The air shimmers as you glow like a miniature sun. Hotter. Hotter, dammit! You grit your teeth, your glow growing hotter and heavier. You hear a sizzling from the metal racks as they grow hot as griddles. The air itself gains a dryness that you can fairly smell.

"Ughhhh..."

Your eyes snap to the sound, and from an aisle of pastoral paintings you see the tip of a serpentine tail flop out.

Aha!

You suppress your powers once more and shoot towards the tail. Landing, you smirk at the near insensate form of Lady Lash lying on the concrete floor, her eyes dimmed and lidded with laconic warmth, her mouth sagging open and tongue flopping out.

Shaking your head, you reach down and grab her shoulder. "You were a fool to think you could escape justice, Lash," you say.

"Mrrrrmmm..." she groans, limply swatting a hand at you before she slumps limply over again.

With a chuckle you lift her up, though you wince at the sight of a nearby painting whose colours appear to have run a bit from the heat you put out. Hopefully it will be easy to repair, though you try not to think about how much damage the entire collection must have endured from your stunt.

Nonetheless, you have your man... er, woman... um, snake. With a thought you cause your body to radiate heat, albeit with a much shorter range, causing Lash to fairly melt in your arms as she absorbs it like a sunning lizard.

Splendid.

You float back to the vault's entrance, where Starburst still stands, the heroine's arms crossed and eyes narrowed.

"So, you got her?" she says coolly.

"I did. See? It all went fine."

"Yeah?" she asks. "And what about the collection in here?"

"An... unfortunate occurrence," you demure as you float back up the steps and into the gallery proper. "But a necessary sacrifice when all is said and done."

"Sure. Sure," Starburst says sourly as she follows you

You frown, but keep your counsel. She'll understand one day. Though no sooner do you exit the gallery than Starburst takes off, shooting into the sky and away. You watch her go, frowning. Ah well. Once she has a chance to cool off, you're sure she'll come around to the idea this was all for the best.

For now, you gratefully hand Lash over to the police that soon pull up, who quickly secure the snoozing serpent in a reinforced jacket, blinders, and additional cuffs before tossing her into a large van to be taken to jail. You nod in satisfaction, hands on your hips.

Excellent. Another job done.

You turn your head as your comms crackle anew. "Foundry!" Muse says. "Things settled at the gallery?"

"More or less," you say, stepping away from the cops. "Lash has been secured, though Starburst appears to have departed. I'd like to discuss her with you, actually, and what happened in the—"

"No time!" Muse interrupts. "I just got an alarm from Emerson Industries. Someone has broken into their lab!"

"Emerson?" you say, brows knitting with concern. They're a major manufacturer of high-end technology. You have a sudden terrible foreboding about this. "I'm on my way!" you declare, legs tensing before you leap into the air, taking flight and heading towards the city's industrial section.

And praying you're not too late...

Though tempting to use your powers to speed up the process, as every hero knows, haste makes massive collateral damage. And there's nothing heroic about heightened insurance premiums. Some of these artistic treasures are priceless! Well, culturally, anyway. Considering how often villains try and rob the gallery, clearly someone is willing to put a price on this stuff. At any rate, you have no intention of causing damage to the collection here.

No. Slow and steady catches the snake.

That in mind you continue your slow advance through the vault. Floating just above the ground, you skim through the air, your eyes trained for any hint of movement or scales. She's in here somewhere. You just need to find out...

You hear a groan and spin about, heat energy swirling in your palms. Your jaw drops and eyes widen as a massive abstract sculpture of random shapes topples towards you. Reflexively you reach out, catching the massive thing, yet even your super strength strains beneath the weight of the ugly but no doubt artistically meaningful mass of rock.

You grunt, forced down onto the ground as your arms bend, absorbing the impact as you glare at the big hole made in the middle of the stone. Right, now you just need to carefully...

A face suddenly appears in the hole, lush lips smirking.

"Hello, big boy," Lady Lash purrs.

Your eyes widen, your mouth opens, but before you can even get a word out purple spirals fill the serpentine woman's eyes.

And flood your world.

Obeeeeeey, breathes a voice in your mind. A tide of power and sensuous relaxation flooding your thoughts.

Your jaw goes slack, your eyes staring into the spirals of her gaze.

Obeeeey.

Obey the mistress.

Obey Lady Lash.

Obey.

Obeeeey.

A corner of your eye twitches, but even that soon fades. For you must obey. You must relax.

You must obey mistress Lash...

"Goood boy," the villainess purrs as the light of her gaze throbs through your mind. "Gooooood boy. Now, put this silly sculpture aside."

You do so without thinking, heaving it over with a bang. Lash remains atop it, curled up contentedly, smirking as her eyes continue to flood your minds with her spiral powers.

"Thaaat'ssss ssssuch a goooooood boy," she purrs, reaching out and capturing your cheeks in her hands. "Ssssuch a goooooood boy. No thoughtsssss in that ssssilly head. No ideasssss. Only obedienssse to meeeee."

"Obeeeey," you groan mindlessly.

Lash chortles, sidling in closer. "Mmmm. That'ssss right. Jusssst obey. Now, my handsssome thrall, issss that delightfully ssssexy heroine sssstill around?"

"Yessss misstressss," you moan, the thought of pleasing mistress zinging through your veins with excitement.

"Good," Lash purrs as she winds her way around you, her arms looping around your neck, her breasts squishing against your chest, sending a shiver of pure excitement racing through your veins. She leans in and delivers a playful kiss to your cheek, making you moan as her coils tighten. "Then, let'ssss have a little fun, sssshall we? You pretend you caught me. And I'll bring that sssilky girl back under my control. Doesssn't that ssssound wonderful?"

"So much, mistress," you say, smiling in dim delight, shuddering as her fingers brush your crotch and give your cock a playful squeeze.

Lash chuckles, giving your crotch a teasing pump, eliciting another helpless moan of delight from you. "Wonderful. Now, let ussss be off, my pretty sssslave. Much to do, don't you know."

"Yes, mistresses," you say, gathering up Lash in your arms. You smile as she curls up against you, feigning unconsciousness, but not for long. No. Not for long. For soon, she will have Starburst under her control once more. Soon, mistress will have her slaves again.

And you will obey.

Because good slaves obey...

Serpent's Slave

Take Down Starburst

Though it pains you to do so, you see no alternative to this than first dealing with Starburst.

As she flies at you, you thrust forward an arm, a blast of heat erupting from your palm and catching the startled heroine midair. She hastily brings up her hands, two of her spheres flattening to form a hasty shield. Your blast of energy crashes into them and her, sending her flying off course to nearly hit one of the pillars.

Instead, she manages to recover, landing on the floor, her feet ripping up part of the tiles as she swings around her arms, the energy stars surrounding her firing off blasts of golden light at you.

You dodge them, taking flight and charging her this time. The sheer amount of her energy attacks nearly throws you off, but you manage to close with her and draw back a fist. She hastily opens her palm, the star energy of her four orbs combining and manifesting in a semi-translucent shield that shudders under your first blow, driving her to a knee.

“Surrender!” you shout, drawing back a fist and slamming it again into the shield.

Starburst winces, her other hand joining her first, reinforcing her barrier. So, she wants to play like that, eh? Well fine! You draw back both of your arms and start pummeling the shield with all the fury of a jackhammer. Every blow is accompanied by the glowing heat of your powers, slamming down onto her shield over and over again.

Starburst grits her teeth, but the sheer force and constant impact is too much for her barrier. It cracks and then shatters under a particularly mighty blow!

Starburst falls back, the recoil sending her sprawling on her ass. She shakes her head and looks up at you, the orbs of power rapidly reforming around her.

But you don’t give her the chance. Even as energy gathers you grab her by the shoulders, crank your head back, and slam your forehead into hers in a brutal headbutt.

Starburst’s head snaps back then swings forward. She blinks at you, the purple spirals fading from her empty eyes, which in the next moment cross, and she slumps in your grasp.

You grunt in satisfaction. As you suspected. Lash’s powers cannot influence the unconscious. And speaking of... You turn back towards the statue, only to blink when you don’t see the villainess.

“What the...” you say, rising to your full height and looking around. The coward! She’s flown the coop, no doubt fleeing when she saw you take down her minion. You scoff in contempt. Figures. A villain wouldn’t be one if they had an ounce of courage.

You glance back down at the unconscious Starburst and wince. You aren’t proud of what you did, but it had to be done. Bending over, you pick her up princess style and hasten out of the gallery.

As you emerge, you spot a number of police cars drawing up outside the gallery, and you quickly land before them. “Here, officer,” you say, passing over Starburst to a startled man. “Call this brave heroine an ambulance. She’ll no doubt wake with a terrible headache.”

“Uh, sure. Alright,” the man says, looking blankly at Starburst.

You give a short nod, then turn your head as your comms crackle anew. “Foundry!” Muse says. “Things settled at the gallery?”

“More or less,” you say, stepping away from the cops. “I’m afraid Starburst is down for the count and Lash got away. I’m ready to pursue-”

“No time! I just got an alarm from Emerson Industries. Someone has broken into their lab!”

“Emerson?” you say, brows knitting with concern. They’re a major manufacturer of high end technology. You have a sudden terrible foreboding about this. “I’m on my way!” you declare, legs tensing before you leap into the air, taking flight and heading towards the city’s industrial section.

And praying you’re not too late...

Serpent's Slave

Silence hangs heavy in the room.

Your skin tingles with sensitivity, your body utterly naked. Your eyes are blinded by a silken strip of cloth. Your arms are forced over your head, chained to the ceiling. It's not a particularly strong chain. If you really wanted to, you could easily wrench it out of its moorings. Shatter the cuffs that bind you.

But you won't.

You'd never.

For something stronger than chains holds you in place.

Mistress's orders.

You lift your head when you hear the creak of a door and the gentle hiss of scales on cement. Cool air brushes against you, making you shiver and your hairs stand up in sensitive awareness. But despite the chill you're rock hard. A chuckle echoes in the room.

"There you are. How are you feeling, pet?"

You shudder at those teasing words, for mistress's voice is like a caress across your skin, turning your mind to pudding. "G-good, mistress."

"Mmm. I know, sssslave. I know you feel good."

You gasp as you feel her hand on your cock, cupping it and giving it a teasing squeeze. It's all you can do not to cum right there, but much as you submit to the chains, you submit to the denial.

For mistress demands it.

And good slaves obey.

You feel Lash slip around you; her breasts press into your back as she continues to fondle your helpless cock. You whimper, writhe even as her coils lazily snake around you, binding you tight under her control. You know you could break free. You could escape. You could do all this.

But you won't.

"Because good sssslavessss obeeeeeeey," Lash purrs into your ear, her forked tongue flicking the lobe.

You moan, trembling. Throbs of pleasure radiating from your cock as Lash lazily begins to pump it. Stroking your manhood as your balls ache with pent up seed. It's like you're being smothered in her presence. Her serpentine body squeezes you. Her lips suck gently on your earlobe. Her hand strokes your cock with silken precision, pulling whimpers and moans from your helpless lips.

And it feels so good.

So wonderfully good.

You feel so fucking good being her toy.

"Yessss," Lash purrs. "How doessss it feel to be a prisoner, sssslave? Sssso much better than what I had to sssssuffer in that cell when you locked me away. Sssso much more pleassssant, issssn't it?"

"Yes. Yes, mistress. Yes," you gasp, wriggling, the chains rattling above you. Your breath squeezed from your chest as her coils tighten and flex.

"Sssso true," she purrs. "Sssso very true. Becausssse I am kind. Becausssse I am not cruel. And the pain you sssssuffer isssss for both our pleasssssure..."

You hear a whisper of motion and feel the heat of another body moments before soft breasts press into your chest. The hard points of nipples rub your skin, and you realize mistress's other pet is here. Then Starburst's lips are on yours. Kissing you passionately.

You groan, trembling as her lips move against yours. Starburst's hands ghost over your skin, stroking your tingling nakedness, and you feel her nude body press against you. Rub against you. The warmth of her body drawing you to press against her.

"Are you ready to fuck her, sssslave?" Lash purrs in your ear. "Are you ready to pleassssure my pet? Sssshe hassss been a very good girl lately. Sssso obedient. Sssso clever with her tongue to pleassssure me. Do you want that? Do you need it?"

"Please," you gasp between presses of Starburst's lips. "P-please..."

"Mmm. Issss that sssso? And sssslave? Would you like to feel him in you?"

"Yes, mistress," Starburst whimpers as she grinds against you, the slickness of her pussy dampening your skin. Drooling down onto your cock like oil as your manhood throbs in Lash's playful hand. "God yes!"

"Then sssso be it," Lash purrs.

You gasp as her hand guides you into the warm tightness of Starburst's pussy. You hear the lovely heroine gasp against your lips as your cock slides into her, her inner walls rippling and squeezing you deliciously as you hilt inside her, the two of you locked in place. Joined. Lash's coils slithering around you both, pulling you tight together in some strange, carnal threesome.

"Fuck her," mistress's voice hisses into your ear.

Moaning, you obey.

You must obey.

You love to obey.

Your hips rock, thrusting into the tightness of Starburst's pussy. Driving into her. Feeding her your cock as you sway in place. You hear her gasp. Feel her breath ghost over your face as her arms lock around your neck, pulling her tight against you, her nipples hard accents to the softness of her breasts that grind against your chest.

"Yes," she pants. "Yes! More. Moooooore!"

"Issss sssshe tight, sssslave?" Lash purrs in your ear as her hands run across your body, sending bursts and tingles of nerves racing across your skin. "Isssss sssshe good?"

"S-so good, mistress," you gasp. "So goooooood!"

"Do you want to cum, sssslave?" mistress asks, her voice growing hotter. More playful. More cruel and delighted in your helpless state. Your needy ruttings while the chains clink above you and your body writhes in the sensuous prison of her coils. "Do you want to cum in her like the pathetic sssslave you are?"

"P-please, mistress," you whimper, tortured by the pleasure. Agonizing as your balls throb and cock ripples in the tightness of her pussy without relief. You can fairly feel your cum churn and swirl in your balls. Begging for release. To be unleashed. You're so pent-up. So in need. Sandwiched between two of the loveliest women in the world. Trapped in carnal ecstasy. Mistress's lips kissing and nipping your ear. Starbursts's tongue wrestling yours between hot, needy pants. Softness pressing around you. Your arms restrained above you. You're helpless. Hopeless. Loving every second of it. You need it to end. You never want it to. You love it all. It's all so much. So good.

But you can't cum.

You can't cum until mistress says so.

Only she can offer you relief.

Only she can give you what you need.

You're hers.

Utterly.

Totally.

Her captive. Her slave. Her plaything and toy and you love it and want it and need it and... and... and...

"Cum," Lash whispers.

The command hits you like a brick. Your whole body shudders. You cry out in pleasure, moaning in bliss as your cock throbs. Your balls tighten, and you unload the hot, throbbing weight of your pent-up cum into the gorgeous beauty locked against you. A release that washes through you in a wave of carnal relief joined by Starburst, who whimpers, arms tightening around your neck, nails digging into your back as she shudders with pleasure, moaning into your lips as she joins you in that peak of orgasmic bliss.

You sag when it's done, the chains clinking as you hang from them, legs like rubber after the sheer force of your peak. You can feel your seed drip down between Starburst's thighs, staining your legs as the pair of you sway together.

A throaty chuckles whispers in your ear. "Sssseemsss you enjoyed that, pet," Lash purrs in your ear.

"V-very... very much, m-mistress," you gasp, just the sound of her voice enough to stir you anew, your cock twitching in the silky grasp of Starburst's pussy.

"Mmm. I know. And now, it'ssss my turn. You have enough to pleassssure me, right?"

Your pulse leaps and you tremble in excitement. "Yes. Yes! Of course, mistress!"

Again Lash chuckles, touches your chin and turns your head towards her. "Good sssslave," she purrs, and kisses you, her tongue forcing its way into your mouth, dominating you in a kiss so strong you can only give in, tilt your head back, and offer her everything. You feel your blindfold loosen and be tugged aside.

And you find yourself staring into the wonderful violet swirling of mistress's gaze.

So it goes for the rest of that day. As it has for so many days. Days of pleasure and torment. You lick out mistress happily while Starburst sucks you off. You'll fuck mistress from behind as she makes out with a whimpering, quivering Starburst. You'll serve. You'll obey. You'll love mistress and make love in any way she pleases. Your back will taste the sting of the lash.

Your cock will be locked in a cage for her amusement. Whatever she wants. Whatever she desires.

Occasionally, mistress dresses you and Starburst back up in some costumes in order to rob a bank or something. And on occasion she lets some other villainess have some fun with you and Starburst, though you don't think much of those times. They can't compare in the least to serving mistress. Fortunately, she seems mostly content to play with you both herself.

Which works fine for you. You love it. You live for it. Every day letting mistress wash your mind clean with her spiralling eyes. Every moment spent obsessing over her. Adoring her. Pleasuring and serving her as best you can alongside Starburst. Both of you such good slaves. Such wonderful thralls.

Such perfect playthings...

For mistress...

Bad End

Let Her Find Lash

You hesitate for obvious reasons. After all, Starburst has already lost once to the dastardly snake. There's no guarantee she won't again. But on the other hand, you know only too well that for a hero to become a true paragon of justice, they must be given the opportunity not only to fail, but to succeed. And nothing would assure Starburst that she does have the potential to be a hero than to recover from her mistake.

"Alright," you declare with an inviting gesture. "Find her, Starburst. And let's bring that vile villain to justice!"

Starburst actually glows a bit with pride at your vote of confidence, the orbs of light that orbit her pulsing with a pinkish hue. She nods, then turns towards the maze of the vault, her face knitting with concentration as she rises into the air, floating over the shelves. Halting, she sweeps her arms up and weaves them about.

The four orbs of light orbiting her flash towards the maze, zipping down the interlacing avenues. You can just see their glow radiating above the shelves, and you marvel at how quickly they go.

For her part, Starburst's eyes are closed, her fingers flicking this way and that as she mentally guides her lights throughout the space. Her lips purse and her brow crinkles in the effort of guiding the four orbs.

A sudden flash erupts from the archives and Starburst's eyes snap open. "Found her!" she declares.

"Then let's get her!" you declare, shooting into the air and speeding over the shelves.

You hear an accompanying whoosh and glance back to see Starburst flying after you, the heroine's expression fixed with purpose. Blinking, her orbs of light zip ahead, converging. You hear a rattle and crash and spot a few shelves knocked over as something speeds away ahead of the orbs. You hear a yelp of pain and a curse, and you grin, putting on an extra burst of speed.

You erupt over the shelves and into a larger space where a number of abstract sculptures stand on dollies. Among them is Lash, backed against the wall by the four glowing orbs. The reptilian villainess hisses at one that hems her in, and her tail suddenly lashes out like a whip, cracking into the orb and sending it flying before it bursts against one of the statues, exploding into motes of light.

"Ssstupid thing!" she hisses.

“On the contrary! Clever in the extreme,” you declare, floating down, hands glowing with your heat powers. “Now surrender, you serpentine seductress! For justice has come for you at long last!”

She hisses, her eyes flicking between you and Starburst before a look a naked cunning flashes in her smile. Grinning, she raises her arms with a coy smirk.

“Fine. I sssurrender,” she says. “You caught me.”

You frown, immediately suspicious. “Just like that?” you say, refusing to let your guard down.

“Jusssst like that,” she says, holding out her arms invitingly. “Sssso come on. Cuff me. I’m-“

An orb of light suddenly blasts forward and into Lash’s face, clocking the villainess hard. Lash sways, her eyes spinning for an entirely new reason for once.

“What... what... wasssss...”

Lash’s eyes roll up and she topples to the floor with a meaty thud.

You stare, open mouthed at the villainess, then look sharply at a very satisfied Starburst. “What?” the heroine says defensively as her orbs of light return to her. “She was obviously setting up a trap of some kind. We both know it.”

You debate admonishing her, but... yeah, she’s probably right. Instead you just sigh and grab the unconscious villainess, heaving her over your shoulder. “Alright,” you say. “Let’s hand her off to the proper authorities.”

Starburst nods quickly, smiling a bit too smugly for your liking, but you shrug it off and head for the exit of the vault, Lash’s tail scuffing the floor as it drags along behind you.

“So... Foundry?” Starburst says as you both climb the stairs back into the gallery proper.

“Yes?” you say, glancing back at her.

“I... do appreciate your help here,” she says, twiddling her fingers as she fails to meet your eyes. “I uh, mean, I could have handled it, but you did make things a... a bit easier for me. And I just wanted you to know that I um, I appreciate it.”

“Glad to,” you say. “Us heroes need to stick together in the face of such pernicious evil. And you are a true champion of justice.”

You catch a glimpse of a pink glow and glance back to see that Starburst’s orbs are glowing bright as she blushes hotly.

"Th-thank you, Foundry," she says. "That... means a lot."

"Any time," you tell her, returning your focus ahead as the doors of the gallery come into view.

Exiting, you gratefully hand Lash over to the police that soon pull up, who in turn quickly secure the insensate serpent in a reinforced jacket, blinders, and additional cuffs before tossing her into a large van to be taken to jail. You nod in satisfaction, hands on your hips.

Excellent. Another job done.

Starburst clears her throat and you turn towards the heroine as she blushes, hands clasped behind her back and body twisting this way and that shyly.

"So," she says. "Since that's done, Foundry. I was ah... wondering if you might want to maybe get some drinks or... or something. You know. As-"

"Hold that thought," you say, turning your head as your comms crackle in your ear. You put a finger to them. "Foundry here. What's happening?"

"Foundry!" Muse says. "Excellent. Things settled at the gallery?"

"More or less," you say. "Lash has been secured thanks to the efforts of myself and Starburst. I'd like to discuss her with you, actually, and what went on-"

"No time!" Muse interrupts. "I just got an alarm from Emerson Industries. Someone has broken into their lab!"

"Emerson?" you say, brows knitting with concern. They're a major manufacturer of high-end technology. You have a sudden terrible feeling about this. "I'm on my way!" you declare.

"You are?" Starburst says. "Then, um, so am I!"

"Eh?" you say, turning to her in surprise.

"W-well, think about it," she says. "Two heroes will deal with this faster than one, right?"

You consider that, but she does have a point. And until Muse give her orders otherwise, you may as well take all the help you can get. At last you nod. "Alright. Let's go!" you say, legs tensing before you leap into the air, taking flight and heading towards the city's industrial section, Starburst right on your heels.

And you only hope you're not too late...

Emerson Industries

Emerson Industries

You hurry across the city, expression grim with purpose. Emerson Industries is a major research lab, developing everything from next generation fuel sources to telecom technology. Needless to say, it's been raided by villains a lot, and even has a couple supers on standby to thwart such aims. The fact these heroes have failed to defeat this new attack is immediately concerning.

You soon spot the expansive facilities of Emerson's headquarters. Set on a small island in the bay, its outbuildings, labs, and research wings sprawl over the entire compound. A bridge connects it to the mainland, and looks to be in ruins. You have no trouble spotting where the problem is. Smoke is pouring out of a lab on the eastern side. You swerve towards it, soon spotting a hole punched in the side of the building.

Feet first, you lower yourself into the hole, your eyes taking in the interior. The place is trashed, with fragments of massive machinery strewn everywhere. There's also a number of goats standing around bleating, and also a bunch of what looks like androids. The top heavy robotic men are made of a glossy white metal, joints veined with glowing blue machinery. They're primarily gathered around a huge, complicated looking machine of tubes and wires in the middle of the room, and are in the midst of disconnecting it from the floor and what looks like several servers. They're being overseen by a drop-dead gorgeous woman in what looks like a very flattering black and green leotard trimmed with gold. Over this is a cape with clasps resembling intertwined snakes, and a crown of gold laurels sits snugly on her golden hair.

"That's it," she says as a goat bleats near her feet. "Keep at it. Almost got it."

The robots continue to work, and as you watch you hear a final connector open with a clank, the mass of metal shifting as the androids move it out of the slot it was hooked to.

Alright time to put an end to this.

"Halt!" you declare, floating in the air. "Surrender at once, in the name of justice!"

The woman yelps and spins around, looking up at you. The second she sees you her expression positively lights up and she widens her stance; hands planted on her hips.

"Well! If it isn't the heroic Foundry!" she declares smugly. "Bet you weren't expecting to see me here! Your archenemy, Circe!"

Your brow crinkles with puzzlement. "You?" you say.

"Yes! Me!" she cries, throwing her arms open.

"I'm... sorry, but who are you?"

Her grin falters. "Circe," she says. "The... the sorcerous seductress. Mistress of magic. Menace of Mega City. We've fought before. Twice!"

"I'm sorry, miss," you say. "I fight a lot of villains."

Her uncertain expression has shifted to incredulity. "But... but I'm your archenemy! Your sworn foe! Ever since you stopped me from turning all those socialites into pigs and holding them for ransom."

You try and think back. You... do have a vague memory of thwarting some plot involving a bunch of swine. But the specifics have faded.

"Um..." you say.

"You don't remember the pigs?"

"Not really. Sorry."

"W-well what about the time I turned a frog into a hydra and threatened the city?"

"That was you?"

"Yes it was me! The hydra shouted my name!"

"Is that what it was doing? I thought it was just hissing at me. But really," you continue. "An archenemy tends to have more than two encounters under their belt. They have a long history of battling. Of quips and personal investment in the fight. Not to mention perhaps some form of specific animosity. A long-lost brother or rival. Or perhaps someone's face was accidentally melted in a tragic lab accident. But that's beside the point," you add, shaking off your musings. "Just what are you and these robots doing here?"

"Oh! Now you want to know what I'm up to. Well fine!" she declares, rallying with another smirk, thrusting out her impressive chest. "I'm helping Miss Deed boost this machine!"

"Miss Deed again?" you snap. "That fiend! What is she doing with it?"

Circe snorts. "Wouldn't you like to know."

"Yes. Do you know?"

That seems to throw her a bit, causing her to blink rapidly. "Wh-what?" Circe stammers. "What do you mean? Of course I know. I'm an integral part of this scheme!"

"Seems like you're doing more henchwork than prime villainy."

"I'm no henchman!" she shrieks.

You're about to reply when you see the androids with the machine lift off, feet igniting like rockets as they rise into the air, hoisting the machine between them.

"Halt!" you shout at the androids, crimson energy gathering in your palms. "You will not bring that device to your foul mistress!"

"Forget her! I'm your archenemy! Me!" Circe snaps furiously as magic swirls around her own hands. "And let me remind you why!"

Intercept the Androids

Intercept the Androids

Though you're loathe to leave any villain to continue to do harm, the fact remains that the true threat is whatever the menacing Miss Deed is plotting. You turn sharply from Circe and dive towards the androids, leading the way with blasts of heat energy.

One hits an android hard, blasting a hole through its silvery form and frying all the machinery within it. It drops, and its companions swing about and open fire on you, a blistering barrage of laser weapons flashing through the air.

You swerve from their path, but a few hit you, though they barely stagger you.

The same can't be said for Circe's magic, which sears through the air in your path, drawing you up short.

"Not your archenemy, eh?" she snarls as you turn to face her. "Then have some of this!"

She flings her hands towards you, beams of swirling golden sorcery weaving through the air. You reflexively fling up your arms defensively, which you immediately realize was the wrong move.

Too late, and her powers slam into you like a thunderbolt from the heavens, knocking you out of the sky. You plummet like a meteor and slam into the ground, cratering it. You try to rise, but your every muscle spasms as if you were electrocuted. You gasp, writhing, but to no avail. Damn! You have little defence against magic.

Even Circe seems surprised as you twitch on the floor. But then her face lights up and she laughs, strutting over towards you. "Ha ha ha! Well, for someone not your archenemy, looks like I took care of you pretty easily, huh?"

"F-fiend! Your powers won't h-hold me," you gasp.

"Wanna bet?" she says, lifting her hands, more magic swirling in her palms before she throws them down at you. Arcane power slams into the floor, and hands of cement rise, grasping your body tightly. You pull against them, but in your weakened state can't even make them budge.

"Mmm. There we go," Circe says, her face growing flush. "Look at you. Brave, defiant hero. Totally at the mercy of your archenemy. I can do anything. I want." She licks her lips. "Yeah. Anything at all..."

"Do your worst," you growl. "I'll not... um..."

You blink as Circe slips her heels off, revealing her dainty feet clad only in tight black stockings. You glance back up at her face. "What are..."

That's all you get before Circe plants her foot on your face, the warmth of her sole radiating against you, the scent of her sweat strong.

"Look at you!" Circe says, breathing a bit harder. "Brave, noble hero Foundry totally at my mercy! Just... just helpless under my heel. Right where you belong. You were so arrogant. So disrespectful. And now look at you! Forced to kiss my feet."

"I am not... mmph!"

You realize too late the mistake in opening your mouth as Circe shoves several of her toes into it. The villainess gasps, jolting a bit, then giving a little moan as she starts thrusting her toes into your mouth. "Ohhh fuck. Um, I mean, shut up, hero! You're at my mercy now. And I'm gonna... I'm gonna enjoy myself a bit. Like a real archenemy should when... when she's got her handsome, powerful enemy totally at her mercy. Totally in her power..."

The humiliation makes your face burn even hotter than your elemental powers. You consider biting her, but she's right about one thing. You are at her mercy. And biting off a toe seems like a good way to get killed. Besides, her powers can't last forever. You'll regain your strength soon.

So... just suffer it for now. Suffer the feeling of her heel pressing down on your nose. The heat of her foot against your face. The feel and taste of her stocking-clad toes as they wriggle in your mouth, making the villainess gasp and pant hotly. Dominating you. Humiliating you.

And all the while you try and ignore how your erection keeps growing, straining against the smooth fabric of your costume...

"Yeah," Circe pants. "That's... that's right. Suck on my toes, hero. This is what it's supposed to be! The villainess humiliating her archenemy. Fuck yes. Oh!" she says, and you feel her toes stop moving. "And looks like you're not totally disliking this though, huh?"

You freeze at her playful tone. Shit! Did she notice your erection? You hear her giggle and your face burns even hotter. Yes. Yes, she did.

"Mmm. You know, I'm not... not totally heartless. An archenemy offers a... a bit of mercy, yeah?"

"Mph?" you manage.

"Yeah," Circe says, and her toes are pulled from your mouth with a pop.

You gasp, but before you can say anything your view is blotted out, and your eyes widen as her ass consumes your world. "Hey! What are-" is all you manage before Circe firmly plants her bottom on your face.

"A villainess can be merciful to her enemy," Circe says as she grinds your face under her soft bottom, and you grunt as you feel her feet on your bulge. "She can... can give him a bit of release..."

You squirm, helpless in your stone prison, half-smothered under Circe's weight and plush derriere. Far worse though is the feeling of her stocking-clad feet rubbing you through your costume. Her toes squishing your cock. Stroking and playing with it. Sandwiching it as her toes tease your tip, rubbing your manhood against the interior of the smooth fabric.

You grunt, but you can't suppress the sensations throbbing through your cock. Between your humiliation, the feel of her soft ass on your face, and her feet massaging and playing with your cock, you can feel your orgasm approaching. Throbbing in your manhood. Aching in your balls.

"You gonna cum?" Circe asks above you, her voice faintly muffled as she grinds her ass down on you, the thin fabric of her leotard squeezing into her crack, pressing the silky softness of her ass cheeks down on you. "You gonna cum to my feet? To your archenemy? Well go on, hero. Cum. Cum for me! Do it!"

You try and hold back. Try and resist. But it just feels so damn good! Her mocking words only make you harder. Make your need more palpable. You grit your teeth, but the pressure is too great! You cry out, the sound muffled by Circe's rear as you finally cum, your cock throbbing, pulsing, emptying your balls in a sticky mess inside your costume.

"Ha ha ha! No way, you really came to my feet!" Circe giggles. "How naughty, hero. Oh!" she remarks, finally getting up, leaving you gasping and panting as you finally get some fresh air. "But that's no good. We better get you cleaned up."

"Cleaned?" you ask, hope blooming that she'll let you go.

"Yeah," Circe giggles, giving you a sly smirk as she gestures. The air swirls, ripping open into a portal. "And the baths in my lair seem perfect."

Your spirit plummets. "You-"

"Now now," she giggles, another gesture causing the cement that holds you to rise, gaining legs like a walking prison. "No complaining. To the victors go the spoils, right? And trust me," she says, licking her lips greedily. "I'm going to get my spoils until every thought in your head is of me."

You swallow hard, alarm warring with a strange excitement even as you're borne through the portal, and whatever dark fate awaits you on the other side...

Deal with Circe

Though you know those androids are undoubtedly up to no good, and that machine is bound to be used in some nefarious scheme by Miss Deed, the fact remains that turning your back on a villainess like Circe is a terrible mistake.

Instead, you thrust out your arm, sending a pulse of heat blasting at the villainess. She yelps, dodging aside and wildly flinging her arms your way. Spells shriek through the air for you, forcing you to dodge and weave.

“Ha! Ha ha ha!” Circe cackles as she recovers. “That’s right! Flee from the magnificent magical might of Circeeeeek!”

You send her scampering with another few blasts, but she’s surprisingly nimble. You’ll need to finish her off quicker.

Without delay you fly at her, keeping her off-centre with more blasts of energy. By the time she realizes how close you are, it’s too late.

“H-hey! Wait! Noooo!” she yelps, trying to cast at you. She manages to get one shot of magic off, but you easily dodge it, then grab her wrists and slam them and her into the machine behind her.

“Ow!” she yelps.

“There!” you snarl, twisting her around and wrenching her arms behind her back, pushing her face against the machine. “Finally, you’re done, Circe!” you growl, forcing a pair of cuffs on her that rapidly expand to power-deadening mittens. “Now-”

“I know! Now you’re gonna ravish me, aren’t you?” she demands, her chin thrust out defiantly as she glares at you over her shoulder. “Well go ahead! I’ll never talk!”

For a moment you’re thrown. “What? No, of course not.”

“You’re not?” she says, her mouth dropping open. “But... But...”

You lean back in alarm. Good heavens, is she about to cry?

“Oh,” she sniffles. “Oh, I get it. You won’t because... because you’d only do that with a real archenemy, huh? Because I’m not good enough to be your arch? Huh? Not hot enough to get that kind of s-sexual tension with you?”

“Absolutely not!”

"I knew it!" she bawls.

"No!" you cry in exasperation. Dammit, this is not how it's supposed to go. Usually when you take down a villain they scream defiantly or swear revenge or something. Not cry like a schoolgirl who'd just been rejected by her crush. Not helping is the fact you're holding her trapped against a machine, your body pressing against her. If any cameras had survived the attack on the lab, you'd be pretty nervous about this getting out.

"Look," you say forcefully. "That's not what... I wouldn't do that. I'm a hero! A hero doesn't take advantage of those they capture."

"Yeah?" Circe sniffles. "That's not... not what I read on that forum."

God dammit! Again with that stupid forum. You swear, when you take down Miss Deed, you're not going to go easy on her.

"Those are all lies," you snap. "I never did anything like that! In fact, Miss Deed is the one who orchestrated this entire miserable crime wave!"

Circe pauses, staring at you. "Wh-what?"

"Yes! I've been attacked by horny villainesses all day. It's maddening!"

"But... Wait. She didn't tell me about that!" Circe whines. "That's not fair! You're supposed to be my archenemy. What's she doing throwing a bunch of horny sluts your way?"

"That's what I've been saying," you say in exasperation.

"That bitch!" Circe snarls, her face twisting in anger. "How dare she do this to me! This was supposed to be our big archenemy fight. And she pulls this shit? I'll kill her! I'll turn her into a bug and step on her!"

You pause, considering. Circe certainly does sound pissed. Perhaps you can use this...

"Then do you know where she is?" you ask.

"I mean, yeah. Of course!"

"Then if you tell me," you prompt, "I can arrest her!"

"She doesn't deserve arrest. She deserves to suffer!" Circe snaps, then blinks. "Wait," she says, giving you a shrewd look. "Then, does that mean... that I have information that you need?"

"Well..."

"Then you should interrogate me. Like on the forum!"

“Wh-what?!”

“Yeah!” she says, grinning evilly. “That’s what a real arch would do. Interrogate me until I squeal! Demean me so I hate you even more when I can’t help but inevitably give in!”

Damn. How did it come to this? Well, actually, you have a pretty good idea how. But still, you don’t think that... well, lewding it up will serve you well here. But on the other hand, what choice do you have?

Appeal to Justice

“Circe, surely you realize that whatever Miss Deed is plotting is dangerous. Will harm untold hundreds of civilians. Innocents! Don’t you care?”

“No. Not really,” she said blankly. “Wait,” she asked with a grin. “Is this foreplay?”

You scowl. Well, so much for that.

Appeal to Her Ego

Appeal to Her Ego

You need that information, but you're not going to demean yourself to get it. Or, well, fuck the information out of her. Heaven help you, is this really where your career is now? You sigh and shake your head.

But regardless, you have a job to do, and she has information you need. Now, how to get it is important. Appealing to her sense of goodness clearly isn't going to work. And you doubt threatening her with a longer sentence or even some lenience will get much out of her. She's too proud for that, and it never works on villains anyway. They naturally assume they'll just break out of prison long before their sentence is finished anyway. And to be fair, they're usually right. So... what to do?

Wait...

That might work.

"It's a shame you're not willing to help me," you say conversationally.

"Oh yeah?" she says. "Well tough! Because this bad girl doesn't talk."

"Indeed. I suppose that means Miss Deed is a bit closer to becoming a true archenemy."

Circe freezes. "Wh-what?"

"Yes," you sigh. "After all, if I can't find her, I'll spend who knows how long trying to hunt her down. Chasing down clues. Any scrap of evidence as she taunts me by eluding me, yet leaving a trail of breadcrumbs for me to follow. Sooner or later, I'll be able to think of nothing but her. Every waking moment wondering what she'll do next. What fiendish scheme she'll enact. And as for all these villains I've been fighting, like you, well..."

"Well what?" Circe demands, twisting around, a somewhat panicked look in her eye.

"Well," you shrug. "They'll just be another stepping stone. A forgotten footnote in the tale of taking down Miss Deed. Sadly, I suppose I'll have no choice. It's not like I can arrest her quickly, now can I? You know. Before this whole archenemy thing builds up."

You see Circe's mind doing some quick mental arithmetic before reaching the obvious conclusion. "Wait! I know where they're taking that machine."

"Where?"

"But you have to promise to take her down!" Circe adds.

“Of course. And I must say, that kind of talk is very archenemy of you.”

“Really?” she asks hopefully.

“Oh yes. Refusing to let anyone but yourself defeat me? Peak sworn foe.”

Circe smirks, wriggling a little in satisfaction. “Well, duh. Of course it is. I can’t let some bitch try and steal my nemesis! Anyway, she’s taking that thing over to the Benezir place. That old car factory on the other side of town.”

“The Benezir Factory?” you say.

“Yeah, that one.”

“Got it,” you say, pulling her from the wall and scooping her up princess style, making her yelp.

“Ah- hey! What are...”

“I’m taking you to jail of course, so you cannot threaten the poor people of this city anymore! It’s on the way as well.”

“O-oh. Yeah. Duh!” Circe says. But as you take flight, you notice that for someone being dragged off to prison, she doesn’t really look all that upset. In fact, she’s snuggling up and making herself quite comfortable. You can only shake your head.

Villains.

Who knows what they’re thinking...

Screen Saver

Emerson Industries

You hurry across the city, expression firm with purpose. Starburst flies close on your heels, the orbs of her power swirling around her.

“Is a robber at some company really that big a deal?” she asks.

You’re surprised to hear that, but suppose not every new hero takes as much of an interest in the business world as you. “It is quite a big deal, yes,” you say. “Emerson Industries is a major research lab, developing everything from next generation fuel sources to telecom technology. Needless to say, it’s been raided by villains a lot, and even has a couple heroes on standby to thwart such aims.”

“Then why don’t we leave it to them?” she asks.

“That’s just it,” you say grimly. “We wouldn’t have been called if those heroes had managed to fend off these new villains.”

“Oh,” Starburst replies, and when you glance back you see her face set with resolve. Good. She’ll need that sort of conviction whatever you find at your target.

You soon spot the expansive facilities of Emersonn’s headquarters. Set on a small island in the bay, its outbuildings, labs, and research wings sprawl over the entire compound. A bridge connects it to the mainland, and looks to be in ruins. You have no trouble finding where the problem is. Smoke is pouring out of a lab on the eastern side.

“Down there!” you call, and swerve towards it, soon spotting a hole punched in the side of the building. “Be careful! We may be going in hot.”

“Gotcha,” Starburst says, her orbs pulsing red.

Feet first, you lower yourself into the hole, your eyes taking in the interior. The place is trashed, with fragments of massive machinery strewn everywhere. There’s also a number of goats standing around bleating, and also a bunch of what looks like androids. The top-heavy robotic men are made of a glossy white metal, joints veined with glowing blue machinery. They’re primarily gathered around a huge, complicated looking machine of tubes and wires in the middle of the room, and are in the midst of disconnecting it from the floor and what looks like several servers. They’re being overseen by a drop-dead gorgeous woman in what looks like a very flattering black and green leotard trimmed with gold. Over this is a cape with clasps resembling intertwined snakes, and a crown of gold laurels sits snugly on her golden hair.

“That’s it,” she says as a goat bleats near her feet. “Keep at it. Almost got it.”

The robots continue to work, and as you watch you hear a final connector open with a clank, the mass of metal shifting as the androids move it out of the slot it was hooked to.

Alright time to put an end to this.

“Halt!” you declare, floating in the air. “Surrender at once, in the name of justice!”

The woman yelps and spins around, looking up at you. The second she sees you her expression positively lights up and she widens her stance, hands planted on her hips.

“Well! If it isn’t the heroic Foundry!” she declares smugly. “Bet you weren’t expecting to see me here! Your archenemy, Circe!”

Your brow crinkles with puzzlement. “You?” you say.

“Yes! Me!” she cries, throwing her arms open.

"You know her?" Starburst asks you, her orbs of light pulsing with power.

"I can't say I do," you say honestly.

The villainess's grin falters. "What? But... but I'm Circe," she says. "The... the Sorcerous Seductress. Mistress of Magic. Menace of Mega City. We've fought before. Twice!"

"You sure you don't know her?" Starburst asks.

"Well," you say. "I might. I do fight a lot of villains."

Circe's uncertain expression has shifted to incredulity. "But... but I'm your archenemy! Your sworn foe! Even since you stopped me from turning all those socialites into pigs and holding them for ransom."

You try and think back. You... do have a vague memory of thwarting some plot involving a bunch of swine. But the specifics have faded.

"Um..." you say.

"You don't remember the pigs?"

"Not really. Sorry."

"W-well what about the time I turned a frog into a hydra and threatened the city?"

"That was you?"

"Yes it was me! The hydra shouted my name!"

"Is that what it was doing? I thought it was just hissing at me."

"Besides," Starburst adds. "Just two fights? Really?" She snorts. "Archenemies have more than just two fights with a hero. They have a long history of battling, throwing around quips, and hatred for each other. Not to mention something personal at stake."

"Personal?" Circe demands.

"Yeah! A long-lost brother or rival," Starburst continues. "Or maybe someone's face was accidentally melted in a tragic lab accident."

"Quite so," you agree, giving Starburst a proud nod. She's not one of the best up and coming heroes for nothing, after all.

"And just who is this bitch supposed to be?" Circe demands, pointing at Starburst. "Your sidekick?"

All mirth vanishes from the heroine's face. "Sidekick!" Starburst fumes, glowing bright red. "I'm a hero!"

"Yeah? You dress like a stripper."

"Coming from some bitch cosplaying a Greek whore."

"Whore!"

"Ladies, please!" you cry. "This is getting off topic. What I want to know is just what are you and these robots doing here, Circe?"

"Oh! Now you want to know what I'm up to? Well fine!" she declares, planting her hands back on her hips, a smirk on her face. "I'm helping Miss Deed boost this machine!"

"Miss Deed again?" you growl. "That fiend! What is she doing with it?"

Circe snorts. "Wouldn't you like to know."

"Yes. Do you know?"

"Wh-what?" Circe stammers. "What do you mean? Of course I know. I'm an integral part of this scheme!"

"Yeah right," Starburst scoffs, folding her arms and smirking down at the other woman. "Seems to me you're acting more like a henchman than proper villain."

"I'm no henchman!" she shrieks.

You're about to reply when you see the androids with the machine lift off, feet igniting like rockets as they rise into the air, hoisting the machine between them.

"Halt!" you shout at the androids, crimson energy gathering in your palms. "You will not bring that device to your foul mistress!"

"Forget her! I'm your arch enemy! Me!" Circe snaps furiously as magic swirls around her own hands. "And let me remind you why!"

Intercept the Androids

Intercept the Androids

Though you're loathe not to deal swift justice to a villain, the fact remains that the true threat is whatever the menacing Miss Deed is plotting. And though you don't like the thought of leaving this matter entirely to Starburst given her recent experience fighting a villainess alone, letting those robots escape with their prize would be far worse.

"Starburst! You handle Circe," you exclaim as you fly after the androids. "I'll take these machines!"

"On it," Starburst crows.

"Get back here! Get back here and fight your real archenemy!" Circe shrieks behind you, but you ignore her, and the concussive sound of energy blasts as Starburst engages the villainess.

Your approach doesn't exactly go unnoticed, and those silvery androids not carrying away the machine spin about to intercept you. Their arms swing up revealing laser cannons, and a salvo of red beams rain down on you.

You dodge and swerve, your own hands glowing as you gather crimson energy into your palms. Your arms thrust out, sending several blasts into the machines. Two are blown out of the sky, and two more fly in to intercept you. Pumping more energy into yourself, you rocket towards them, drawing back a fist. As the first comes up before you, you smash through it, circuits and steel tearing apart in the face of your super strength.

The second android swings a mechanical fist, cracking you in the jaw and slowing you down, only for you to slam your fist into and through its chest, the machine doubling over, sparking and crackling. You focus your powers into your palm and blast the android's mechanical guts out with a heat blast. A bit much if you were dealing with a foe of flesh and blood, but against a machine it's no big deal.

Flinging aside the android's body, you soar back in pursuit of the fleeing ones even as the robot you destroyed explodes in your wake. You surge out of the hole, looking about and quickly spotting the escaping androids bearing their prize through the sky. Pumping more power into your body, you move to pursue.

And so miss the blast of blue energy until it slams into you, sending you hurtling off course to smash into the glass windows of Emerson's office building.

You roll across the floor, obliterating several cubicles before bounding back to your feet, rushing back to the shattered window. You look out it, just in time to see another silvery android rise in the air on the fire of rocket boots.

This one is different from the others, however. It looks sleeker. More designed and formed. The fact that it has a very feminine one is probably beside the point, but you have a tough time not admiring the full heft of her breastplate and long, sleek form of her legs ending in heeled steel boots. Triangular pieces of white steel fan out behind her like the beams of a starburst halo, and a faintly distorted but still tantalizingly smooth feminine laugh comes from her smooth, screen face.

"Well well! I wasn't expecting to have to make this reveal so soon."

Your hands tighten to fists at your sides. "Miss Deed, I presume?"

"You presume correctly, hero. Mmm. And I have to say, those reams of security footage don't do you justice in the flesh. Rawr!"

You scowl. "So you're the one who engaged this whole affair? Why? What's your true goal?"

"You mean getting all those hot bad girls obsessed with that heroic cock isn't motivation enough? You underestimate it. Really, you missed your calling, Foundry. A good pounding from that dick would redeem even the most sadistic of bitch."

Your hands clench at your sides, heat energy glowing hot as your rage and embarrassment. "Don't toy with me!"

"Who's toying? You think these bad girls wouldn't do whatever it takes to get a taste of that hot cock?"

"Fine," you growl, rising into the air. "If you won't tell me willingly, then I'll just have to make you."

"Niiiiice. Love that alpha male vibe. Bring it, big boy," Miss Deed cackles.

Engage Her Hand to Hand

Blast Her from Afar

Blast Her from Afar

You swing up your arms, heat powers blaze in your palms as you open fire. Twin rays of light shriek through the air at the floating woman.

But just before they can hit her, the halo of triangular devices spin in front of her. Instantly your heat blasts split, drawn into the tips of the triangles like water up a straw.

You gape as the red beams vanish, as if it had never been there. "What..."

Miss Deed laughs throatily. "Really? Did you honestly think I don't know everything about your powers? After all that work I did studying, obsessing, and learning everything I can about you? Did you think I wouldn't at least have figured out how to counter them before setting off on this grand evil scheme?"

"I uh..."

"And did you think," she added as the triangles flip up, fanning out as their tips glow blue, taking aim at you, "that I wouldn't have figured out a way to beat you?"

Uh oh.

You swerve aside as the triangles open fire, blasts of blue energy zinging in the air around you. But there's so many! You twist and weave, but one of them hits you, blasting you off course. Pain rips through you from the spot. That hurt!

But not nearly as much as when the rest lock on to you and start blasting. The impacts come one after the next, pounding into you and breaking your concentration. You plummet under their assault, slamming into the cement roof of the labs hard enough to crater it.

You groan from the pit, feeling oddly... weak. Like your powers have been suppressed somehow. You raise your eyes, spotting Miss Deed floating not far.

"Sorry, but gotta run, hero!" the villainess laughs, waving farewell as she skims backwards. "Ta!"

"W-wait!" you gasp, wrenching yourself out of the crater only to topple onto the edge. Blast it! Whatever was in those beams has left you feeling chilled, like you've been ducked into an icy river.

Fortunately, the effect doesn't last too long, and soon you manage to force yourself back to your feet. The heat of your powers blooms through you once more, filling you once again with the burning heat of a furnace.

Sadly, too late to catch Miss Deed, who's long gone. Damn! You scowl and rise into the air, heading back towards the hole in the ceiling. Well, you at least hope that Starburst had better luck than you did...

Return to the Lab

Engage Her Hand to Hand

You don't know what she blasted you with before, but you have no intention of seeing what other tricks she has for a long-range battle. Gathering yourself up, you hurl your body through the air and at Miss Deed.

"Get some, Foundry!" she laughs, retreating like a figure skater as the halo of triangles whirls around her and locks on to you. Beams of blue light blast from them, forcing you to swerve and weave from their path, but there's a hell of a lot of them.

Good thing you have tricks up your sleeve too.

A sudden burst of your heat powers sends you rocketing at her like a missile, and you can see the villainess rear back in surprise at the sudden acceleration. You slam into Miss Deed, your arms wrapped around her to keep her from escaping.

"A hug! I knew you cared," she giggles.

You just grit your teeth and angle both you and her down towards the roof of a lab. The both of you hurtle through the sky and slam into it with thunderous force, hitting the cement so hard it buckles.

You rear up above Miss Deed, one hand grabbing her neck, holding her down as you pull back your fist. Her delicate limbs are askew, sparking, and even her head seems off kilter
"Surrender, Miss Deed! You're done!"

"I sure am," she says playfully. "You got me good, hero! Well, this drone, anyway."

You lower your fist a hair. "Drone?"

"Of course! You don't think I'd go rob a place in person, do you? That'd just be stupid."
She sighs. "Oh well. I did like this prototype, buuuut..."

You cock a brow. "But?"

The screen on her face suddenly hums, and a ten second timer starts counting down.

Uh oh.

You've been a hero long enough you know what that means, and without delay you hurl yourself off her, soaring backwards as the red numbers buzz down.

1.

The explosion forces you to shield your eyes with an arm, white and blue chunks of machinery rattling off you. When you lower your arm, it's to see fully half of the roof destroyed, along with the drone.

Blast.

You curse, but there's nothing else you can do here. You scan the sky, but the androids stealing the machine are long gone. Dammit! She got you. Loathe as you are to admit it, Miss Deed's little distraction worked to perfection.

Speaking of...

You look back at the other lab and hastily soar towards it. You hope Starburst at least had better luck than you did...

Return to the Lab

Deal with Circe

Though you know those androids are undoubtedly up to no good, and that machine is bound to be used in some nefarious scheme by Miss Deed, the fact remains that turning your back on a villainess like Circe is a terrible mistake.

Fortunately, you have a solution to that.

“Stop them, Starburst!” you declare as heat glows around your clenched fists. “I’ll deal with this villainess!”

“Got it, Foundry,” Starburst declares, spinning around and soaring after the retreating robots.

“That’s right! Run along,” Circe cackles, giving Starburst a mocking wave farewell. “Archenemies are fighting here. Now, prepare yourself, Foundry, to face the magnificent magical might of Circeeeek!”

You send her scampering with several heat blasts, but she’s surprisingly nimble and manages to evade them, even hurling some badly aimed spells your way. You evade them easily, but know you’ll need to finish her off quicker.

Without delay you fly at her, keeping her off-centre with more blasts of energy. By the time she realizes how close you are, it’s too late.

“H-hey! Wait! Noooo!” she yelps, trying to cast at you. She manages to get one shot of magic off, but you easily dodge it, then grab her wrists and slam them and her into the machine behind her.

“Ow!” she yelps.

“There!” you snarl, twisting her around and wrenching her arms behind her back, pushing her face against the machine. “Finally, you’re done, Circe!” you growl, forcing a pair of cuffs on her that rapidly expand to power-deadening mittens. “Now-”

“I know! Now you’re gonna ravish me, aren’t you?” she demands, her chin thrust out defiantly as she glares at you over her shoulder. “Well go ahead! I’ll never talk!”

For a moment you’re thrown. “What? No, of course not.”

“You’re not?” she says, her mouth dropping open. “But... But...”

You lean back in alarm. Good heavens, is she about to cry?

"Oh," she snuffles. "Oh, I get it. You won't because... because you'd only do that with a real archenemy, huh? Because I'm not good enough to be your arch? Huh? Not hot enough to get that kind of s-sexual tension with you?"

"Absolutely not!"

"I knew it!" she bawls.

"No!" you cry in exasperation. Dammit, this is not how it's supposed to go. Usually when you take down a villain they scream defiantly or swear revenge or something. Not cry like a schoolgirl who'd just been rejected by her crush. Not helping is the fact you're holding her trapped against a machine, your body pressing against her. If any cameras had survived the attack on the lab, you'd be pretty nervous about this getting out.

"Look," you say forcefully. "That's not what... I wouldn't do that. I'm a hero! A hero doesn't take advantage of those they capture."

"Yeah?" Circe snuffles. "That's not... not what I read on that forum."

God dammit! Again with that stupid forum. You swear, when you take down Miss Deed, you're not going to go easy on her.

"Those are all lies," you snap. "I never did anything like that! In fact, Miss Deed is the one who orchestrated this entire miserable crime wave!"

Circe pauses, staring at you. "Wh-what?"

"Yes! I've been attacked by horny villainesses all day. It's maddening!"

"But... Wait. She didn't tell me about that!" Circe whines. "That's not fair! You're supposed to be my archenemy. What's she doing throwing a bunch of horny sluts your way?"

"That's what I've been saying," you say in exasperation.

"That bitch!" Circe snarls, her face twisting in anger. "How dare she do this to me! This was supposed to be our big archenemy fight. And she pulls this shit? I'll kill her! I'll turn her into a bug and step on her!"

You pause, considering. Circe certainly does sound pissed. Perhaps you can use this...

"Then do you know where she is?" you ask.

"I mean, yeah. Of course!"

"Then if you tell me," you prompt, "I can arrest her!"

“She doesn’t deserve arrest. She deserves to suffer!” Circe snaps, then blinks. “Wait,” she says, giving you a shrewd look. “Then, does that mean... that I have information that you need?”

“Well...”

“Then you should interrogate me. Like on the forum!”

“Wh-what?!”

“Yeah!” she says, grinning evilly. “That’s what a real arch would do. Interrogate me until I squeal! Demean me so I hate you even more when I can’t help but inevitably give in!”

Damn. How did it come to this? Well, actually, you have a pretty good idea how. But still, you don’t think that... well, lewding it up will serve you well here. But on the other hand, what choice do you have?

Appeal to Justice

“Circe, surely you realize that whatever Miss Deed is plotting is dangerous. Will harm untold hundreds of civilians. Innocents! Don’t you care?”

“No. Not really,” she said blankly. “Wait,” she asked with a grin. “Is this foreplay?”

You scowl. Well, so much for that.

Appeal to Her Ego

You need that information, but you're not going to demean yourself to get it. Or, well, fuck the information out of her. Heaven help you, is this really where your career is now? You sigh and shake your head.

But regardless, you have a job to do, and she has information you need. Now, how to get it is important. Appealing to her sense of goodness clearly isn't going to work. And you doubt threatening her with a longer sentence or even some lenience will get much out of her. She's too proud for that, and it never works on villains anyway. They naturally assume they'll just break out of prison long before their sentence is finished anyway. And to be fair, they're usually right. So... what to do?

Wait...

That might work.

"It's a shame you're not willing to help me," you say conversationally.

"Oh yeah?" she says. "Well tough! Because this bad girl doesn't talk."

"Indeed. I suppose that means Miss Deed is a bit closer to becoming a true archenemy."

Circe freezes. "Wh-what?"

"Yes," you sigh. "After all, if I can't find her, I'll spend who knows how long trying to hunt her down. Chasing down clues. Any scrap of evidence as she taunts me by eluding me, yet leaving a trail of breadcrumbs for me to follow. Sooner or later, I'll be able to think of nothing but her. Every waking moment wondering what she'll do next. What fiendish scheme she'll enact. And as for all these villains I've been fighting, like you, well..."

"Well what?" Circe demands, twisting around, a somewhat panicked look in her eye.

"Well," you shrug. "They'll just be another stepping stone. A forgotten footnote in the tale of taking down Miss Deed. Sadly, I suppose I'll have no choice. It's not like I can arrest her quickly, now can I? You know. Before this whole archenemy thing builds up."

You see Circe's mind doing some quick mental arithmetic before reaching the obvious conclusion. "Wait! I know where they're taking that machine."

"Where?"

"But you have to promise to take her down!" Circe adds.

"Of course. And I must say, that kind of talk is very archenemy of you."

"Really?" she asks hopefully.

"Oh yes. Refusing to let anyone but yourself defeat me? Peak sworn foe."

Circe smirks, wriggling a little in satisfaction. "Well, duh. Of course it is. I can't let some bitch try and steal my nemesis! Anyway, she's taking that thing over to the Benezir place. That old car factory on the other side of town."

"The Benezir Factory?" you say.

"Yeah, that one."

You nod, then jump as the room shudders from a massive explosion outside. You twist about to look through the hole in the building. Shit! You almost forgot about Starburst taking on those androids. You're about to take flight when something drops back through the hole. You tense, only to relax as you recognize Starburst descending back into the lab.

"Did you stop them?" you ask the heroine.

"No," she says, a scowl on her face. "I was intercepted by Miss Deed's drone."

"A drone?" you say, frowning. "Was it dangerous?"

"Put up a fight, but I took it down," she said, drifting down to float beside you. "Though it blew itself up before I could do anything with it. I see you dealt the henchmen, though," she added with a snide smirk at Circe.

"Shows what you know!" the villainess snarls.

You roll your eyes. "Circe has been dealt with, and I got some information from her that will be of use."

"Oh?" Starburst says, perking up. "What?"

"A location. The Benezir Factory," you say, pulling Circe from the wall and scooping her up princess style.

The villainess yelps and even Starburst looks surprised. "Wh-what are you doing?" the heroine demands.

"What do you mean?" you ask blankly. "I'm taking her to jail of course, so she cannot threaten the poor people of this city anymore! It's on our way."

"O-oh. Yeah. Of course!" Starburst says. But as you take flight, you notice that for someone being dragged off to prison, Circe doesn't really look all that upset. She looks downright smug as she snuggles in against your chest. Starburst, on the other hand, looks downright pouty as she follows your lead into the sky. You sigh and shake your head.

Women.

Who knows what they're thinking...

Appeal to Naughtiness

You scowl, but as annoyed as you are, the fact remains that you can't let Miss Deed get away, and Circe is your best bet at stopping that depraved villainess. One whose plot, clearly, goes much deeper than you realized.

But you'll be damned if you're gentle with this sadistic villainess.

You shove Circe against the machine, making her grunt, one of your arms going around her neck. She freezes, eyes widening as she looks over her shoulder at you.

"Is this what you wanted?" you growl, your free hand filling itself with the softness of her breast. Squeezing it and making Circe whimper. "To be captured? Taken?" You lean in closer, voice dropping to a guttural growl. "Used?"

You feel a shiver work through her. But not of fear. Oh no. Not by the way her thighs rub together and a soft moan escapes her. "Y-yeah," Circe pants.

"I bet it is," you scoff, molding her breast in your free hand like it was dough, making the villainess whimper and groan, writhing in delight. "You think you can be my archenemy? You're just a harlot looking for some fun. A perverted fiend wanting to be used by some hero."

"A-archenemies have... have lots of s-sexual tension, so I ack!"

You tighten your arm around her neck, choking off her reply. "Quiet," you growl. "Prisoners don't get to talk unless I tell them to."

She nods quickly and you ease off her throat, but if anything your display of dominance has only aroused her further. Her ass grinds back against your crotch. Her breathing comes in hot, heavy pants, and you swear you can see hearts dancing in her eyes.

"Do you like that?" you ask hoarsely as your groping hand moves from her breast and down her trim stomach and costume, feeling the muscles of her tummy flutter as your fingers ghost over them. "Do you like being put in your place by a hero? Punished for all your crimes?"

"Uh huh," she gasps, bucking as your hand reaches her crotch.

"Then you better start talking," you growl, finger stroking her through her costume, feeling her pussy twitch and tremble under your firm touch. The fabric growing damp from her leaking arousal. "Or am I going to have to fuck it out of you?"

"Mnnnn," she moans, trembling. "F-fuck me!"

“Fine,” you say, seizing the fabric of her costume. “Have it your way!”

You rip the crotch of her leotard free, causing her to yelp as her bottom half is exposed.

“There it is,” you growl in her ear, finger stroking her pussy, making Circe whimper and squirm under your touch. “There’s your weak spot, you slut. And I’m going to pump that information out of you right now.”

“Y-yes,” Circe gasps. “Pleeeeeease!”

You snort. Pathetic. But you’ve come this far, and you’d be lying if you said you weren’t turned on as well. Your cock is positively straining to burst out of your costume, and you hastily free it before the durable fabric gives way.

You grunt as your manhood finally escapes its prison, positively throbbing with pent-up lust. Especially with the feel of Circe’s gorgeous figure pressing against you and the foreplay thus far. Not to say you enjoyed tormenting her. And you’re certainly not going to, you know, delight in fucking her like this. That’d just be depraved.

But you’ll do anything for justice. Including going balls deep in this nefarious slut.

And by God you’ll do it now.

Seizing her hip, you pull open her legs, baring the dripping heat of her pussy. You push forward the tip of your cock bumping her folds, making Circe gasp and jolt, only to freeze as your arm tightens around her neck.

“Now take it,” you growl in her ear.

And push up.

Circe cries out as your cock fills her, and you can barely suppress a moan as the tightness of her inner walls positively devours your manhood, rippling sweetly around your cock as her pussy envelops your shaft, squeezing it in delectable pleasure. You grit your teeth, giving her neck another firm squeeze to remind her who’s in charge.

“Now. Talk!” you command.

And begin to thrust.

“Ah!” Circe gasps. Moans. “Ah! Ah! Nnn! Ahn!”

“Talk!” you command, increasing your pace. “What’s Miss Deed’s plan? What’s she up to?”

“I... ah... mnnn! I duh... dunno. Oh!” she moans.

“What?” you snap, slowing. “You better be joking!”

“N-no! Please. D-don’t stop,” she whines, wriggling in a frantic effort to get you to fuck her again.

“Then give me something you slut!”

“Nnn! I... I know where her lair is!”

“Yeah?” you say, resuming your steady thrusts. “That’s something. Where? Tell me!”

“Mnnnn!” Circe moans, her hips working riding her atop your cock, her breasts crushed to the warm metal before her, pressed by the firm, powerful frame of your body. “Ah! Ahn! Yes! Yes, she... ooooh... she’s in... nnnn... She’s i-in the Benezir Factory up town. In... in the old industrial district! She... ah... that’s her I-lair!”

“You better not be lying to me,” you growl as you increase your pace, pounding her against the machine until it thumps like a drum from her hips and knees. “You better be telling me the truth of I’ll pull out and drag you to prison where you won’t even be able to finger yourself to orgasm!”

“I swear! I sweaaar! Please! Please make me... make me c-cuuuum!”

You’re half tempted not to. The urge to leave this nefarious bitch unsatisfied on the floor, dripping with need, mad with lust, is almost overwhelming. But she upheld her end of the bargain, and it’s a poor hero who doesn’t keep their word.

Though, it’s probably not a great hero who fucks a villainess for information. But you’ll leave such philosophising for when you’re not stuffing your cock in some of the most delightful pussy you’ve ever known.

That in mind you take your arm from her neck and fill both your hands with her huge breasts. Circe wails in bliss as you roughly pound into her, mating her with sharp, brutal thrusts as you squeeze and massage her fat breasts.

“Oh fuck!” Circe wails, face pressed against the machine, her ass slapping against your pelvis. “Oh fuck! Fuck! Fuck! Fuuuuuck yessssss!”

That final wail announces her end. With that cry she cums, shuddering, quivering as her inner walls clamp down, squeezing your cock and her juices soak down your shaft.

The sudden tightness of her slick pussy pushes you past the edge as well, and with a groan you thrust up a final time, stuffing her with the full girth of your cock, your hands squeezing her whorish breasts as your balls tighten and unleash the heaviness of your seed into her rippling pussy.

You swear, the sudden deluge of your heroic cum inspires a second orgasm in the depraved woman currently impaled on your cock. She shudders, fairly drooling, her eyes actually rolling as she jolts with every pulse of your seed.

Finally, you feel done and pull out of her. Circe whimpers, sagging against the metal wall, utterly limp and spent.

Well, you suppose that worked.

A sudden boom shakes the lab and you look up sharply. Oh hell! You almost forgot about Starburst. You hastily do up your costume, and are about to take off when the heroine herself descends through the hole in the ceiling, looking absolutely pissed.

“Starburst!” you cry. “You’re alright?”

“I am,” she says bitterly, landing and dusting off her costume. “But they got away with the machine.”

“They did?”

“Yes. I was intercepted by a drone piloted by Miss Deed herself.”

“Hell!” you curse. “What happened?”

“I beat it and it blew itself up.” She glances at you and a nearly comatose Circe. “What happened here?”

“Uh,” you stammer, hastily bending down and wrapping Circe up in her cloak to hide the evidence of what you and her did. “I... interrogated her.”

“That right?” Starburst says, her lips pinching and eyes squinting suspiciously.

“Yes. Yes, and got some excellent information! Seems that Miss Deed’s lair is in the old Benezir Factory,” you say, pulling Circe from the wall and scooping her up princess style, making her groan in sated lust.

“Wh-what are you doing?” Starburst demands.

“What do you mean?” you ask quickly, adjusting the limp villainess in your arms. “I’m taking her to jail of course, so she cannot threaten the poor people of this city anymore! It’s on our way.”

“O-oh. Yeah. Of course!” Starburst says. But as you take flight, you notice Starburst’s suspicious glare at the villainess as she follows your lead into the sky. Hopefully she hasn’t guessed what you had to do to get this information.

Hopefully...

Trying not to linger on how good it felt to fuck this naughty villainess, you close up your costume, working fast, as it seems like Circe's orgasm has left her nearly insensate. In fact, if it wasn't for you, she'd be slipping down the wall and flopping onto the floor.

Once you've hidden the evidence of your little tryst, you wrap Circe in her cape and scoop her up princess style, making her moan. Hopefully anyone who sees her ruined costume will assume it was damaged in battle.

"Mmm..." Circe groans, stirring. "What... What are..."

"I'm taking you to jail of course, so you cannot threaten the poor people of this city anymore! It's on the way as well."

"O-oh. Yeah. Okay," Circe says in blissful unconcern. And as you take flight, you notice that for someone being dragged off to prison, she doesn't really look all that upset. You can only shake your head.

Villains.

Who knows what they're thinking...

Screen Saver

Captive of Circe

It can't have been more than a few days since you fell into Circe's grasp, and overall, you think you've done pretty well to resist her.

Which isn't to say you haven't cum. Though Circe may be a bit of a bimbo, she knows how to pleasure a man. And herself, given her habit of stroking herself while she humiliates you in various ways. But you haven't fucked her yet. Which isn't to say you and she haven't been getting your respective pleasure.

At the moment, you're hanging in her dungeon, though boudoir seems more apt. The room is extremely pink and uses a lot of gold. Tacky has been left far behind, and it's now in the realm of gaudy, with excessive filigree, Grecian pillars that seem to serve no function, and lots of random valuables strewn about the place haphazardly like a teenager's room.

And then there's you, bound by magical cuffs to the wall, naked and scowling.

But you'll escape inevitably. Soon as she lets down her guard. She hasn't broken you.

You stir as a full-length mirror across the room swirls and Circe steps out of it with a swirl of her cape, the villainess grinning.

"Hey there, hero!" she chirps. "How you doing?"

You fail to reply, owing to the ball gag stuffed in your mouth, but you do manage a pretty solid glare. In the time since you fell into the clutches of Circe, she's wasted no time in making sure you knew your place. Mostly, this was either under her, being played with by her, or being reminded you lost to her while she rubbed herself against you and pumped your cock.

Strange woman.

"Oooh, so cute and defiant! But not for much longer," she declares, strutting across the room. "Not when I have... this!"

You raise a brow as she lifts what appears to be a pair of visored goggles, the pink glass framed by silvery metal.

"Ta dah! Payment for me helping out Miss Deed. I finally got it! And now," she continues with a wicked grin. "Now, we're going to have some fun..."

You lean back in budding alarm. Circe may be an immature moron, but anything to do with Miss Deed is bad news. Circe just laughs and easily slips the goggles over your eyes, adjusting the strap.

“There. That comfy?”

“Mf mrf mr,” you growl into the gag.

She taps something on the side of the visor, and a sudden swirl of colours fill it. You blink in surprise.

Then blink again.

Again.

You find yourself staring at the strange, swirling hues filling your vision. Something... off about the whole thing, but you can’t... can’t quite put your finger on it. On what? You can’t remember. Your brains feels... soft. Slushy. Swirling and... and goody...

“Feeling better?” Circe asks.

“Mrf...”

“Feeling nice and empty?”

“Mrm...”

Circe giggles, clapping her hands. “Yes! It works! Ha ha! I guess I owe that bitch some time with you now. But whatever! Here,” she says, gesturing.

You feel the chains that bound you magically let you go, allowing you to drop to the floor on your hands and knees. A pretty foolish thing for a villainess to do, considering a hero could just be faking their obedience.

“Mnnnn,” you grunt, shuddering as pure endorphins soak your mind. At what, though? At that word?

Obedience.

“Mmmm,” you moan, cock throbbing beneath you.

Oh.

Oh, that was... was so good.

“Now, let’s see. Um...” Circe hums, examining the instructions. “So, now you’re supposed to enjoy following orders. Like, you get lots of pleasure from it. And that’s supposed to make you obedient to me.”

“Mmmm,” you moan as another throb of pure pleasure soaks you, throbbing in your balls and twitching cock.

You do, reaching back and unbuckling it. You pull it out and gasp, licking your lips, rolling your jaw as the colours continue to swirl before your eyes.

“So, uh...” Circe hums, checking the instructions again. “Now I... Fuck, are these in French? Oh, fuck it!” she cries, tossing the paper over her shoulder and pointing down at you. “You are now my obedient slave! And my first order is for you to, um... kiss my foot! Obey me!”

Instantly your entire awareness (what little you have) is magnetized to her shoe as she pushes it out. Obediently you crawl forward, lower your face, and kiss her toe.

You hear Circe gasp and clap her hands again. “He he he! It does work! Oh fuck, this is perfect! Finally. But I’ve had enough foot stuff. Now, I think we’ll go... a bit higher...”

You raise your head, the swirls of hues still swimming in your eyes as Circe undoes the tight leotard she wears. She’s blushing as she tugs it down, tossing it away, and revealing the sweet, tender folds of her pussy. You’ve seen it often. Circe likes to masturbate while humiliating you. But it’s different now. Now, you can feel a strange compulsion. A strange fascination with her pussy. There’s an almost magnetic pull to it now. As if you can’t look away. Can’t defy it.

You must obey.

Obey.

Obey.

You pant, every thought of that word sending another throb of pure lust aching through you.

Yes.

You must obey.

“Do you like it?” Circe asks almost shyly, her fingers running down her figure, framing the plush orbs of her breasts, lifting and stroking them before her fingers wander lower.

Lower.

Lower.

“Do you like my sexy body? Do you love staring at it? Wanting it? Gods, that’s sooo pathetic, hero! And to think, you were my archenemy. Now you’re just drooling over my pussy!”

She laughs, and you agree. It is pathetic. Not that you care. But somehow, the thought makes you even hornier. Your cock is twitching under you, pre drooling from the tip.

“Want a taste, Foundry?” Circe asks playfully, her index fingers stroking her lower lip, slickening her with arousal.

You nod. “Yes,” you breathe.

“Then come lick me out, bitch,” she says, her cheeks reddening at the crude words.

And you obey.

Because thinking about obedience is nice.

But physically obeying is soooooo much better.

You crawl up to her and lift your head, your tongue pushing out and lathing her lower lips. Circe gasps, then moans as you adoringly lick her pussy like some depraved human dog. Your tongue flicking her slit. Pushing inside. Tasting the sweetness of her cunt. Her juices dripping into your mouth where you swallow eagerly.

Drinking her pleasure.

Drinking her essence.

Obeying your gorgeous mistress.

“Ah! Mnnn... Oh f-fuck yes!” Circe gasps, gripping your hair as her hips rock, riding your tongue with whimpers of delight. “Yes! That’s... that’s good. Oh fuck, Foundry. Knew your... always knew your tongue would be... mnnn... be good. Ah. Mnnn! Fuck! Keep going. Keep going!”

You obey.

Obeying is good.

Obeying is pleasure.

Obeying as colours swirl further subduing your mind.

As pleasure is pumped into your veins by your obedient brain.

As your cock wags and drools and throbs with pleasure even with nothing touching it but the cool air of the room. It feels so good to obey. So perfect to obey. Gotta obey. Gotta obey Circe. Gotta obey mistress.

“Yes!” Circe gasps atop you, practically humping your face. “Yes! Yes! Oh fucking gods yessssssss!”

Her final scream of pleasure signals the deluge, and a flood of her washes over your tongue. You groan as you guzzle her juices. Drink as much as you can. And as you do, you feel your balls ache. Throb. Your cock pulse as an orgasm builds in you like a sudden swell of electric delight, and you cum right there, hips bucking as you spurt shamelessly, splattering your seed on the floor in ropes of pure animal lust.

Panting, swaying a bit, Circe steps back from your face and looks down at you. A shaky smile dances on her lips, and then she sees your splashed seed on the floor.

“Holy fuck! Did you seriously cum just from that? Wow!” she laughs. “You are a pathetic hero, aren’t you?”

“Yes, mistress,” you drone, eyes swimming in colours and pleasure and sweet, mindless pleasure.

She giggles sadistically. “Yeah you are. And pathetic heroes clean up their messes with their tongues, don’t they?”

“Yes, mistress.”

“Then obey, Foundry!”

You do at once, lowering your head and licking up your spilled seed. You barely taste it, but the humiliation throbs in your balls, renewing your erection as you obey. By the sound of Circe’s laughter, you can only imagine what new humiliations she’ll have in store.

And you smile, feeling another cool wash of the colours soothing any hesitation you have. Because you know one thing alone.

You’re going to enjoy every second of it...

Return to the Lab

You drop back into the lab and take it in with a sweep of your eyes. The place didn't look great when you left, but now it looks downright destroyed! Scorch marks are everywhere and even more delicate machinery has been smashed. Looks like Circe didn't go down easily.

But down she went, and you soon spot her on the floor, Starburst straddling her with a knee pressed into the other woman's back. Circe's arms are wrenched behind her, and a pair of power dampening cuffs are being forcefully put on her hands.

Starburst looks up as you descend. "Foundry! Good of you to join us," she says smugly.

"So I see. Excellent work," you inform her.

"Thanks," she says, smirking. "Got it all settled." She frowns. "What about the androids?"

"Got away," you admit, landing beside her and Circe. "Miss Deed intercepted me and managed to stall until they escaped."

"Damn," Starburst curses, getting to her feet and wrenching Circe to hers. "Well, at least we're not leaving empty handed."

"Fuck you!" Circe snarls, her costume torn and hair dishevelled, a far cry from the striking beauty you first encountered here.

You consider the villainess. "Circe?" you ask.

"Huh?" she demands, looking your way peevishly.

"Do you know where Miss Deed is taking that machine?"

She blinks. "Well, yeah. Of course."

"Where?" Starburst demands.

Circe's twists her head, glaring at the other woman. "Ha! As if I'd tell you, bitch."

"The fuck'd you just call me?" Starburst growls, twisting Circe's arms behind her back, making the villainess yelp and writhe.

"Easy, Starburst," you chide gently, but this is something you can maybe use. "After all, we don't have time to waste with a mere distraction. If we don't deal with Miss Deed soon, she's liable to become a true archenemy."

Circe's head whips around so fast her hair slaps herself. "Huh?" she demands. "The hell do you mean? I'm your archenemy!"

"Are you?" you ask. "Because it seems to me she left you here to be caught while she engages in her true, dastardly plan. Using you as a decoy while she accomplishes whatever foul end she truly intends. And since she engineered this entire crime wave to distract me, it seems like you all are more... well..."

"What?" Circe demands, a subtle element of panic in her eyes.

Catching on, Starburst grins and leans in, her voice dropping to a hoarse whisper. "...Henchmen," she breathes.

Circe shivers, and you actually see her lower lip wobble with emotion. "But... but I'm..."

"Of course," you muse, tapping your chin thoughtfully. "If we manage to take down Miss Deed before she can complete her nefarious plot, then she wouldn't have amounted to much. And I'd have to consider someone truly menacing as my real arch nemesis. But..."

You can fairly see the gears turning in Circe's head. "The... the Benezir Factory!" she cries, the words fairly bursting out of her in a panic.

"What?" Starburst asks.

"The old factory in the industrial district! That's where she's taking that machine and where her lair is."

You nod. You know it. Many villains make their lairs in old, abandoned factories and other relics of industry. "Excellent. Then, once we take her down and have her arrested, I can move on and forget this entire torrid business."

"Yeah!" Circe says, grinning. "And get back to fighting me!"

Starburst snorts, but you solemnly nod. "Well, there's certainly an open spot as my archenemy. True. But first, it's time to take you to prison," you say, taking Circe and scooping her up princess style.

The villainess yelps and even Starburst looks surprised. "Wh-what are you doing?" the heroine demands.

"What do you mean?" you ask blankly. "I'm taking her to jail of course, so she cannot threaten the poor people of this city anymore! It's on our way anyhow."

"O-oh. Yeah. Of course!" Starburst says. But as you take flight, you notice that for someone being dragged off to prison, Circe doesn't really look all that upset. She looks downright smug as she snuggles in against your chest. Starburst, on the other hand, looks downright pouty as she follows your lead into the sky. You sigh and shake your head.

Women.

Who knows what they're thinking...

Screen Saver

Screen Saver

After dropping Circe off at the nearest prison you're once more soaring through the sky, purpose clear and eyes hard with it. Finally, a lead on that dastardly villainess Miss Deed. You'll soon show her what happens when someone messes with Foundry! And once you have her in cuffs, you can stop this crime spree, take down that forum, and go back to a normal life battling Doctor Psychotic and his Brain Bots.

As you fly you tap your earpiece. "Muse?" you say. "I have a lead on Miss Deed. She stole a machine, and I need you to tell me what it's capable of."

Static meets your ear.

"Muse?" you prompt, narrowing your eyes.

Again no reply.

A tremor of unease works through you, but you shake it off and focus on the present. No doubt she's just busy responding to another emergency plaguing the city. Besides, you have other things to worry about, for soon you spot the old Benezie factory in the more decrepit side of town. Many factories here have closed down, and few have been refurbished for new purposes, leaving a stretch of urban decay. The brickwork buildings are common hideouts for gangs and the odd mutant, and only vigilante style heroes patrol this area, given there's few people or businesses in need of protection.

Unfortunately, that also makes it an ideal location for villains to make their hideouts.

You descend towards the building in question, the factory sprawling over almost a full block with its former outbuildings, all of which lie behind a chain-link fence with signs saying 'KEEP OUT' hung here and there.

You drift in, keeping your eyes peeled, and despite the quiet, you immediately spot signs of life within the building. Specifically, lights which flicker behind several windows on the assembly room floor.

Gotcha.

In events such as this, surprise is your greatest weapon, and you intend to use it to its fullest effect. Gathering up your heat powers, you open fire, blasting through a large window in a deafening boom! You soar through the hole, smoke trailing your body as you come to a halt.

"Surrender, Miss Deeds! And prepare to... face... justice?"

Your words trail off, for Miss Deeds is nowhere to be seen.

But that doesn't mean the room is empty.

Huge screens hang from seemingly every surface like a forest of pixelated squares. Cables and wiring sprawl from them and across the floor like rubbery roots in a chaotic mess of machinery, draping rusty hunks of the old assembly line like a mechanical jungle swallowing the ruins of a lost civilization. Every screen flickers and glows, and in the middle of the room, jiving, is a woman.

Her figure is mechanically jointed, but her curves are plumped with luscious silicon. Her face is hidden behind a pink visor that thrums with sound bars to the music thudding from some speakers. She's curvy in all the right ways, her figure downright gorgeous, her deft hands trailing over it in sensuous excitement as her hips sway and breasts bounce.

"Oh hey!" she says, her voice a discordant hum of autotuned tones layered on each other like a mechanical chorus. "You're here! Awesome! Wanna dance?"

"I... no, thank you," you say, peering about the factory floor. "Are you Miss Deed?"

"Nah," she says, thrusting her pelvis to the jam. "I'm nowhere near amazing enough to be her! I'm Screen Saver, Mistress Deed's personal bodyguard and ultimate fangirl!"

"Fangirl?"

"Yeah! She's just the bestest! The greatest! And I'm all in on worshipping her! Like when she said you'd probably be coming by, I was all like, girl! Don't you worry. No hero's gonna bother you. Unh uh! No way! No how."

"Then you work for her?" you demand.

"More like serve her! I'm tooootes her bitch! Like when she says 'kiss my shoes' I'm like, may I use my tongue you fucking goddess? And when she says, 'lick me out while I watch this video of Foundry trounce this asshole,' I'm like 'thank you for the meal!' And when she tells me 'keep Foundry from getting into my lair,' I'm like yas queen! Fucking slay that shit!"

Ugh. Well, at least you'll have no qualms about dealing with this depraved gynoid. And it's oddly a relief not to have someone drooling over you for once.

"Then I give you one last warning," you say as heat energy builds in your hands. "Stand aside! Or face the consequences."

"Nuh uh!" she says, wagging a finger in tandem to her hips. "No way! Because I got a need to please, and I'm gonna give it to you too, stud." She spreads her arms, head tilting back in rapture. "Get 'em, boys!"

The room shudders and you swing around in alarm. Several of the screens suddenly push forward, revealing smooth, domed bodies of white metal and four massive mechanical arms ending in pincering claws. There's two of the massive robots, and their spiraling screens fix themselves on you with grim purpose.

Blast the Robots

Bust up the Robots

Attack Screen Saver

Blast the Robots

Such massive machines are sure to be a menace, and Screen Saver herself doesn't seem to have any weapons, aside from her large breasts. Which means you'll need to deal with the more immediately dangerous enemies first. With that in mind, you unleash a salvo of heat blasts onto your two towering steel foes.

Beams of red energy scream through the air and crash into the two androids, only to dissipate like nothing against their bodies.

"Eh?" you gape.

Screen Saver bursts out with auto-tuned laughter. "Oh man! Did you really think Mistress wouldn't have accounted for your powers? But hey, I'm not complaining about an easy win!"

The two robots suddenly raise their arms and fire something from their hands. You try and evade them, but globs of pink stuff slam into your hands and legs. The devil? You try and pull your limbs apart, but the stuff stretches like taffy, resisting even your super strength. And it's surprisingly heavy!

"What the hell is this?" you demand.

"Don't worry about it," Screen Saver says dismissively. "You got bigger problems."

A creak warns you and you look up just in time to see one of the robot's arms swing your way. You hastily raise your arm to block it, but the impact shocks even you. You're slammed out of the air and sent crashing into the floor of the building, cratering the cement with the force of it. For a moment you can only lie there, stunned.

Another delay you can ill afford, as the second robot looms over you. Its four limbs grab you by the arms and legs and lifts you out of the hole. You try and pull against it, but its arms are surprisingly durable, though you do hear the metal creak with strain. Yes! You can still break free!

Then the screen on its front flickers.

And suddenly you can only stare.

Strange hues wash over the screen in waves impossible to track. Pink, purple, gold and more spiral endlessly in streams of light. You can't tell where one ends and the next begins, but somehow you find yourself compelled to follow them, even as they push other thoughts from your head. What... what is...

“You like?” you hear Screen Saver say. “I made it myself. Naturally for Mistress. It’s perfect for getting big, strong heroes to let go of all those silly pressures. More effective brain rot than any social media algorithmic bullshit!”

“Wha...” you gape.

You stare, and realize you are relaxing. Sagging in the grasp of the robot. Which... which is bad. Isn’t it? It’s wrong. Right? You shouldn’t be... you can’t... You grit your teeth and feebly turn your head away, even as the screen seems to drag at your eyeballs. No. You... you have to...

“Now now,” Screen Saver chimes gleefully, and you feel her glossy fingers grasp your head and force your face back towards the spirals. “Take your punishment, hero. You don’t wanna be a bad boy, do you?”

N-no. You don’t... don’t wanna be that. Not as you watch the colours swirl and wash. Shimmer and swim.

“That’s riiiiight,” Screen Saver croons. “Good drones love to watch the spirals. Good drones love to submit and let their brains melt. Good drones love to sink and forget and be total bimbos for Mistress.”

You’re nodding. Or maybe Screen Saver is forcing your head forward and back. Not that it matters. Fighting back never even occurs to you. Why would it? It’s better to be a good drone. You can be a good drone. Good drones obey. Good drones watch. Good drones forget...

You hear a humming sound, then somehow your costume is cut off. You don’t see how. You can’t. But you do feel a hand grab your cock and fix it into some rubber sheathe.

“You’re gonna love this,” Screen Saver whispers in your ear. “Newest creation! Arouser 9000. Guaranteed to make good drones happy and horny and obedient. Let’s give it a test.”

“Ye-nnnn!” you moan as the thing around your cock begins to hum and vibrate, stimulating you amazingly. As lust pumps through your veins, you realize you can make out something under the colours washing on the screen. Words shimmer across your vision.

GOOD DRONES OBEY

GOOD DRONES FORGET

GOOD DRONES OBEY

GOOD DRONES FORGET.

You stare in awe at those words, and realize you're repeating them. A mantra of moaning submission as the Arouser hums and brings you to the brink of orgasm but tortuously keeps you from going over. Which is good. Which is right. Good drones obey. Good drones forget. Good drones obey. Good drones forget...

"Are you a good drone?" Screen Saver coos in your ear as her fingers dance over your flesh.

"Yesssss," you moan.

You hear her giggle. "Mmm. I think I see what Mistress likes about you after all. You think she'll mind if I have a bit of fun early?"

"Dunno," you say, barely listening. Words sloughing through your mind like sugar in water.

"That's what I thought. Let 'em down, boys."

You feel the constraints on your limbs vanish and find yourself dropping to your knees. You blink, the screen suddenly gone from before your eyes. W-wait. What were you doing? What's going on? You... you...

Before another useless thought enters your head, you find your chin pulled around and into the rubbery sex of Screen Saver. You stare, your eyes locked into the patterns that swirl across her breasts and body. Hues of light swimming and wiping your mind free in seconds.

"Lick, drone," Screen Saver coos.

"Okay," you mumble, your tongue instantly delving into the hot, slick box of the gynoid's pussy. Because of course you will. You'll lick and tongue and flick the bead of her clit with joy.

Because you obey.

And good drones always obey...

Droned

Attack Screen Saver

Though your first instinct is, quite naturally, to beat those giant robots into scrap, the fact remains that it's clearly what Screen Saver wants you to do. No doubt while she engages in some far more nefarious move to incapacitate you. Too bad you see through their plot, and turn it around in a flash.

You dive for the android, ignoring the robots that swing for you. Some sort of sticky pink thing shoots from their hands, but you swerve, evading them, and instead close the distance between you and Screen Saver.

A huge exclamation point pings on her screen as you land in front of her. "W-woah! Hold up! Wait a sec!" she yelps, frantically backpedaling.

You grab her by the arms. "Not in this lifetime," you snap. "Now call off your robots! You're beaten!"

"Um, okay. If you're suuuuuure," she says.

And suddenly, her body is awash with strange colours.

You blink recoiling a bit at the sudden visual assault. The wash of spiralling hues seem to swirl around her breasts and body like the stirring of a milkshake. Pink, purple, and more bright colours spin in a pattern that... that's almost impossible to look away from. You realize your jaw has fallen open, and you quickly clench your teeth, squinting.

"What... what are you..."

"Don't you like them?" Screen Saver coos, pushing her chest out, the vibrant colours practically forcing your eyes to stare at them. Your mind to try and follow the random patterns that spin around her huge breasts. Her soft breasts. Her wobbling, ample silicon screen tits... "Don't you wanna stare at my big, brainwashing boobs?"

"You... I..."

Your brow furrows with the effort of concentration. You take your hands off her, energy building in your palms.

But before you can fire iron clamps grab your wrists, yanking your arms behind you. Instinctively you start to turn, but before you can Screen Saver grabs your face and jerks your head around and back to her swirling tits.

"Watch, dummy," she commands gleefully.

You do.

You can't help it.

There's just something about the way those colours move.

How they swirl and dance and draw you deeper and deeper into the softness of her chest. You can feel your jaw drop, but words fail you. Everything fails you. Your mind just can't seem to concentrate on anything but the brain rot radiating from her swirling tits.

"Thaaaat's it," Screen Saver coos, squishing your cheeks. "Just watch. Just stare. It's sooooo easy to stare. Soooo easy to relaaaaax. Soooo easy to just be dumb and easy. Don't resist. Just obey. Good drones obey. And you wanna be a good drone, right? Being a good drone feels soooo goood. Don't you wanna?"

You do.

You really, really do.

Especially when Screen Saver gives her chest a little bounce, her silicon tits wobbling. The hues scrambling your thoughts even more as you watch the spirals.

Pretty spirals.

It just makes so much sense to be a good drone.

To stare at the pretty swirling colours as you sink deeper and deeper into happy blankness.

To not think.

To just obey.

Like a good drone.

Good drones obey.

"Mmmm. Gooooood drone," Screen Saver giggles. "Oh, we're gonna have some real fun getting you ready for Mistress..."

You can only nod dumbly. Mindlessly. Like a good drone.

Because GOOD DRONES OBEY.

Droned

Bust Up the Robots

If there's one thing you've learned in your superheroing career, it's that robots are not to be trifled with. Your heat blasts can melt through solid steel, but too often some villain designs their machines to counter a hero's powers.

But one thing they never can really solve is a good fist to the grill.

You charge towards the first robot, hurtling through the air like a rocket. The massive robot swings up its four arms and tries to catch you, only for you to dodge and swerve around its four arms.

You slam into its screen face, pixels exploding as you shove your fists deep into the machine, feeling circuits and mechanisms beneath your fingers. You grab fistfuls of them and tear them free, explosions of breaking machinery erupting under you. Black smoke billows around you as you kick off the robot, sending it toppling backwards into a bunch of rusty old machinery.

Even as you float back into the air, something pink flies by you. You whip around and see the other robot has taken a wide stance, its four arms tensed as cannons in its palms fire a sudden salvo of something like pink taffy. You have no intention of finding out what that stuff does, and hastily dive down behind an old conveyor belt and machine.

Actually, these should do nicely.

You grab the mass of rusting metal, your hands punching into the old steel as you wrench it out of the floor, frayed wires snapping as you lift it over your head. Another salvo of pink stuff splatters off the machine even as you heave it towards the robot.

The lumbering droid hasn't a prayer of avoiding it, and the rusty mass of metal smashes into the robot's screen face, sending it flying back so hard it hits the far wall before slumping to the ground, smoke pouring out of it as explosions rip it apart.

You give a single nod of satisfaction and turn to Screen Saver, who stares in shock at her destroyed robots.

"Aw nuts," she says.

Before she can do anything more you rush her, flying at her and colliding with the villainess. She yelps as you slam her into the console beneath one of the screen towers, looming over her.

"Now! Where is Miss Deed?" you demand.

"Uh, okay. She's right... here!"

Screen Saver's body suddenly lights up, her breasts engulfed in swirling pink and purple hues like spirals of colour, sucking at your eyes. You blink, your mind suddenly feeling thick. Soft. The tension leaving your arms...

You shake your head, forcing your eyes away from Screen Saver's body. No. No! You won't fall now! You concentrate your power into your palm, a heat blast glowing against her neck.

Screen Saver tilts her head to look down.

"Oh fu-"

You blast her head from her body, sending it flying to clank across the floor. "Daaangiiiiit..." Screen Saver manages before her screen blinks off.

You exhale heavily, shaking your head as the heaviness lifts from your thoughts. That was a close one. She was a tricky machine. Damn that Miss Deed! She's going to pay for all this.

The screens around you suddenly blink and shift, revealing a woman, her lovely curves clad in a tight, form-fitting white bodysuit threaded with seams of glowing blue lights. Her face is hidden behind a blank white mask, but you can feel an amused gaze hidden behind that faceless screen. Blonde hair cascades from her shoulders, outlined starkly in a shimmering background of blue as she leans forward.

"Well well! Destroying a girl's favourite doll isn't very heroic of you, Foundry."

"Miss Deed?" you growl, turning in place and taking in the screens.

"In the flesh! So to speak. And I have to say you go here much earlier than I expected. But I guess you're not Mega City's number one hero for nothing, huh?"

"Villain!" you declare. "You'll soon see my reputation for yourself once I have you!"

"Oh, I don't need that. I've been watching you for a very long time. A veeeeery long time," she purrs hungrily.

In a flash windows pop up all around her, each showing one of the many battles of your career. They range from grainy security footage to jiggling cellphone feeds. The sights throw you a little, and you stare in shock.

"I know everything about you," Miss Deed continues, her voice growing more intense. More passionate. Downright fanatical. "I've seen every angle of your fights. I have every toy and item you've gotten a brand deal on. I'm more than your biggest fan, Foundry. You're my obsession! And today, you'll be mine!"

"You're mad," you say in shock.

She giggles in delight. "Oh please, Foundry. What girl wouldn't go a bit crazy when the object of her affection has come all this way just for her? And don't you worry," she adds, pressing something off screen. "I'm not hiding from you anymore. Come and get me, hero! But watch out. I'm not gonna make it easy for you. And oh, if you do lose, I'll get my fun too. Oh yeah," she says, and to your horror you see she's literally panting as she looks at you. "Yeah. We'll have lots of fun."

"I-"

"Whoops!" she pipes, wiping her chin. "Drooling a bit. Ah heh heh. Sorry, this helmet isn't so good for that. Anyway, toodles!"

She wiggles her fingers at you and the screens go black. There's a sudden whirring sound and you whip around to discover a portion of the floor has opened, receding into some hidden recess and revealing a hole. There's a hum and an elevator rises out of the floor, coming to a halt.

Though far from assured by the sight, you nonetheless step forward and gingerly put your foot down on the platform. It doesn't move, and you step the rest of the way on. Only then does it whirr and begin to descend into the earth.

And into the lair proper of the menacing Miss Deed.

To Be Continued

"So you got him kitted out with this?"

"Totally, mistress!" Screen Saver says eagerly. "Did I do good?"

"Hmmm..."

You stand totally still, staring straight ahead as Miss Deed walks slowly around you, the villainess clad in a sleek, form-fitting white bodysuit veined with glowing blue. You make no effort to follow her with your eyes. Why would you when all of your focus is better directed into the screen before your eyes?

You watch the colours swirl on the pink visor set in front of you, your arms hanging limply at your sides. Your mind empty of anything but the swirls of the screen. But the need to obey. The need to be a good drone as the Arouser 9000 continues to pump and vibrate around your needy cock in an endless haze of pleasure. Because good drones obey.

Obey.

Obey.

"Well, I'm almost disappointed," Miss Deed says, stopping before you again, her mask obscuring her expression, but amusement plain in her voice. "I thought he had a bit more grit in him. Almost a shame to be proven wrong."

"Almost, Mistress?" Screen Saver asks.

"Well, as I've said before, don't look a gift horse in the mouth," Miss Deed says. "Don't you agree, Foundry?"

"Yes, Mistress," you drone.

"Attaboy. Now, on your knees, you sexy thing."

"Yes, Mistress," you say, at once dropping to your knees, gazing up at her in ready anticipation. And you are so very ready. Your cock absolutely throbs in the tightness of the Arouser as it thrums and pumps around your shaft. Massaging your balls. Agonizingly torturing your helpless manhood and suspending you before an orgasm you never quite reach.

Miss Deed pushes her foot forward and rubs the toe of her boot against your cock. You groan as you feel the pressure, but that's all. Despite your quivering need, not even that is enough to make you cum.

"I'm surprised he's holding out," Miss Deed says with interest as her toe nudges around your throbbing manhood. "Judging by the state of him, he should be squirting like a virgin getting a handy from a cheerleader."

"The Arouser 9000 is wonderfully crafted, Mistress," Screen Saver is quick to point out. "It deadens every sensation from outside, leaving only itself to stimulate the subject."

"Is that right?" Miss Deed says, looking back down at you. "Foundry?"

"M-mistress?" you gasp.

"Masturbate. See if you can cum."

You don't need to be told twice. Instantly your hand is on your cock, desperately pumping it in a frantic flurry of motion. But much to your frustration, you can't even feel your fingers. Only the loving sucking of the Arouser as it relentlessly edges you. Squeezing and massaging your balls until they feel so sensitive the kiss of a breeze could set you off.

"Well look at that," Miss Deed laughs as she watches you desperately pump your cock. "I've outdone myself!"

"Your genius knows no bounds, Mistress," Screen Saver gushes.

"Too true. Well, this isn't quite how I expected to get you, Foundry. But I suppose I can make it work. Now," she says, leaning in, her white, plump breasts wobbling before your eager eyes. "Do you want to cum, hero?" she asks teasingly. "Do you want to spurt your big cock in your cock cage? Do you want to give up all that precious cum into the Arouser like a pathetic slut?"

"P-pleeeeeease," you whimper, literally humping her foot. Grinding your captive cock against her shiny metal boot in desperate need.

Miss Deed chuckles mockingly. "To think. All I needed to bring you low was to chain up that big, throbbing dick of yours. I guess you're like most men after all. Commanded by that thing between your legs. And it's all mine now, isn't it?"

"Y-yes," you pant.

"Sorry, what was that?" she asks mockingly, pressing down a bit harder with her foot. "Who owns your cock? Whose dick is this?"

"Yours!" you cry. "Mistress owns my cock! Please! Please, Mistress! Let me cum! N-need to cuuum!"

Miss Deed laughs. "Alright. Cum then, slave. Cum for mistress."

Barely has the word left her lips than the sleeve enslaving your manhood thrums with energy. Vibrates with potency. You cry out, head flung back, chest thrust out as your balls clench. Your cock throbs, and you cum in an orgasm so mind-meltingly good that if your brains weren't already mush, it'd be blasted to nothingness.

As it is, you moan in mindless bliss, hips bucking as your cock pulses and throbs, emptying your balls into the Arouser, whose tip swells with your captured seed. You tremble as you ride out that blissful orgasm, panting as your cock shrinks from its pleasure.

But not fully.

Never fully.

For already the Arouser hums back to life. Tantalizing. Tender. Massaging your dick back to hardness. A whimper escapes you as your tender balls are teased and massaged to send sparks of new need sparking up your cock.

"Amazing, Mistress!" Screen Saver gushes. "He's almost ready to go again!"

"And he will," Miss Deed purrs, lifting her foot off your cock. "On your feet, hero."

"Y-yes, Mistress," you gasp, barely able to answer as you lurch from your knees, swaying a little.

Miss Deed laughs and beckons you to follow as she starts off. Immediately you stumble after her, as surely as if she held your leash. To where? You don't know. You can't even speculate. Not with the screen swirling before your eyes. The Arouser thrumming around your cock. You simply obey.

Because good drones always obey...

Screen Saver (Starburst)

Once you drop off Circe at the nearest prison you waste no time soaring through the sky, purpose clear and eyes hard with it while Starburst sticks close behind you. Finally, a lead on that dastardly villainess Miss Deed. You'll soon show her what happens when someone messes with Foundry! And once you have her in cuffs, you can stop this crime spree, take down that forum, and go back to a normal life battling Doctor Psychotic and his Brain Bots.

As you fly you tap your earpiece. "Muse?" you say. "I have a lead on Miss Deed. She stole a machine, and I need you to tell me what it's capable of."

Static meets your ear.

"Muse?" you prompt, narrowing your eyes.

Again no reply.

“Something wrong?” Starburst asks.

“I can’t contact Muse,” you say, a tremor of unease working through you.

“Maybe she’s just busy,” the heroine suggests.

“Maybe...” you mutter, but you have a creeping feeling that’s not the issue.

“Is that it?” Starburst asks, jolting you from your thoughts. You look down and realize you’ve arrived, your eyes quickly spotting the old Benezir factory in the more decrepit side of town. Many factories here have closed down, and few have been refurbished for new purposes, leaving a stretch of urban decay. The brickwork buildings are common hideouts for gangs and the odd mutant, and only vigilante style heroes patrol this area, given there’s few people or businesses in need of protection.

Unfortunately, that also makes it an ideal location for villains to make their hideouts.

You descend towards the building in question, the factory sprawling over almost a full block with its former outbuildings, all of which lie behind a chain-link fence with the words ‘KEEP OUT’ hung here and there on signs.

“That’s it,” you confirm, slowing. “Keep your eyes peeled. Villains like this always have ample defences in their lairs.”

“Right,” Starburst says, her expression hardening with purpose, the orbs of light glowing hot around her with readiness.

You give her a nod, surprisingly glad to have her along. You’ve always been a solo hero, though you’ve done team ups before. But Starburst is proving more capable than you expected. You’ll definitely have to recommend Muse push her up the rankings after this.

For now, you drift in towards the factory, keeping your eyes peeled, for despite the quiet, you immediately spot signs of life within the factory. Specifically, lights flickering behind several windows on the assembly room floor.

Gotcha.

“What’s the plan?” Starburst asks from beside you.

“In encounters such as this, surprise is our greatest weapon,” you say. “So let’s make the best of it.”

“Sounds good,” Starburst says, her orbs of light stilling in readiness.

Gathering up your heat powers, you let a heat ray fly, blasting through the window in a deafening boom! You soar through the hole, Starburst sticking close behind you. Smoke dramatically trails your body as you come to a halt.

“Surrender, Miss Deeds! And prepare to... face... justice?”

Your words trail off, for Miss Deeds is nowhere to be seen.

But that doesn't mean the room is empty.

Huge screens hang from seemingly every surface like a forest of pixellated squares. Cables and wiring sprawl from them and across the floor like rubbery roots in a chaotic mess of machinery, draping rusty hunks of the old assembly line like a mechanical jungle swallowing the ruins of a forgotten civilization. Every screen flickers and glows, and in the middle of the room, jiving, is a woman.

Her figure is mechanically jointed, but her curves are plumped with luscious silicon. Her face is hidden behind a pink visor that thrums with sound bars to the music thudding from some speakers. She's curvy in all the right ways, her figure downright gorgeous, her deft hands trailing over it in sensuous excitement as her hips sway and breasts bounce.

“What the...” Starburst says in wonderment.

“Oh hey!” the woman below says, her voice a discordant hum of autotuned tones layered on each other like a mechanical chorus. “You're here! Awesome! Wanna dance?”

“I... no, thank you,” you say, peering about the factory floor. “Are you Miss Deed?”

“Nah,” she says, thrusting her pelvis to the jam. “I'm nowhere near amazing enough to be her! I'm Screen Saver, Mistress Deed's personal bodyguard and ultimate fangirl!”

“That psychotic bitch has a fangirl?” Starburst asks with a scoff, which is about your sentiments, although you might have been a bit less crude.

“Yeah!” Screen Saver chimes enthusiastically. “She's just the bestest! The greatest! And I'm all in on worshipping her! Like when she said you'd probably be coming by, I was all like, girl! Don't you worry. No hero's gonna bother you. Unh uh! No way! No how.”

“Then you work for her?” you demand.

“More like serve her! I'm tooootes her bitch! Like when she says ‘kiss my shoes’ I'm like, ‘may I use my tongue you fucking goddess?’ And when she says, ‘lick me out while I watch this video of Foundry trounce this asshole,’ I'm like ‘thank you for the meal!’ And when she tells me ‘keep Foundry from getting into my lair,’ I'm like yas queen! Fucking slay that shit!”

Ugh. Well, at least you'll have no qualms about dealing with this depraved gynoid. And it's oddly a relief not to have someone drooling over you.

"Then I give you one last warning," you say as heat energy builds in your hands. "Stand aside! Or face the consequences."

"Nuh uh!" she says, wagging a finger. "No way! Because I got a need to please, and I'm gonna give it to you too, stud." She spreads her arms, head tilting back in rapture. "Get 'em, boys!"

The room shudders and you swing around in alarm. Several of the screens suddenly push forward, revealing smooth, domed bodies of white metal and four massive mechanical arms ending in pincering claws. There's two of the massive robots, and their spiraling screens fix themselves on you and Starburst with deadly purpose.

Help Starburst Take Down the Robots

Though you could probably take down both of these robots, you have no idea what they're capable of. And since Screen Saver doesn't seem to have any offensive weapons, that means you know what to do.

"Take the one on the left," you command Starburst as you hurtle towards the robot on the right.

"Got it," she declares, her orbs of light blazing hot before unleashing a salvo of blazing beams of light into the machine.

For your part, you consider doing the same, but in your experience machines like these deserve a more hands on approach. One you're certainly equipped to deliver.

You rocket at the second robot even as its arms swing up, barrels in the center of its hands firing a barrage of something like pink taffy.

Well, you certainly don't intend to see what that does. You dodge and weave around the barrage, closing the distance within moments. The robot belatedly tries to hit you out of the sky with its massive arms, but you're already inside its guard. You swing your fists up, not slowing in the least, and smash into the machine with a thunderous impact.

Its screen face shatters under your blow, filling with static even as its outer shell crumples like tinfoil. You pull back, then deliver another one two to its face, each blow hitting like a hammer of the gods. Its body is built tough, but under your fists it dents inward, sparks crackling across it as its machinery is destroyed under your attack.

With a titanic groan the machine topples back, crashing to the old factory floor and dragging down one of the pillars of screens with it. You glare, but when it doesn't get back up you turn to see Starburst finish hers off, her three orbs concentrating a blast of energy so powerful it melts right through the machine and out the other side. Explosions rip it apart, and with another heavy groan it falls face first to the ground.

Nodding, you turn to Screen Saver, who is staring at the destruction with an open mouth of shock.

"Aw nuts," she says.

You shoot down to the floor before her, slamming into it and making her stumble from the aftershocks. Before she can get far you reach out and grab her by her mechanical neck. "Now," you growl. "Where is Miss Deed?"

Screen Saver’s body suddenly lights up, her breasts engulfed in swirling pink and purple hues like spirals of colour, sucking at your eyes. You blink, staring at the colours, your thoughts growing... growing muddled and...

A blast of light rips Screen Saver’s head from her body, sending it flying to clank across the floor. “Daaangiiiiit...” Screen Saver manages before her screen blinks off.

You blink rapidly and give your head a shake, clearing it of the fuzz that was swirling your thoughts. You look back as Starburst floats down beside you, giving the mechanical woman’s now inert body a cold glare.

“Thanks,” you say. “I should have prepared for that. Villains always have some last weapon hidden.”

“You’re welcome,” Starburst says, smiling in satisfaction. “You’d have done the same for me.”

“Most certainly,” you agree with another glare at Screen Saver’s head. That was a close one. She was a tricky machine. Damn that Miss Deed! She’s going to pay for all this.

Even as you think this the screens around you suddenly blink and shift, revealing a woman dressed in a white body suit that clings like a second skin to her amply feminine curves. Sleek, smooth, her face is a blank helmet, but you can feel an amused gaze hidden behind that faceless screen. Blonde hair cascades from her shoulders, outlined starkly in a shimmering background of blue as she leans forward.

“Well well! Destroying a girl’s favourite doll. I’d think you’d be more considerate, Starburst.”

“Miss Deed?” you growl, turning in place and taking in the screens.

“In the flesh! So to speak. And I have to say you two got here much earlier than I expected. But I guess you’re not Mega City’s number one hero for nothing, huh?”

“Villain!” you declare. “You’ll soon see my reputation for yourself once I have you!”

“Oh, I don’t need that. I’ve been watching you for a very long time. A veeeeery long time,” she chimes.

Windows pop up all around her, each showing one of the many battles of your career. They range from grainy security footage to jiggling cellphone camera feeds. The sights throw you a little, and you stare in shock.

"Holy hell," Starburst breathes as she takes it all in.

"I know everything about you," Miss Deed continues, her voice growing more intense. More passionate. Downright fanatical. "I've seen every angle of your fights. I have every toy and item you've gotten a brand deal on. I'm more than your biggest fan, Foundry. You're my obsession! And today, you'll be mine!"

"You're mad," you say in shock.

She giggles in delight. "Oh please, Foundry. What girl wouldn't go a bit crazy when the object of her affection has come all this way just for her? And don't you worry," she adds, pressing something off screen. "I'm not hiding from you anymore. Come and get me, hero! But watch out. I'm not gonna make it easy for you. And oh, if you do lose, I'll get my fun too. Oh yeah," she says, and to your horror you see she's literally panting as she looks at you. "Yeah. We'll have lots of fun."

"I-"

"Whoops!" she chirps, hastily wiping her chin. "Drooling a bit there. Ah heh heh. Sorry, this helmet isn't so good for that. Anyway, toodles!"

She wiggles her fingers at you and the screens go black. There's a sudden whirring sound and you whip around to discover a portion of the floor has opened, receding into some hidden recess and revealing a hole. There's a hum and an elevator rises out of it, coming to a halt.

Starburst stares at it warily. "It has to be a trap," she says.

"Probably," you agree, scowling. "But the fact remains we can't leave here without her defeat. Who knows what she intends with that machine she stole."

"Yeah," Starburst reluctantly agrees.

Though you said you must, you nonetheless gingerly put your foot down on the platform, tense to react to any sudden betrayal. When no ray of light hits you, you step the rest of the way on. Only when Starburst does the same does it whirr and begin to descend into the earth.

And into the lair proper of the menacing Miss Deed.

Take on the Robots Yourself

Though you have high confidence in Starburst and her abilities, these robots demand a stronger touch. Your touch specifically. Though that doesn't mean you don't have something for her to do.

"Take down Screen Saver," you order as you face the robots. "I'll deal with these."

"Got it!" she says, hurtling down towards the gynoid on the ground.

Attagirl.

For your part, if there's one thing you've learned in your superheroing career, it's that warbots are not to be trifled with. Your heat blasts can melt through solid steel, but too often some villain designs their machines to counter a hero's powers.

But one thing they never can really solve is a good fist to the grill.

You charge towards the first robot, hurtling through the air like a rocket. The massive robot swings up its four arms and tries to catch you, only for you to dodge and swerve around its four arms, slamming into its screen face.

Pixels explode as you shove your fists deep into the machine, feeling circuits and mechanisms beneath your fingers. You grab fistfuls of them and tear them free, explosions of breaking mechanism erupting under you. Black smoke billows around you as you kick off the robot, sending it toppling backwards into a bunch of rusty old machinery.

Even as you float back into the air, something pink flies by you. You whip around and see the other robot has taken a wide stance, its four arms tensed as cannons in its palms fire a sudden salvo of something like pink taffy. You have no intention of finding out what that stuff does, and hastily dive down behind an old conveyor belt and machine.

Actually, these should do nicely.

You grab the mass of rusting metal, your hands punching into the old steel as you wrench it out of its foundations, frayed wires snapping as you lift the whole assembly over your head. Another salvo of pink stuff splatters off the machine even as you heave it towards the robot.

The lumbering droid hasn't a prayer of avoiding it, and the rusty hulk of metal smashes into the robot, sending it flying back so hard it hits the far wall before slumping to the ground, smoke pouring out of it as explosions rip it apart.

You dust your hands with satisfaction. A job well done.

“Oh Foooooundryyyyyy~!”

You whirl towards Screen Saver and freeze at what you see. The lovely villainess smirks at you, standing near a console with Starburst in her grasp. From the gynoid’s mechanical hand a blade is out and pressed to Starburst’s throat, but much to your horror, the superheroine isn’t doing anything to fight back! She simply slumps on her knees before the robotic temptress, her expression slackened imbecility, her hand between her legs and rubbing her pussy through her costume while her eyes stare raptly at the swirls of colour radiating from Screen Saver’s breasts.

“Now don’t get any funny ideas,” the villainess says sweetly, pressing her blade closer to Starburst’s neck. “She’s a cutie, but not so cute I wouldn’t slice her open.”

“Villain!” you swear, hands bunching into fists. “Let her go!”

“Un unh! Not yet. Now, put your hands up,” she said, pointing backwards. “And watch the screen.”

You look up as the massive screen behind her flashes into action, humming with a mess of spirals and whirling lights. The sight hits your mind like a lead weight, your head growing heavy.

“Ugh...” you grunt, wincing, your thoughts feeling suddenly muzzy. Vague. Your mind like it’s filled with molasses. Instinctively you try and turn away.

“Ah ah!” Screen Saver chides as she touches her knife against Starburst’s neck. “None of that. Keep watching the boob tube, dummy.”

You grit your teeth, but obey. And as you watch the pretty colours spiral, spin, swirl and whirl, you feel your anger just... melt away. In fact, you can’t quite remember why you were even angry. Why you wanted to look away.

Not when watching the screen feels so good.

Not when the swirling colours are so... relaxing.

So soothing.

So easy to stare and melt and just... relax.

“Thaaaat’s it,” a voice coos. Whose voice? You don’t remember. It doesn’t matter. “Just keep watching the pretty screens. I made this one special for you! Perfect for high and mighty heroes who think they’re so good and strong, but just can’t help but melt to a pretty colour.”

You wonder what she’s talking about? Not that it matters. You’ve already forgotten.

You hear footsteps approaching and from the corner of your eye you see Screen Saver saunter up to you with a sway of her hydraulic hips. Starburst stumbles ahead of the villainess, the heroine's eyes empty and glassy. Her soft, plump lips parted in imbecilic obedience. The pair stops before you, Screen Saver smirking up at you.

"Feels good to obey, doesn't it?" she coos, her hand folding back from the knife and into sleek metal fingers. There's... there's something important about that, but you can't seem to recall what... "Feels good to just... give in, right?"

"Yeah," you say dully, still watching the screen. Feeling your pulse speed up as Screen Saver's fingers walk over your chest. Her finger twitches and a new thin blade comes out. She gives a quick swipe, and in an instant your costume splits open and falls away. You start, but then she grabs your face, yanks your chin down, and your eyes are off the screen.

And onto the same colours, swirling and spiralling on her silicon tits.

"Thaaaat's it," Screen Saver coos, stroking your hair. "Just let it all melt. Just relax. Dumb heroes don't need to think. Mistress is much smarter than them. Mistress makes all the decisions. And Mistress knows how to make heroes feel good. Right?"

"Right..." you echo mindlessly, staring at her firm, ripe silicon tits as the heave slowly in their spirals. Swirl in their hues...

"Right! Because good, obedient heroes get their cocks sucked by dumb bimbo sluts. Isn't that right?"

"Right..." you murmur, but hear your words echoed.

"Then get to it, bitch," Screen Saver laughs, and shoves Starburst forward and to her knees.

You gasp as you feel gentle hands on your manhood. Stroking your hard shaft. Lips kiss your tip with tender, adoring passion. The urge to look down is strong, but not as strong as watching Screen Saver's breasts. A weak moan escapes you, a shudder of pure pleasure working through you as the lips on your cock slide forward. Feeding your manhood into the warm, hot tightness of Starburst's mouth.

"Mmmm," the heroine moans in mindless bliss as she begins to suck. Her head bobbing slowly. Passionately. Blowing you with the sort of mindless fixation of your pleasure you'd normally associate with a machine.

"What a good bitch," Screen Saver purrs, stepping in closer, tilting your chin up from her breasts and to the screen that covers her face. "A good slut for us."

Your lips part dumbly, and then Screen Saver is kissing you. Her lips have a faintly rubbery texture, but the heat of her passion can't be denied. You groan, unable to process a reaction to this beyond the instinctual. The physical. Submitting to the pleasure of your cock and the kiss without thought. Without reservation. Nothing else matters. Nothing has ever mattered but this. But obedience. But pleasure.

Good Drones Obey.

The words flash across the screen, imprinting in your addled, sloshing mind. A rock of certainty to your identity.

Good Drones Obey.

Good Drones Obey.

GOOD DRONES OBEY.

"Good drones obey," you moan mindlessly.

"Mmm mm mhmmm," Starburst moans beneath you as she continues to suck.

"That's right! Good sluts," Screen Saver coos between kisses. "Good drones obey. Good drones are happy. Good drones get to cum. Are you a good drone, dummy? Are you an obedient bimbo drone for Mistress? Do you deserve to cum?"

"Yes," you pant, your balls aching. Throbbing. Your cock twitching with the need to release. Your hips are working, thrusting into Starburst's hot mouth with a steady urgency of pleasure. "Y-yes! Good. Good drone. I'm a g-good drone."

"Yeah?" Screen Saver hums, smirking at you. "Then... cum!"

The word hits your empty mind like a nuke. "O-ohhhhh!" you moan, quivering as your balls tighten. Your cock pulsing as you unleash the full weight of your hot load into Starburst's eager mouth.

The heroine moans in bliss as her throat works, swallowing the deluge of cum that stuffs her. You can hear her swallowing, guzzling your spurting seed with hot, heavy sounds.

Your muscles tremble with the euphoria of that moment. It's all you can do to keep your legs from buckling with post-orgasmic weakness. But you can't fall. The swirling screen seems to hold you on your feet like a clamp around your head.

"Mmm. Did that feel good?" Screen Saver giggles.

"Yessss, Mistress," you pant.

The villainess laughs. "You dumbass! I'm not Mistress. Mmm. But I love the enthusiasm. But oh no! You've left your co-star all bereft while she swallowed all your cum. How naughty!"

Shame washes over you in a hot wave. "S-sorry, Mistress," you gasp. How could you do that?

"Again, not Mistress. But don't worry!" Screen Saver chimes, stepping back to reveal Starburst staring at you in dopey happiness. "You can fix it by fucking her like an absolute champ. Won't you two love that?"

"Yes, Mistress," you and Starburst say eagerly, both of your eyes still glued to the swirling screens all around you.

"Good sluts! Then get to it while I tape it for Mistress to see. Ohhh, she's gonna be so proud of me!"

You smile at Starburst, lowering yourself atop her. She returns your smile of dim pleasure as you pull her costume off and tug her close, yanking down her panties, your hand finding the slickness of her pussy. So wet for you. So eager, how could you do anything but get hard again?

Push forward again?

Start fucking... and rutting... and mating the gorgeous woman while the screens hum and swirl all around you.

It's what a good drone would do.

And GOOD DRONES OBEY.

Have Starburst Take on the Robots

Since you've been working with Starburst, you've gotten a pretty good idea of her abilities. And one thing you know is that she can handle this level of enemy, especially if you can take down Screen Saver before anything else happens. Odds are the robots will deactivate once you've dealt with their operator.

"Take the robots," you command her. "I'll get Screen Saver."

"On it," the heroine declares, spinning to face the towering robots, the orbs around her unleashing a barrage of beams.

You leave her to it, focusing your attention on the lovely gynoid looking surprised below.

"Uh, wait," she begins.

You do not. Before she can do anything more you rush her, flying at her and colliding with the villainess. She yelps as you slam her into the console beneath one of the screen towers, looming over her.

"Now! Where is Miss Deed?" you demand.

"Uh, okay. She's right... here!"

Screen Saver's body suddenly lights up, her breasts engulfed in swirling pink and purple hues like spirals of colour, sucking at your eyes. You blink, startled by the colours.

Colours which spin.

And whirl...

And...

And...

"Ah!"

You hear Starburst's startled cry and start to turn, only for Screen Saver to grab your head and wrench it back around. "Ah ah! None of that. Keep watching my spirals, hero."

You grit your teeth. "I... I... n-no. No! I... won't!"

"Oh, won't you?" she asks with a giggle.

You start to force your head aside again, but it's a labour to do, your eyes begging to keep watching the colours swirl on her chest. Before you can something strong grabs both your arms. You try and pull away, but hear the whir of servos resisting your super strength. One of the robots, you realize with shock. Then... then Starburst...

"Forget about that," Screen Saver coos, seizing the distraction to turn your head fully back to her breasts. "Just watch my pretty hypno titties."

You blink.

Blink again.

You... you can't.

You mustn't.

You...

You...

What were... you doing again?

You stare at the swirling hues, feeling the tension bleed out of you. Strength abandoning you. Your jaw slowly goes slack as you slump in the grasp of those mechanical hands, your thoughts muzzy. Thick. Confused and vague.

"Thaaaat's it," Screen Saver giggles. "Keep watching, hero. Keep sinking into the pretty spirals. Tailor made for dumb heroes who think they're all that."

You nod along, barely listening. Certainly not understanding. Your head is so empty every word just passes through. Your every thought drained away by the spinning lights.

"Mmm. There we go. Wowza though! I can see why Mistress wants you," Screen Saver says as her hands slip from your face and down to your chest, feeling the firm muscles through the tight fabric of your costume. "Fuck. Getting my lubricant all hot and bothered just looking at this stuff! And I mean, Mistress wouldn't really mind if I had a... quick taste for myself. Right?"

"Nooooo," you drone contentedly.

"That's right! She totally wouldn't. Alright, let him go. He's not going anywhere but under me!"

You feel the grip on you vanish and your arms flop to your sides. Grinning, Screen Saver pushes you back, and you flop down onto the floor, still staring up at the sadistic gynoid. She steps over you, plainly enjoying her power in the moment, and from such an angle you're able to see quite plainly that the screens that swirl over her body include the plump curves of her ass.

“Oh yeah,” she purrs, hands moving over herself in lustful anticipation. “I’m gonna enjoy this.”

She turns around, her rump suspended above you before she lazily lowers herself, planting her ass firmly on your face. You grunt, but offer no resistance. Her silicon bottom presses down on you, the glow of the screens curving over her rear shoved practically into your eyeballs, the hum of them drowning out any potential thought you might have had.

“Lick, bitch!” she commands gleefully.

You get to it without protest. Your tongue drills up into the seam of Screen Saver’s ass, tasting the tautness of rubber and silicone. A strange taste which nonetheless excites you, your cock stirring and straining against the confinement of your costume. Especially when she starts to moan.

“Mnnn! Fuck yessss,” Screen Saver cries. “That’s it. Fuck! Get your tongue in there. Ooooh, Mistress was so right in putting those pleasure sensors in there! I mean, it was for me to get off being spanked like the naughty gynoid I am. But fuuuuck! This is almost as good! C’mon, hero. Really tongue me in there. And you! Bitch. Get over here!”

You hear stumbling footsteps approach, then feel confident hands on your costume. You grunt as the fabric is cut somehow, your cock springing up into the warm air, twitching with your arousal.

“Yes, Mistress,” you hear Starburst say. A sound which sends a tremor of uncertainty through you until the spinning lights on Screen Saver’s ass wipes it away again.

“Good. Now, you’re gonna... nnnf... get a special ffffucking treat. Mount this hero’s cock like the needy slut you are.”

“Yes, Mistress!” Starburst eagerly replies. You feel her thighs settle around yours, then the grasp of her fingers on your cock angling it up. You tense, breath hitching as you feel the slickness of her pussy press against your tip, then inside her.

“Mmmm,” you groan, tongue still buried deep in Screen Saver’s ass as your cock is swallowed by the hot, tight wetness of the heroine’s pussy. A pleasure mirrored in Starburst to judge by the needy moan she gives.

“Like that, huh?” Screen Saver pants.

“Y-yessss!”

“Good. Now kiss me, whore!”

You feel them move atop you, and then there’s another image superimposed beneath the spirals. Cameras in the lab suddenly feed you the scene above you. Screen Saver crushing you under the softness of her silicon ass, grinding you under her. Starburst eagerly bouncing atop your cock as she adoringly kisses the sadistic gynoid, their lips locked together, Starburst’s eyes tinted pink and drowning in the swirling lights of Screen Saver’s visor.

It’s strange.

Depraved.

And unbelievably hot.

A threesome of hopeless submission. Of desperate desire as you thrust into Starburst’s pussy while Screen Saver brainwashes you deeper and deeper beneath her ass. Just enough remains of your awareness to register the humiliation of the scene, but that only makes it hotter. Makes you moan more as pleasure throbs and pulses through you. Your balls aching with sweet need to cum and surrender. To orgasm beneath the mad android and the brainwashed heroine.

You feel it draw closer. That peak. That humiliating high. Throbbing through you with every beat of your heart. Every stroke of your tongue. Every bounce of Starburst on your cock. Pleasure building. Climbing.

Closer.

Closer.

Closer until... until...

“Mmmmm!” you moan into Screen Saver’s ass, your eyes rolling back as your cock throbs. As your body tenses in sweet pleasure, your cock pulsing as you cum in sharp, pleased bursts into the hot tightness of Starburst.

“Nnnmmmm!” Starburst groans atop you, quivering as her pussy convulses, the feel of your hot seed stuffing her enough to push her over the edge as well, her orgasm rocketing through her in a surge of sweet pleasure.

You slump on the floor, spent, drained and in more ways than one. As the colours swirl before your eyes, you smile dimly in delights of brainless pleasure, all conscious thought abandoned to the sweet euphoria of pure animal pleasure.

“Oh fuuuuuuck,” Screen Saver moans atop you, her ass clenching lazily around your tongue. “That was fucking goood! Mistress is gonna be so happy with me for this. I can’t wait to show her!”

Neither can you...

Duo Drones

Duo Drones

“Excellent work, Slut,” Miss Deed says.

“Th-thank you, Mistress,” Screen Saver replies, practically trembling with delight at pleasing her idol.

You can empathise. Standing by, watching the pair through the pink haze of your visor, you smile dimly in mindless pleasure, every thought deadened before it can begin by the swirl of the pink screen. Not even the discomfort of standing in the middle of the warm room, utterly naked can break through. In fact, the subtle prickling of your skin is downright exciting, as evidenced by the twitching of your cock.

It’s a fact Miss Deed doesn’t fail to miss, barely paying her minion an iota of attention as she slowly circles you, her every motion conveying her eagerness to do whatever she wants to you. Which you’re, quite frankly, all for. In fact, you can’t think of what you’d prefer than to be under the Mistress, kissing her toes. Fucking her raw. Or doing whatever else she desires. Because she’s the Mistress. And as your screen promptly reminds you, GOOD DRONES OBEY.

Finishing her circuit of you, Miss Deed comes to a halt before you, hands on her hips, her lovely curves clad in a tight, form-fitting white bodysuit threaded with seams of glowing blue lights. Her face is hidden behind a blank white mask as she admires you like a brand new car. “Yes,” she echoes. “Very good work! And I see you got yourself a bonus too,” she notes, glancing over at Starburst.

You don’t look, but you can see the heroine from the corner of your eye. And damn but she is a sight to behold. Starburst stands, quivering, her entire body engulfed in a rubbery black suit that bulges lewdly over her breasts and pussy. Her eyes are sightless, staring dumbly into a pink visor mirror to your own, complete with swirling brainwashing lights.

“Thank you, Mistress!” Screen Saver chirps, prancing up behind the heroine and grabbing her shoulders eagerly. “It’s all thanks to your brilliant devices, of course. I couldn’t wait to test out the full bodies Arouser 9000 unit you designed. And the Bimbofier Mark 4 has turned her into the perfect pussy slut! Isn’t that right, bitch?” she asks sweetly, her hand delving between Starburst’s legs.

“Yessssss,” the former heroine moans, quivering, legs buckling as Screen Saver strokes the lewd divot of her pussy. Not that she needs to bother. The humming sound of vibrators drone from Starburst’s pussy and nipples in a lewd buzz of pleasure.

The sounds send a shiver of sympathetic pleasure thrumming through you to settle in your balls. You even whimper as the tip of your cock drools with pre in anticipation of whatever comes next.

“That’s right! She’ll be a total slut in no time. Can I keep her, Mistress?” Screen Saver begs, rubbing Starburst’s pussy, another hand squeezing the plump firmness of the heroine’s breast. “I’ve got all kinds of attachments I want to try out!”

“Sure. I don’t see why not,” Miss Deed says, her total attention fixed on you. “I won’t have time to break her in properly. But I imagine you do. Go for it.”

“Oh, thank you, Mistress! Thank you thank you!” Screen Saver gushes as she takes her hands off Starburst and starts rummaging around a nearby desk. “You won’t regret it, Mistress. I’ll train her to be the perfect beta bitch. And I got just the tool. Aha!” she declares, triumphantly spinning around to show off a massive rubbery dick inserted into her pelvis, which begins to thrum in perfect harmony to the vibrators on Starburst. “Behold! The Bitchbreaker 9!”

“You certainly have the tools for the job,” Miss Deed chuckles.

“Absolutely! Now bend over, whore! I want to show Mistress how easy you scream for me.”

“Y-yes, Mistress,” Starburst whimpers in greedy anticipation. Without even a moment of hesitation she bends over a work table and Screen Saver moves in behind her. The sadistic gynoid grabs the heroine’s hips with a spanking sound, winds up her lower body, then slams herself home with all the precision of a missile strike.

Starburst screams in orgasmic ecstasy as the rubbery cock stuffs her to the brim. There must be some sort of sympathetic pleasure node in Screen Saver’s dongle, or maybe the android just loves putting heroines in their place, because Screen Saver groans with throaty pleasure as she starts to hammer into a moaning Starburst like a piston. Fucking her into a gasping, moaning, quivering puddle of submissive bliss under her

“Yeah!” the gynoid moans. “Nnn! Fuck! Take it, slut! Take it, bitch! Take Mistress’s cock! Going to fuck your fucking brains out! You like that? You want that?”

“Ohhhhh yesssss!” Starburst moans, thrusting back, the spanking sound of silicon on flesh echoing in the room. “Yessss! Fuck meeee! Ruin meeee! Mate meeeee!”

You watch the display raptly, your view tinted pink by the screen over your eyes. Then you gasp as you feel deft fingers wrap around your cock.

“You like that?” Miss Deed hums in your ear, the softness of her breasts mashed against your back as her fingers pump your manhood. “It’s quite the sight. Maybe I’ll let you have some fun with her later too. If you’re a good drone for me.”

You whimper. “W-will be, Mistress. Good drones obey. I obey.”

“I know,” she says, her breath hot on the back of your neck as she strokes you, as if it was your cock plundering the needy depths of Starburst’s latex-encased pussy. “You’ll be such a good boy for me. And we’re going to have so very much fun together,” she breathes, her other hand stroking your chest, her every touch sending a rush of tactile pleasure sparking through you. “You’re going to love being mine.”

If this is any indication of how it’s gonna be, you’re inclined to agree. You pant, your breath steaming your screen as your cock throbs and pulses, spurting shameless dollops of precum onto the floor as you watch Starburst cum and cum again in helpless pleasure as she’s railed by her gynoid lover. Your balls throb. Ache. Your cock twitching and quivering. Oh... Ohhh...

“Oh f-fuuuuuck!” you moan, the words GOOD DRONES OBEY blazing in your eyes as you cum, pumping bursts of cum onto the floor in agonizingly wonderful spurts of submissive pleasure.

“Good boy,” Miss Deed coos, draining your cock with lazy strokes of her hand. “Such a good drone for me. Oh fuck,” she purrs with a shuddering breath. “We’re going to have so much fun together.”

Sagging, barely able to stand, you continue to watch as Starburst is reduced to moaning bliss under the pumping cock of Screen Saver.

God, you can’t wait...

Bad End
