2. Wide shot - reveal ships/space station earth

NARRATOR

Hello there, following Earth's inclusion into the Galactic Grouping, mankind has been exposed to many different extraterrestrial diseases that humans have never encountered before. Some of them with rather weird symptoms. So in this video we will count down the top 5 weirdest Alien diseases.

NARRATOR

So first on the list, in at number five we have a disease that is caught by making out with the sexy squid people of ~~Squidopolis~~.

Show sexy squid person.

NARRATOR

Just look at them! Can't say I'd blame you... cooorr! So if you'd be kind enough to give us a little smile there? ~~it's wrong~~ - have you got something in your teeth?

* this guy knows what I mean

Will is stood covering his mouth.

- wide

He moves his hand to reveal the squid teeth.

- mid

NARRATOR

Beautiful! So disease number five is squid teeth. All of your teeth fall out and are replaced with lovely slimy suckers. And to top it all off you get a pretty bad case of fish breath.

Number 4

So midway @ 10 I we have now

NARRATOR

Next we have number 4, now this one is my personal favorite. If you've ever tried blue milk-

Some blue milk.

NARRATOR

There's a chance you might have caught this yourself-

Will takes a sip and spits it out.

- squid teeth

- sucking chin

- teeth hair

- screaming nipples

- copy spots

- squid people

legs

- blue milk

- drinking / spitting out

- boob chin

- squeeze - milk

- sneeze

- close ups

Cut to Will is teats on chin.

NARRATOR

Suckling chin! The infection causes the drinker to grow a beard of lactating teats on their chin.

Squeezes one and milk comes out.

NARRATOR

The teats will shrivel up and fall off on their own over time.

Shrivelled teat falls in sink.

NARRATOR

Just make sure you don't get a cold whilst you still have them!

Sneezes milk out of all the teats.

NARRATOR

Lovely.

Number 4

NARRATOR

~~So midway at number 3 we have, to give it its native Cangraxulen name, 'Herby garlic chicken'.~~

~~Show a cooked chicken on screen.~~

NARRATOR

~~Which ironically has nothing to do chicken and-~~

Cross through the chicken.

NARRATOR

~~Instead with this disease you grow teeth instead of hair follicles all over your body. It's just a coincidence that their language overlaps with ours in this instance. Hope you stocked up on toothpaste...~~

Brushing all teeth with toothbrush.

NARRATOR

Unfortunately the only way to remove them is to pull them out. One by one.

What wrong have you got something in your TEATS!? Oh I'll stop now.

Next @ number four we have,

blurple blang blang / definit air on screen

loosely translated stands for biting hair - and

- wide
- mid
- close ups
- pulling one out

What wrong have you got something in your teeth?

1
Teeth in sink

Teeth fall into sink.

Number 2.

Shipping Room
Dog Room

NARRATOR

In at number 2 we have... would you be so kind as to lift up your shirt.

- will stand wide
- lift up shirt

Lifts up shirt. Zoom into nipple.

- mid - shirt up

Nipple screams.

- close up on nipples

NARRATOR

Scr-

NARRATOR

(shours over scream)

SCREAMY NIPS.

Nipple stops halfway through.

NARRATOR

Ahem. Screamy nips. This annoying little infection you'll pick up from-

SCREEEEEEAAAAM.

NARRATOR

Jesus!

Number 1.

hit den

NARRATOR

And finally at number 1, the top spot, the weirdest Alien disease comes from the bite of the Mimic moth.

Show Mimic moth.

- with title

- wide shot

- hip shot

- spot bursting

- will reactions

- standing into frame

- eating will

- will reaction to

standing lava

- shadow on walls

NARRATOR

A bite from a Mimic moth with swell into a Copy spot.

Pulls down trousers to show spot on hip.

NARRATOR

If the spot is burst it will force out a lava that will quickly grow, loosely mimicking the host's DNA. See the resemblance? Over time it will grow to look identical to the host.

COPY LAVA

Human father?

- stands into shot next to will

- mid on lava

- mid on will

- bites will

NARRATOR

Oh no. Looks like another mouth to feed.

Chest of lava thing opens into maw and swallows top half of will. Arm is left hanging out of its mouth.

NARRATOR

Oh. Never mind.

Er... I think you've got something in your teeth...

It sucks up arm into mouth.
