Dwelling in the warm reefs of tropical coasts, the Maxolotls are a friendly culture that look at the world outside of their communities with a sense of wonder and curiosity. Those who welcome the Maxolotl or seek to become allies will often find themselves bestowed a gift from one of their craftsmen. This amulet is set with sparkling jade stones and adorned with a small, hand carved figure of an axolotl as seen from above. Holding it fills you with feelings of comfort as if floating in a warm pool.

While attuned to this amulet, you gain an additional hit die that can be utilized when you take a short rest. This bonus hit die can be used by yourself or given to another creature that is completing a short rest with you.

Once per day, while attuned to this amulet, you can speak a command word in the native tongue of the Maxolotl to grant yourself regenerative properties. For the next 1 minute, you regain 6 hit points at the start of your turn. If you take force or acid damage, this trait doesn't function at the start of your next turn. You die only if you start your turn with 0 hit points and don't regenerate. Once this feature is used, it cannot be used again until the dawn of the next day.
