

A COLLABORATION

STONEMONGER'S WRAPS

Wondrous item, rare (requires attunement)

ARIPOCKILY x JHAMKUL FORGE

Imbued with runic magic of the giants, these wraps are a symbol of the ancient tryst between followers of the Way of the Earthen Fist and the reclusive conclave of stone giants. Novices are expected to meticulously care for them for they are meant to be worn across a lifetime of discipline.

While wearing these stony wraps, you have a +1 bonus to the attack and damage rolls of unarmed strikes made with your fists. These attacks are magical and deal double damage to objects and structures.

Stonebearer. While wearing these wraps, you can use a bonus action to fortify your forearms with stone, granting yourself 15 temporary hit points. While you have these temporary hit points, unarmed strikes made with your fists deal an extra 1d4 force damage. Additionally, when a target takes this extra damage, you can choose to lose 5 temporary hit points; if you do, you knock the target prone unless it succeeds on a DC 15 Strength saving throw. This property can be used twice; the wraps regains expended uses of them daily at dawn.

Made in collaboration with Aripockily
(@aripockily)

Subclass

Monk: Way of the Earthen Fist

 Created by Jhamkul's Forge | Art: Demon GEB
@jhamkul | by Septimius Ferdian H.
for Burger Games

SEE THE OTHER HALF OF THE COLLAB!