

"They have a whole section for bottom parts adapted for tails!?" This is incredible!" said Shelly, excited as she walked through the store. "I had to cut a hole on a pair of jeans myself when I first mutated, and getting custom clothes was so expensive back home!"

"Well, there are enough mutants around here that it became profitable for stores to accommodate some of the most common mutations" said Antonella, walking right after her "And with a lot of unique body types around, custom fittings are more common place in the city"

"This is wonderful! Thanks for tagging along, by the way, I would be so lost in the big city without a local friend to guide me!"

"Anytime! So, anything that catches your eye?"

"Oh, definitely this top, and this one too, I like to show off my belly sometimes. Maybe I'll check the counter for custom fitting later, getting shoes for my paw-like feet has been a hassle in the past months..." she said, piling clothes over three of her four arms while she browsed with the last one.

Something seemed to catch her eye by the side and Shelly suddenly pressed the pile of clothes against her chest with all four arms as she tried to crouch and hide behind a clothes rack.

"Oh, are you okay? Did something happen??" Antonella hurried to her friend, concerned.

"Oh, I'm okay, I'm okay, it's just... you see that girl over the underwear section?"

Antonella raised her tail head and immediately saw what she meant. A tall six-armed woman with tanned skin, her lower body had a taur shape with three hind legs instead of the more common two, with multiple rows of breasts going down her upper torso and a few more on the lower one. And to compliment that, three heads between her shoulders. Such an extreme mutant, Antonella could see why that would surprise her newly mutated friend.

"Well, she IS a lot to take in, but that's just something you'll get used to around here" she whispered to Shelly.

"Oh, no, that's not the problem"

"Uh? What is it then?"

"It's that she's hot! I was not prepared for that and was caught by surprise and..." Shelly hesitated "I never properly described my mutation to you, did I?"

"Hm, not in particular I think... the arms, feet. Your tail, your odd colored eyes... and it's clear you have four boobs from your silhouette"

"Yeah, that's not all... you see... my nipples are also different. The top pair are shaped like mouths, and the bottom one... well... I kinda have a hard on with them right now..." she said, hugging the pile of clothes tighter and blushing "...and I don't have a proper bra for extra breasts, so I'm a little exposed..."

"Oh wow!" exclaimed Antonella, trying to contain her voice "Well, keep using this pile of clothing as a shield and hop in the fitting room! I'll try to find you a compression bra, it should work for you!"

With the situation diffused, the two friends left the store, Shelly carrying bags with a bunch of new clothing.

"Phew, sorry about that situation back there! I swear I have been getting aroused so much easier after mutating..."

"The increased libido is very common, don't worry" Antonella assured her, but then moved her tailhead a little closer and continued "But say, what about that girl got you so turned on?"

"Well... the six arms looked amazing and they fit well with her multiple rows of breasts... and I can only imagine the advantages of multiple heads..." Shelly responded, half-averting her gaze from Antonella.

"Hehe, that's check, check and check. You hit bingo it seems!" Antonella joked as Shelly blushed even harder, lifting the shopping bags to press them against her lower breasts. "Why don't we get your bags to your new apartment and I can show you some advantages of multiple heads?"

Shelly turned to look at Antonella with her eyes wide open and blushing harder than ever. Her mind went wild, imagining the whole situation. She was sitting on the sofa of her apartment, with Antonella at her side. Her own clothes were a mess, her pants were on the ground, her top barely containing her hard lower nipples as one of her breasts mouths were gasping for air at the feeling of Antonella's tailhead on her groin, most precisely coiling her long tongue around Shelly's hard and long dick. A moan was escaping from her mouth as Antonella gestures at her to make silence "Shhh... this part of the movie is really good" she said as she winks at her.

"I... uh..." Shelly was frozen for a second.

"Mm? are you okay?" said Antonella, waking her up from her dream.

"Oh, yes... I was just wondering what you mean with advantages"

"Ah, you know... I can show you how I can multi-task. Read two books at once, talk to you as I talk on my phone, you know... all the advantages of having two brains"

"Ooohh... sure sure, that would be interesting" said Shelly trying to hide her hard nipples.

Antonella walked faster and playfully in front of her as she turns to face her, holding her six hands behind her and leaning forward, with both heads side to side and smiling "Or... could it be that you were imagining other things?"

Shelly slowly looked away, embarrassed. Antonella giggled and turned again, just leaving her tail facing Shelly “Well... whatever you imagined, you are new in being a mutant so... believe me, I’m probably way more skilled than you imagine” she said, noticing how Shelly froze in place “Oh, oh no I lost her again...”
