FENCE'S FROCK	ITEM 12
EXTRADIMENSIONAL INVESTED MAGICAL Price 1,980 gp Usage worn garment; Bulk 1 The exterior of this duster length leather coat is well worn with obvious signs of extended use. It fits comfortably and is surprisingly light for how robust the materials that make it up seem to be. A shroud is hung within the hood, making it a perfect garment for those that wish to keep their face hidden. Inside this coat are 12 leather pouches of varying sizes with the largest having a 1-foot-diameter opening at the top. Each of the pouches are linked to the same extradimensional space that can hold 100 bulk of items within, provided they can fit in one of the pouch's openings. Regardless of how much is stored in this space, the coat always weighs 1 bulk. While invested in this coat, you can stow and draw things from the pouches like any other storage. The interior of this cloak is clouded with an inky magical darkness, making it difficult for those that are unaware of its nature to find anything within. A creature that is not invested in the item must use one action with the manipulate trait to Interact (DC 29) with the interior of the coat when they attempt to find any hidden items. On a success, they are able to find a pouch and draw the most recent item that was stored within the extradimensional space. On a failure, they cannot find any of the pouches. Subsequent searches require a new Interact action to find more within the coat.	FENCE'S FROCK
