*Empty again? I guess
that's it for tonight.*

I guess I will need something else to blow off this steam...

What a cutie!

The crowd reacted... not knowing which one of them she addressed. Her effects around the city had brought many of the people in the building up to see what was going on... none of them expected this.

This one!

Ahhh!

Worst Friday ever!

Was she... picking someone up at a bar? The crowd struggled between confused and terror as the gargantuan woman seemingly discarded them shortly after taking them from the building... As some looked up she was trying to kiss the remaining man in her hand.
