

You opened your eyes, looking up at your partner, feeling... Hazy, foggy. What had just happened? You had been in trance, that much was obvious, but you couldn-

"Kneel, toy." They said, interrupting your thoughts. Your bare knees hit the floor, and you looked down.

Why were you naked? When had you gotten-

"Look me in the eyes honey. Come on. Up here." Again you obeyed, suddenly unable to tear yourself away from their gaze. They were smirking. "Confused? Don't be. Just... Obey." They placed their foot on your shoulder. "Kiss." They said.

You planted a kiss on their calf, unable to disobey. It felt so good, but you couldn't tell why. Each moment of obedience felt like liquid pleasure was running through your veins. They looked down at you, smirking. "Keep going, pet. All the way up the leg."

You took their foot in your hands, and began to plant kisses, moving up their leg. They let out a soft shiver of pleasure. "That's a good toy. All brainwashed and helpless. So very obedient." They laughed. "I loved that moment of confusion on your face."

As your lips reached their thigh, their breath hitched for a moment, before continuing. "Where you couldn't remember. But then... You don't need to remember, do you toy? No. You just need to obey." You had stopped kissing, midway up their thigh.

Their hand went to your hair. "Do you want what comes next, toy?" They asked. You didn't answer at first. Your eyes were fixed on what you wanted. Directly in front of you. Right between their legs. Their hand was holding you back, but you nodded. You wanted it.
